For Sunday School Scholars.

International Bible Lessons. The lesson for the first quarter of the year are selected from the Books of Samuel, and treat of the close of Saul's life, and the reign of David, his successor. The events cover a period of about fifty years a very instructive portion of Jewish history, full of remantic interest and personal narrative. The there personages, around whom gather the leading incidents of the history, and whose names are prominent in the lessons are Samuel. Saul and David, all remarkable men, whose lives are given with considerable fullness, and suggest many practical lessons. Moreover, as David was not only a royal ancestor of Jesus, but an eminent type of Christ, as the king of his people, the events of his life and reign have a deep religious and spiritual significance, and speak to us of Him who was both David's son and David's Dealings. Lord, our Redeemer and our King. We are authorized to say that young men and others who may wish to pursue this interesting course of study, will feel themselves cordially invited to attend the Bible Clas of any of our city Sunday Schools.
