R E McDONALD, P. M

A Merry Christmas to you! The street opera drew an unusually large rowd yesterday. The post office will be open to-day from 7.30 to 9 a. m. : not after that time.

The streets and stores were jammed and crowded yesterday, and holiday goods went off rapidly.

Except the banks, depots and post office, very few if any business houses will be closed to-day.

To-day the poor children of the city will have a dinner given them at the Second Methodist Church.

You talk about "piling on the Christmas logs," "the crackling of the Christmas fire." and all that sort of thing; but nothing of /a sprinkling of the "older set," and that kind for us at this anniversary, if you | quite a number of young ladies and please. On the contrary would thank you gentlemen were in their masks, which to pass that linen duster and ice water.

be issued again until Thursday of next week. The suspension is in accordance with a time-honored custom, and no one will raise objection to it. Refreshed by the cessation of our labors, we hope to be better than ever after the holidays and to begin the new year with the full determination of making the OBSERVER more than ever worthy of its present popularity. Meantime, we are tend to every reader, the compliments of the season, and wish for one and all, a very Merry Christmas

We again remind our city subscribers that the OBSERVER carrier boys will wait upon them to-day with Christmas addresses. The boys have well earned all that will be given them, and any contributions by their patrons to-day, will stimulate them to renewed fidelity and promptitude in the future. A Nice Pair. Yesterday morning about 2 o'clock, as we went home from work, a highly attractive sight met our gaze on the Central Hotel with their arms wound around each other, the mud was as pleasant to them as the most downy pillow, and they laid and slumbered as only men who have been fighting John can slumber.

An Ansenian Back in Anson;

The Wadesboro Argus says of one of our citizens who is now back on his "native heath": "Capt Jas M Wright has been making times lively for Brem, Brown & Co., for the last week or two in our county. The Capt paid our sanctum a visit last Monday. He is a cleyer sociable fellow, and when you your business in better bands. He will take you how to take care of yourself."

The Methodist Christmas Tree.

The Tree gotten up for the children North Carolina Railroad, arrived in the city of the Tryon Street M. E. Church, by the ladies of the church, was very beautiful. Much care had been taken with it, and the presents were tasty and suitable. The children seemed to enjoy the distribution very much, and the older heads enjoyed it in witnessing their pleasure.

Praise Service and Christmas Tree.

The members of the Sunday School of the Second Presbyterian Church, had their Praise Service and Christmas Tree last evening. Quite a crowd was present. The music had been carefully practiced, and was well rendered. There were many articles on the Christmas Tree, some of them very pretty There was a great deal of noise on the and nearly all of greater or less value. The streets, in the early part of last night, but Tree made a very handsome appearance, and by midnight it had nearly all quieted down. | the articles were afterwards given out to the factory to all.

There was a considerable crowd at the bal masque given last evening by the Juvenile Hop Club at the residence of Col W R Myers. There was were removed about 12 o'clock. The evening passed off most pleasantly to all engaged, and it was right late when the revelers retired.

About Charlotte. A traveling correspondent of the Lancaster (S C) Ledger, writing of Charlotte speaks in a very complimentary manner of the business of the city and the manner in which it is improving, and indulges in some very ill-natured and unjust remarks concerning our cotton brokers. We do not know who the agrarian is, but are very much surprised that Mr Carter should admit to his columns such severe and uncalled for strictures upon a class of gentlemen who bestow such a handsome patronage upon him.

Runaway Match.

A gentleman who is just back home from Spartanburg, S C, tells us of the marriage of Mr Brown and a Miss Black, in that place Sunday last. They are both from Pacolet, Spartanburg county and had run away from the lady's home and gone to Fair Forest to be marrried, the bride expectant riding a mule. The minister there refused however, to marry the m, and they rode all the way to Spartanhurg, a distance of 15 miles, preceded by a runner who made all the necessary arrangements to have them married the moment they got there, tefore the old folks would have time to return from church, learn of the escapement and give chase. Their plans were successful, and they were duly married by Rev J L Vass. It is such determination as this which, like faith, "has power to remove mountains."

Some weeks ago an article appeared in our efforts toward tearing up the floor, which is editorial column relative to the banding together of negroes in the Southern part of Iredell county, in a conspiracy against the tion which he took, it is presumed that he whites, under the leadership of one Charles Connor, colored. We learn by a private letter from Statesville, received on yesterday that steps have been taken to break up this clan, and as an initiatory movement, this all the churches of the city except the Charles Connor was arrested a day or two ago on a warrant for conspiracy, and taken before Justices S H Johnston and J M Shook, of Davidson Township. Several witnesses the road being a convenience to the farmer, in Iredell county.

Make Ice While It I'reezes.

It is now about time that the ice house Any day may bring it freezing weather. As we have many times said before, an icehouse may be a simple affair. Get the four walls up of slabs, logs or boards, with a good lining of sawdust, and a roof to shed, rain. covering the top layer of ice with sawdust, the same as protect the sides. Other material, such as stanbark, chopped straw or chaff, will de buite well. About ten or twelve inches of sawdust will answer the Court in this city on Saturday, the latday of the next year. He will call the Mecklen-burg calendar on Saturday and Monday, if Drainage is necessary. Have the fleor loosepurpose. It is not necessary to have double necessary, and will then try the celebrated ly laid upon sleepers so as to raise it a few now conveyed in wagons that would be in well and have ventilation or a free circustockholders and others interested in the lation of air over the top of the mass.—Ex. matter.

Signs of the Season.

The eager rush for "gifts" and holiday the following paragraph, which is from the goods of all kinds is just now making the Raleigh News: "We are pained to learn retail trades in those articles very busy and that the health of this gentleman, so well cheerful for the dealers. Notwithstanding cheerful for the dealers. Notwithstanding the general plea of "hard times" that is quot-Caroling, is worse than it has been for some | el by almost every one, there is, say the dealers in Christmas goods, no very serious the care of the celebrated Dr Smith, and it is diminution in their sales from those of sevto be hoped he may to far recover as to be eral years preceding, and consequently they are under no great apprehension of having an "overstock" on hand. The jewelry dealers, it is true, report their sales as only moderate, and this may be accounted for by the costliness of the wares they vend, which are only within the purchase of the wealthy, corner. Two old pards had stretched their But in toys and everything of the kind lengths on the pavement and lying there which are moderate in price and exactly suitable for the little ones to play with, and in course of time destroy, in order to "see the inside of it," there is an activity that leaves the most despondent merchant little to complain of.

Christmas Day.

More than eighteen hundred years ago, there was born in Bethlehem of Judea, a child whose name was Jesus; more than eighteen hundred years ago, the angel of the Lord appeared to the shepherds on the plain, and said: "Unto you is born this day in the go to ( harlotte you cannot place yourself or | city of David, a Sayiour, which is Christ the Lord." To-day we celebrate the anniversary pleasure in showing you around and telling of that event; an event big with all the nations of the earth. It is to be hoped that the celebration will be somewhat in accordance with the character of the day. That it should be observed with joyousness is very proper; for what more joyous event ever befell the world than the birth of which this day is the anniver ary? But the mirth should be decorous, and not boisterous. We trust that in this respect our city will show some improvement over previous Christmases; that the observance of the day may be free from drunkenness and brawling, and that the occasion of the festival will never be lost sight

Railroad Accidents.

The mail train on the Air-Line Railroad which left here on Friday night, had an accident 4 miles beyond Gaffney's. While crossing the trestle at Thicketty Creek, the agineer discovered that an axle of the tender was broken. He pulled the engine open and jumped across as quickly as possible, and just as the train reached the abutment of the bridge on the other side, two cars left the rails and rolled over. No one was hurt, but the cars were considerably damaged. On Friday one car of a freight train on the Charlotte, Columbia & Augusta Railroad, was thrown from the track between this city and Fort Mill. There were 20 eases of matches in the car, and these ignited and caught a keg of powder, which exploded, burning the car and its load.

The mail train on the same road was about four hours behind time, yesterday morning, caused by the engine being too light for the train which it was pulling.

Meeting of Trustees.

The Board of Trustees for the Charlotte Township, met in this city on yesterday, according to notice given them, The Trustees from the Berryhill Township met them. It was moved by Esquire Hilton that a chairman be elected for all the surrounding townships, which motion was carried. The meeting elected Esquire Price as the general presiding officer for the townships. It was moved that said chairman appoint a committee to be composed of persons from the different townships interested in this fence, whose duty it shall be to establish and locate the boundary line and report the cost of building the fence, &c. Whereupon the chairman appointed, S H Hilton, S B Alexander and BF Morrow, for the Charlotte Township. . Berryhill Township : J N Rhyne, M A Wilson, T T Sandifer.

The Trustees adjourned to meet on Friday, 31st December, 1875. All the other town ships interested in the fence, are requested to meet with them on next Friday. The meeting is to be held in the Court House in Charlotte.

[COMMUNICATED.] County Taxation-Atlantic, Tennessee & Ohio Railroad, &c.

HUNTERSYILLE, N. C. Dec 23, 1875. MESSES EDITORS: I was glad to see in the last number of your valuable paper, that you were opposed to the erection of a new Court House. I believe that the citizens of old Mecklenburg will submit to as much as any people on the globe, and not grumble; but I think the tax now imposed upon them is about as much as they can stand. They are at this time like the little boy who hurt himself: too bad hurt to laugh, and too much man to cry. But there is one tax imposed upon them that they do grumble at, and righteously, too: I allude to the little railroad with the big name. A few years ago the people of this and Iredell counties were told that if they would suffer themselves to be taxed to build the road, that in a few years the road would pay for itself and then they would repay the money. This they have failed to do; but Let us enumerate the cost of selling one bale of cotton : From Huntersville, they self, and if there is any business to attend and one day at 50 cents per meal and 50 cents for a bed; making the snug little sum of $5.40 for transporting a single bale of cotton to the Future London, distant 13 miles Now, Messrs Editors, to say the least of it, I think it a grand imposition on the farmers. Nor is it an advantage to the officers, for am convinced that if they would reduce the rates one half and so arrange the schedule that a farmer could transact his business and return home the same day, they would

Blackwood's Magazine. The reprint of Blackwood's Magazine for December has just been issued by the Leonard Scott Publishing Co., 41 Barclay Street

New York. The climax of 'The Dilemma' has not yet arrived, but, although this serial has reached Part VIII; the interest of the story does not diminish. There is also part of a new story in this number, called 'Left-handed Elsa,' in which a mysterious looking glass takes an important share.

It is difficult to see at a glance that a marked influence can be 'exercised on the outbreaks of yellow fever in Rio Janeiro, by the variations in the state of paying stones on the streets of Europe,' but this is explained in the article on Statistics, which contains a good deal of curious information on Sundry Subjects' to which figures are applicable. 'It is by statistics we become aware that Cerman theologians are longer lived than any other sorts of Germans; that life is shorter under the bright sky of Italy and longer in the damp chill of Scotland, than in any other parts of the world : that the average rate of mortality is diminishing throughout Europe; and that suicides, accidents, and bankruptcies occur so regulary and with such similarity of annual numbers and conditions, that they almost appear to be governed by unvarying laws.'

The Conversation, 'In a Studio,' turns this month upon poems and poets, making special mention of Byron, Snelley, Wodsworth and Moore.

Is 'The Scot at Home' misnamed? Are we to conclude that the chief object of a Scotchman's life is to play wolf? After reading the article, we have come to the conclusion that 'the Scot at home' is always out.
