THE CITY.

CITY BULLETIN

The Southern and Atlantic Telegraph office is regularly established and at business in its new quarters.

We hope that the theatre going parents of this community will read the article on second page this morning, entitled "A Baby at the Theatre."

A negro too drunk to speak or to move a muscle, was picked up yesterday by the police in front of Brookfield's auction house, and conveyed on a dray to the lock-up.

We learned that the cadets of the Carolina Military Institute will probably make a parade in the city this afternoon, during their first public appearance for this term.

The attention of the members of the Home Fire Company is directed to the advertisement which calls upon them to meet at their hall at 8 o'clock this evening in full uniform.

We published the other day, that a young man named Charley Campbell was guilty of a theft from Walter Brem's store. It was a brother of this young man, and we make the correction cheerfully.

The Concord Sun says that His Honor Judge Schenck has removed the civil suit against James Turner, late Exr. of R. R. Tate from Cabarrus to Rowan. Considerable interest is felt in this suit as we learn there is a large amount of money at stake.

The Young Cadet Who recently died, was Joseph Knobloch. He was, as we stated, a very delicate youth, and his family hoped that the climate of Charlotte would strengthen his constitution. The immediate cause of death was congestion of the lungs. His brother was conveying him home.

Matrimonial. On yesterday morning at the Charlotte Hotel, Mr. B. R. Gray, of the firm of Mayes, Gray & Ross, was married to Miss Senora, daughter of J. Hollis, Esq., Rev. P. J. Carraway officiating. We wish them many and prosperous days, and all the joys that can accompany the marriage state.

Reply to the Indignation Meeting. We publish this morning a poem in reply to the proceedings of a recent indignation meeting, mention of which has been made. It is not an epic poem; it is rather pastoral, in that it intimates that the indignant young men are a lot of mutton-heads. The reply has not been laid before the meeting, but the Secretary accepts the responsibility of saying that it quite gets away with the association; but we stick to the original proposition—two pounds is two much. The Secretary begs leave to say further, that the suggestion in the last verse regarding the cleansing of No. 52, is being acted upon, and meanwhile said Secretary is sleeping on the door-mat.

Opera House Last Evening. The Lady of Lyons was played at the Opera House last night by the Rose and Harry Watkins Troupe. This celebrated drama was well acted and highly appreciated by every one present. The role of Claude Melnotte by Harry Watkins was strikingly impressive, and the act of Rose Watkins in the character of Pauline Deschappelles, at times, was truly touching and pathetic. Col. Damas, by W. Donaldson, was splendidly as well as humorously sustained. We can candidly say that Rose & Harry Watkins are far better supported, than on any prior occasion of their appearance in this city. It will not be an exaggeration to add, that on last night was displayed one of the profoundest as well as one of the best acted dramas that we have witnessed in Charlotte. To-night will be exhibited the operatic drama entitled, "The Daughter of the Regiment," to conclude with the laughable farce, "It Takes Two to Quarrel." Judging from the fine acting of last night, we feel sure that they will have a good audience to-night.

The Air Line Railroad Divided. It seems after all, that the breach between Buford and Fisher, the two Receivers of the two divisions of the Air Line Railroad, has grown so great as to necessitate a division of the road at Tugalo River, which is the Georgia and South Carolina line. The Georgia engines on this end of the road run only to Central, 135 miles from here, where the trains are met by transfer engines, which carry them on to Tugalo, where Fisher's engines take them and carry them on to Atlanta. Transfer engines have been built on both sides of the river. The road is being run as two entirely separate divisions. Just for instance, as the Air Line and Richmond and Danville Roads are being conducted. Buford keeps his accounts at Charlotte on this end, and Fisher his at Atlanta on the other. Conductors run all the length of the road, however, and Col Peck remains Master of Transportation of the whole line.

Race Notes. Quite a number of persons arrived in the city last night, and many others will doubt be in this morning. Pools will be sold at Cochran's Exchange this morning at 9 o'clock, on the match game of base ball between the Lone Nine and the Mecklenburg Nine. Mr. Lindsay Adams is presiding over the eating department of Mr. Cochran's arrangement on the Park, and is furnishing excellent oysters, square meals and good coffee which heats fire-water to death for keeping out cold. Pools were sold in New York yesterday, on the races on Carolina Park here. A fistfight occurred yesterday, in one of the rooms in the grand stand building between two sporting men, one of whom accused the other of stealing $500 from him. Little damage was done to either of the combatants. Wheels of fortune and all other devices of the kind to raise the wind, are in operation in the grand stand building. Go in lemons and be squeezed. In the pool selling last night, Springfield was the favorite in the first race, mile dash; Egypt and Jack Harkaway about divided favors for the second race, mile heats; Mary Long was the favorite in the third race, two mile heats.

THE COURTS.

Were utterly barren of interest on yesterday. There were no cases before the Mayor, and no criminal actions before either Justice Davidson or McIninch. Justice Hilton had a couple of little criminal suits, but both of these were compromised. We do not recall the day when the courts were all so destitute of news.

Carolina Central Railway. The New York World of the 12th inst., says: "In the suit of Horatio G Onderdonk against the Carolina Central Railway Company, an attachment against all the property of the company to be found in this State was granted Wednesday by Judge Barnard, of the New York Supreme Court, the company having defaulted in paying the interest on $143,000 of its bonds held by the plaintiff."

Leaves for St. Louis. His Honor Mayor Johnston has received an invitation to attend the Southern Pacific Railroad Convention which meets at St. Louis on the 23rd inst., as a special delegate. He has been invited by Gen Anderson and Hon. Beverly Tucker, of Virginia, to join them at Richmond to-night and make the journey with them, and accordingly leaves this morning on the North Carolina train, for Richmond. These gentlemen will go by way of Washington, Chicago, &c. During the absence of His Honor, Alderman Dowd will perform the functions of Mayor.

Maladies of the Season. When the debilitating fall season commences, and nature is sapped of its wonted strength to supply the non-re-suscitating body; when the damp miasmatic vapors are rising from the swamps, and the spirit is plunged in the Slough of Despond; when acute agitates your sinking frame by day, and feverish diseases scarify you by night; when your failing strength and non-jubilant feelings remind you of your enervated state, and that the seeds of decay are planted in your vitals, good corn or rye liquor is far preferable to any of the bitters advertised on the trees and fences.

Col Wm Johnston is the Sunny South. We mentioned, some days ago, that the Sunny South of Atlanta, Ga., had published an illustration of Col Wm Johnston, of this city, together with a sketch of his life. Since that time a friend has handed us a copy of the paper. The representation is tolerably good, and the sketch carefully written. It recounts his public services, as a lawyer, a politician and a railroad manager, and does him no more than simple justice. It is entirely true, and it is the credit of the writer to say that it is not false. His great financial ability in his railroad operations, the sketch very truthfully says that "few men in any country have accomplished more than he has, with the limited means and under the adverse circumstances."

Carolina Military Institute. A day or so ago we took occasion to refer in flattering terms to the Charlotte Institute for Young Ladies, because we believed the management of that institution was worthy of all we said about it. We are gratified to be able to state, that the Carolina Military Institute "at the other end of the avenue," is also in full and vigorous operation and under the efficient management of Col J. P. Thomas, promises results equally as important and gratifying. It has a full corps of officers and Professors, and the cadets, while continuing to show the discipline under which they learn to govern themselves, seem to be steadily and busily at work, in preparing themselves for the great duties of life. The curriculum is all that could be desired and the institution is an honor to Charlotte.

A Charlotte Correspondent of a Wilmington Paper. The Wilmington Evening Review has a correspondent in this city, who occasionally furnishes it with unusually bright and gossipy letters. Who this correspondent is, we have no idea but he writes in a very attractive style, and we are quite anxious to settle upon his identity. His last letter appears in the Review of the 14th. In it he touches upon the dramatic attractions of Charlotte this season—those past and those which are to come; the little elopement romance which has been mentioned in these columns, giving a right lengthy account of it; the financial and commercial interests of the city, &c., &c. The following is what the correspondent says under the last named head: "Charlotte, within the last few weeks, has exhibited marked tendencies to a quick resumption in the way of a prosperous business. The dry goods trade seems to be waking up considerably, and with the amount of cotton that is daily being received, our business men augur a better condition of affairs next Spring."

A Serious Street Difficulty. Yesterday evening Mr. Wm. Stockton was standing in J. M. Kendrick's bar room on Tryon street, when a man named Thos. Muck entered, and engaged him in conversation. He asked Mr. Stockton's name, which was given him, when he said that he believed him to be a d-d faker. Stockton pronounced the statement a lie, and the two going out at once, he knocked his insulator down in the street. Later in the evening, about dusk, Muck, who was intoxicated and very angry, was walking around the street with a rock in his hand, bunting his enemy, when the two met about Walter Brem & Martin's store, and another difficulty ensued. As a result of hot words on both sides, Stockton finally struck his adversary a heavy blow over the head with a stick, and as he attempted to rise, repeated the blow several times. When he desisted, Muck covered with blood, and a sickening looking object, was taken first to Burwell's drug-store, thence to the boarding house of Capt. B. C. Henry, on Tryon street near the corner of Fifth, where he is staying, and was there waited upon by Dr. S. B. Higgins, who found three gashes in his head, two of them very deep and ugly. Dr. H. says he is not absolutely certain whether or no the skull is fractured, but will be able to tell this morning. The physician thinks that if proper care is taken of the injured man, he may do very well, but if he is neglected, the result may be serious to him. Stockton was bound over to appear before the Mayor this morning.

CAROLINA PARK.

The Races Yesterday—The Game of Base Ball—This Crowd But Good Running—The Programme for To-Day.

The weather on yesterday was as bright as could be, although uncomfortably cool, and that a small crowd was present to witness the opening of the Fall Meeting on Carolina Park, can by no means be charged to the day. It was thought that comparatively few would attend on the first day, but the officers of the Association reasonably expected a larger crowd than was present since the quality of the stock on the grounds was well known, and quite an attractive programme had been put out. In addition to this, a match game of base ball had been announced, and it was supposed that many who really cared but little for the races, would gather for the purpose of seeing this, and having spoken of this matter, we are reminded that the game of BASE BALL. The first thing to be noticed in this report. It began about 11 o'clock, between the Monroe Club and the Nameless Nine of this city. The day was entirely too cold for such sport as this, and both sides showed a natural dread of the ball. The game was very indifferently played, and after a long contest which possessed no interest to either players or outsiders, resulted in the victory of the Monroe Club. The Nameless Nine is composed of very young boys, few of them, we suppose, being over 15 years of age, while all of their competitors are grown men. The boys saw from the start that they were no matches for their muscular opponents, and, losing spirit, the game went by default. The members of the victorious club, are splendid batters, and this gave them the advantage; as fielders they are inferior to the boys. The Umpire was P. F. Eagle; Scorers, Willis Wilkinson and Alex Sinclair. As the victors, the Monroe Club took possession of the handsome silver cup which had been given to the Association by Mr J. T. Butler, and which was offered on the game. Even before the game was finished, the call was sounded for the races, but these did not begin until an hour after the time advertised.

THE FIRST RACE. Was for the trial purse of $150, $50 to second horse, a dash of 2 of a mile, for all ages, with 100 pounds on each. Entries: R. H. Barnes' b. g. Jack Harkaway; John Rutledge's g. Ned Buntline; J. H. Barry's b. g. Etwah; Burch & Walker's b. h. Joe Nannie; W. R. Babcock's ch. h. Egypt; Barton & Medinger's ch. g. First Chance; L. A. Hitchcock's b. f. Mollie Darling; J. W. Crawford's ch. b. Vandal, Jr.; M. Jordan & Co's b. g. Thos O'Neil (drawn). The horses were very restive, and two false starts were made. Finally, when the flag dropped, the horses shot out, almost even. After varying chances, Egypt worked into the lead before reaching the last quarter, though had pressed by First Chance and Mollie Darling, and at the end came under the pole with a gap of a length between him and First Chance, Mollie Darling coming in third. Time 1:20.

SECOND RACE. Abd-el Koree stake, for two year olds, $100. $25 entrance, P. P. Half mile heats, two best in three; second horse $50 out of the stake. Three to fill. Entries: Barton & Medinger's ch. f. Libby L.; Bennett Barnes' b. f. Abd-alla; L. A. Hitchcock's g. g. Johnnie B. Libby L. straightened herself out at the signal and jumped in the lead, which she maintained to the end of the heat, Johnnie B. keeping about a length behind. She came in about the same distance ahead which had been maintained from the beginning, Johnnie second and Abd-alla far behind. Time 56s. In the second heat, Libby L. again ran out ahead, Johnnie B. second; time 53s. Abd-alla boited on the first quarter, and all hope for her was lost, if indeed any had ever been entertained.

THIRD RACE. This was a one and one half mile dash, weight for age; $150 to first horse, $50 to second. Entries: M. Jordan & Co's b. c. Jack Tregg; Burch & Walker's Abd-el Koree; W. R. Babcock's blk. h. Vanderbilt; Barton & Medinger's br. c. Charlie Chestnut; L. A. Hitchcock's ch. f. Busy Bee; G. H. Kerraghan's Miss Muggins (drawn). To the citizens present, this was by far the most exciting race of the day, on account of the past which Abd-el Koree took in it. Vanderbilt was the favorite in the pool selling, but the sympathies of the crowd were evidently with Abd-el Koree, and this was increased by the cheers which went up, when, immediately after the start, he pulled out from the others and took the lead. He held this right manfully through the first mile, though Vanderbilt had by this time diminished the distance between them and was pressing him closely. Still it was hoped that he would hold his own, but on the next quarter it became evident that he was letting up. Before this quarter was finished, Vanderbilt had quite closed the gap. Getting upon even terms, he improved the advantage, and shooting ahead soon lapped Abd-el on the outside. By this time Jack Tregg had been called upon with the whip to that extent that he had worked along side of Abd-el, and, doing this well, found little trouble in doing better. When the horse stretch was reached, he was comfortably ahead of Abd-el, and came in close upon Vanderbilt, who won the race by a length; time, 2:45s.

The Judges of the races were: Col T. G. Bacon, Col A. B. Springs, J. D. Meade, Esq., Timiney-Messrs Jas. H. Orr and Joe Cotton. Starter—Mr. Wm. D. Randall.

The last race was concluded about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and entries were at once received for the races to-day.

The Programme for To-Day. The gates will be open this morning at 9 o'clock. At 11 o'clock the match game of base ball, between the Lone Nine of Concord and the Mecklenburg Nine, will be commenced on the grounds. Much interest is felt in this game, and it is expected to be very close and exciting. Pools sold about evenly on the two clubs, at Cochran's Exchange last night. The Lone Nine will arrive this morning on the 8 o'clock train.

The races will begin at 1 o'clock P. M., and will be as follows:

FIRST RACE. COTTON BROKERS' PURSE—$125; $25 to second horse, mile dash. J. & S. Farris' blk m. Grey Stocking, aged—by Doctor Lindsay, dam by Monte. M. Jordan & Co's b. g. Thos O'Neil, 4 y, by Lightning, dam Zingara. J. A. Hitchcock's ch. f. Springfield, 3 y, by Imp. Australian, dam Springbrook, Barten & Medinger, br. c. Charlie Chestnut, 4 yrs old, by Lynchburg, dam by Lightning. J. W. Crawford, ch. h. Vandal, Jr., 4 yrs old, by Vandal, dam Dew Drop.

SECOND RACE. CENTRAL HOTEL STAKE—Mile heats for all ages $25 entr. P. P. $200 added by Central Hotel. L. A. Hitchcock's ch. h. Century, 4y, by Centor, dam Intrigue, 105 lbs. Barton & Medinger's b. c. Ascot, 3y, by Enquirer, dam Hinda, 95 lbs. Burch & Walker's ch. h. Abd-el Koree, aged—by Imp. Australian, dam Rescue. W. R. Babcock's ch. h. Egypt, 4 yrs, by Planet, dam Lady Berry, 108 lbs. R. H. Barnes' b. g. Jack Harkaway, 4 yrs old, by Knighthood, dam Penelope. G. A. Kerraghan's ch. f. Miss Muggins, 4y, by Muggins, dam by Billy Chestnut, 105 lbs.

THIRD RACE. C. C. & A. R. R. STAKE—Two mile heats all ages, $40 entr. half forfeit. $40 added by C. C. & A. R. R. L. A. Hitchcock, ch. f. Busy Bee, 4y old, by War Dance, dam Louisa Spillman, 105 lb. Barton & Medinger's b. g. Vim, 6y by Kentucky, dam Verbera, 415 lbs. W. R. Babcock's blk h. Vanderbilt, 4 yr old, by Vandal, dam Melrose, 108 lbs. W. Wyone's br m. Mary Long 5y by Imp. Warmister, dam by Tar River, 111 lbs.

There is no doubt that we shall witness some splendid racing to-day, and it is expected that some of the names given in the programme above, together with the base ball contest, will draw quite a crowd.

A Mule Kills Itself Against a Tree. Yesterday evening just before dark, a horse and a mule attached to a wagon, were hitched near Creswell's store, while the colored driver was inside buying some goods. When he came out and took hold of the lines, the horse began kicking, and, succeeding in freeing himself from the control of his driver, dashed off down Church street, dragging the mule and wagon with him. At the corner of Fourth street he made a turn in the direction of the pavement. A tree stands on the corner, and the mule seeing that the course indicated led him against it, pulled back, for the horse being the stronger and having the advantage of start, dashed him up against it, the poor mule's head striking the tree with terrific force. The animal's neck was broken and its skull crushed, and almost by the time it stopped, was as dead as a herring, while the bark was peeled from the tree by the force with which the mule's head struck it. The horse, which had done all the damage was comparatively unharmed. The horse, mule and wagon were the property of R. R. Rees, who lives in the country, and who, we understand, had but recently paid $150 for the mule.

Personal. We noticed Mr W. C. Wolfe, of the Monroe Enquirer, in the city on yesterday. Our excellent friend, A. H. Boyden, Esq., of Salisbury, arrived at the Central Hotel last evening. He has just been re-elected President of the Salisbury Fair Association. It will be many a day before we Charlotte people forget the kindness with which Mr Boyden treated us all when we were at his Fair a few weeks ago.

[COMMUNICATED] Reply by "Nuisance" to the Indignation Meeting. Oh! sirs! how can you trifles so. And cut up such queer capers. And say, "Nuisance," "be it recalled." And print it in the papers?

Is it so strange as to excite Your righteous indignation That little sisters love bon-bons And help on a flirtation?

And is it strange, when one thinks one Quint-essence of perfection, He'll give not two but twenty pounds Of Andrews' best confections?

Just to be left alone awhile, Disturbed not by the sisters, Voted by youthful Solomon's, Nuisances, bores, and blisters.

Ah! it is once for all a shame, To speak of schedule prices— To try to bring within the ring Of mercantile advices.

These little deeds of kindness, and These absences so handy, That never can be measured by, So many sticks of candy.

Economy's a pretty thing, I'm glad to hear you mention Prudential motives and so forth, Even in a packed convention,

And hope that you will guided be Each in affairs your own, sirs, By prudence and discretion, but Let other folks' alone, sirs.

Ne'er speak again of sewing bags Or women's tongues for sinning After this date room 52 Beats all known lands and unknown too For yarn successful spinning.

Given a thread as thin as air, The least attention, They'll weave a cable will surprise The whole of the creation.

Given a little box of sweets, With wondrous indignation Upon the Sabbath day they'll meet And pour out in the daily sheet Upon all little sisters sweet Polite vituperation.

Room 52 ought to be cleaned As from disease contagious, For carrying on within its walls Proceedings so outrageous.
