City Bulletin.

Sir-cus day! Hoop la! Fish are right plentiful in market, and are very fine.

Just as good nights for sleeping purposes as are ever sent. The steam man, the clown, the elephant and the striped male!

And the skaters, also, the vast majority of them have "gone to join the invisible host."

This is the season of the year to set out bulbous roots, and ladies will "make a note on it."

The sale of the Lobergan property, next to the Central Hotel, will take place at the Court House door to-day at 12 o'clock.

To B N Smith we are indebted for a dozen of very fine large apples. He has a good many more of the same kind.

Grape hulls have almost disappeared from the pavements. "Believing we rejoice, To see the curse removed."

There is going to be a merry ringing of bells in Charlotte next week—if all reports be true, Atlanta will furnish the Bell.—Atlanta Herald

The 60 pound California squash, of which we spoke yesterday, ornaments one of the large show windows of Mr J T Butler's beautiful jewelry store.

The horse fly is neither so numerous nor so sportive, but when he does settle squarely down on your nose, he sticketh closer than a brother.

The meeting at Tryon Street M E Church continues, and the interest in the increase. The pastor, with what assistance he can get, is laboring with great faithfulness.

They look so happy and comfortable as they sit around the tables in the beer saloons these evenings and play pitch to decide who shall set up leger.

The ladies of the Baptist Sewing Society, will give an oyster supper and festival on Tuesday evening. We charge the public to bear this in mind and give them a liberal patronage.

As the dramatic season is about to open, we advise you in advance not to go out between acts. Take a "tickle" with you, or else "hoist in" enough before the play is begun, to last you until it is finished.

This will be one of the days when the average man wishes he was a little negro, so he could take the middle of the street and follow the show around, walking close behind the elephant.

The sanitary condition of the city challenged comparison with the most favored localities of the country, and generally the people of Charlotte have reason to be proud of their thirty city, and grateful for the innumerable blessings vouchsafed them.

Tolerably Steep. It is said that the hill this side of Spencer's Ford is so worn down in the middle that the driver of a buggy cannot see his horse without danger of falling over the splinter board.

Engines at the Fair. The Erie City Iron Works, through its Charlotte branch, under the charge of Mr W C Morgan, has on exhibition at the Fair Grounds, this week, four handsome engines of different kinds as well as other machinery.

Very Probably True. We all know him well up here, and think this story highly probable, as he will insure anything from a store up. The Atlanta Herald, in its incidents of Howes' circus exhibition in Atlanta, says: "Clarence Knowles is following along, trying to get Barnum to insure his circus tent. Business is business, you know."

Postal Cards. The new postal cards are coming through the mails, and are a great improvement on the first attempt. They have no border, and the card board is stiff and elastic.

Old Fellows' Excursion. A number of the officers and members of Mecklenburg Declaration Lodge No. 9, I. O. O. F. of this city, left yesterday morning for Monroe.

The Business of the Air-Line. The Gainesville (Ga.) Standard, says: "Night on the Air-Line is daily increasing. A new freight schedule was put on a few days since, and all the rolling stock, including the four new engines, is engaged in moving it. The management is giving entire satisfaction to the people, and restoring confidence in this great and popular thoroughfare."

An Old Violin. M. A. Handberg, a quite agent on the Air-Line Railroad, has left at the office of Col D G Maxwell, an old violin, which belongs to an old gentleman in South Carolina, and which is for sale.

A Bad Practice. This is from an exchange: It has been ascertained that the habit of looking out of railroad cars while the windows are open is exceedingly injurious to the eyes, as the sharp draft of the air, caused by the rapid motion of trains, produces inflammation and affects the optic nerves even fatally.

Feast of Tabernacles. To-day, the 14th, is the Hebrew Feast of Succos, or Feast of Tabernacles. It follows four days after the Day of Atonement.

The Courts. Mayor's Court.—Hugh Showell, was before His Honor, yesterday morning, in two cases, for affray, and was fined $2 and cost in each.

An Animated Scene. The streets were enlivened last evening with ladies and children. The latter seemed particularly delighted by the bracing weather, and the vigorous glow of health that set upon their cheeks gave evidence of a salubrious season.

Heavy Frost. The ground was covered, early yesterday morning, with a heavy frost, much the heaviest of the season.

Soliciting Agents. "Where the carcass is there do the eagles gather," it hath been said; and this is suggested by the fact that the town was full of railroad soliciting agents yesterday.

Cotton Burned. On yesterday 150 bales of cotton were burned on the Air-Line Railroad, between Charlotte and Greenville.

A Match Game of Billiards. French carrom, 100 points, was played between Dr C F Brem, and Messrs D J Butts and C E Moss, at the Turf Exchange, last evening.

Personal. We had a pleasant call last evening, from Mr Alexander Holmes, (who is traveling in the interest of the New York Daily Bulletin, a paper than which none stands higher in the esteem of commercial men, and which has a large circulation in all the principal cities of the United States.
