New Year Callers,

We reporters are in sort of a bad way, just now. A few months ago we could talk about the "russet leaves" and "the manycelored forests," and all that sort of thing; and in a few months from now we can talk about the "being air" and the "tender buds the genial sunshine :" but just now (especially since the weather has grown as cool as it has any business to be,) subjects are about as scarce as was Col Sellers' dinner.

The Wildman Comedy Company.

This troupe re-appears in Charlotte tomorrow night, and will present "Viet, the Actress," which we understand is a very charming little drama. We have no doubt that the company will get a good house here. It has never yet failed to do that, though wind and weather have almost invariably been against it. This fact is evidence prima facie, that the company possesses ment. Clara Wildman is an earnest and pains-taking actress, endowed with vocal powers of no mean order, and well cultivated, while Wildman himself is very fine in low comedy, and does himself credit as well in the heavier parts. The Wildman Comedy Company is so well known here, however that it is unnecessary for us to go into a Badly Powder Burnt.

The Asheville Pioneer records the follow ing accident in a family which formerly resided in this city . "Early after daylight, on the morning of the 25th, while the children of Mr Wm Gates, and those of a neighbor, were celebrating Christmas by the firing of crackers and small arms, a painful sceident occurred to Miss Alice, a daughter of Mr Gates. She was standing near the table upon which was about a quarter of a pound of powder The servant girl lighted a cracker, and it burned more rapidly than she expected, it frightened her, and she tossed it to one side. It alighted in the powder, which instantly ignited and flashed in the face of Miss Alice, burning her terribly about the eyes. Up to this hour the unfortunate young lady has been unable to open them, though the attending physician is of opinion that her sight is not destroyed."

The Case of Mr Kirkpatrick. Mr J R Kirkpatrick, of Pineville, tells us that we did him great injustice in our report of a case against him in a Magistrate's Court in this city, last week. The charge was that he had sold land which he had already mortgaged to Gen Barringer, and he charges that our statement was altogether ex parts. He acknowledges that the land was under mortgage for the sun, of $800, but states (and it was so shown on the trial,) that Gen Barringer had abundant security ; indeed, held notes to the amount of $3,340, on his (K's) brothers, for the lifting of the mortgage; that the land was sold to Smith with Gen Barringer's consent, and that this gentleman had only asked that the papers be held until his mortgage was satisfied, Mr Kirkpatrick claims that it was a perfectly upright business transaction, and his statement does put a very different phase on the affair. It is but justice to him to say that the facts as stated by him were brought ont on the trial, and we gladly make the after the above trial, had Mr Smith, the prosecutor, indicted for perjury, and the case was removed to this city and came up Train No 8, on the Carolina Central Rail- yesterday in the Magistrate's Court. Society. Last evening the regular monthly meeting of this society was held at the office of Dr Thos J Moore, and the call of the roll exhibited the fact that a majority of members were present The President, Maj C Dowd, upon taking the chair, ordered the proceedings of the last regular meeting to be read, after which the names of Meesrs John G Young, and Thos S Armistead, were proposed for membership, and they were duly elected members of the society.

After the transaction of some other business, pertaining only to the society, the President called Gen D H Hill to the chair. and in accordance with a resolution passed at the last regular meeting of the society, proceeded to deliver an address before the members, on the subject of "Our Neglected History, and Our Neglected Dead." The short time in which we are allowed to prepare these notes, prevents our making any extended allusion to this admirable and well timed address, to-day. We hope to be able to publish it, however, in extenso, when we shall have been furnished with a copy. We cannot refrain however, from making a Mesers J & Young & Son are removing few running comments, which will, if nothappreciate the address when it shall have been given to the public.

brought out some facts which, if not new, were presented in a new light. He contrased the policy of Virginia and South Caroline, in honoring their sons, and in erecting statues and monuments in honor to them, with that of North Carolina, who, as a State or as a community in any particular section. had never carved a line, or raised a stone in honor of any son, however distinguished. He alluded with some feeling to the fact that North Carolina, as a role, had nearly THE NEW YORK COMEDY COMPANY always failed to honor merit in her own children, and although he did not say so, he might very properly have cited the names of James K. Polk, Hugh Lawson White, Andrew Jackson, Andrew Johnson, William Allen, Allen G Thurman, and many others who have reached honorable preferment in other States.

The address was all and more than was to have been expected from the speaker, waich is saying a great deal, and we only regret that we have not time or space at command to say more in regard to it.
