Old Proba fied yesterday. He will do so

The young men were on the go again last night, wearing smiles and white crayats. The warmth and beauty of the day was what the street corner ornaments had under discussion yesterday.

The Spring Term of the Charlette Institute for Young Ladies, begins on Monday next, the 14th inst.

The city was wonderfully barren of news yesterday; the reporter walked his legs smack off, to no purpose whatever. Mr Bryan bas had his cigar stand in the Central Hotel fixed up in such style that it

The house and lot of Dr. A. W. Alexander, advertised for sale, was sold at public auction at the Court House door, yesterday, and brought $2,000. It was bid in by Gen. R. D. Johnston for Mr. David Henderson. The writer of "Vanity Fair" is informed that his production would have appeared earli er, but the communication informing us of has identity was misplaced, and was only

The frequent firing of guns and pistols in all parts of the city, during all hours of the night, is a subject of a good deal of remark. The shooters are never found out : neither their object.

The rapidity with which these streets get muddy, is only equalled by the rapidity with which they get dry. After Sunday, Monday and Tuesday of fearful slush, and Wednesday and Thursday of sunshine the streets are again as dry as a bone.

The continued mild weather, this winter, we are told, has entailed serious loss upon our gardeners. Their cabbage have taken a second growth and are otherwise materially injured. The cabbage is a staple vegetable, and the loss of this crop will be seriously felt by our industrious gardeners.

It was a wise thing in those telegraph young men, that they should have posted upon the lattice work which has just been put up in the same room with them, a paper with the words "News Stand" written upon it. It saves them four hours a day hard work answering questions.

A dog locked up in Timmons' bar-room on Trade street, made last night hideous. and even at this writing, long after midnight, is rending the air with his dismal howls. The person who lives the farthest from that bar-room, is the person who is getting the most sleep just now.

We told, the other day, of the negro who applied to the Register of Deeds for a marriage license, and who didn't know whether his dulcinea's name was Foster or Carter. The sequel developed itself yesterday, when he re-appeared, and asked that the name be changed to Perry, as he had found out that this was the name of her who was soon to be his bride.

The Spring Fights

Opened yesterday, Mr. W. M. Henderson and Mr. Freeland, of Freeland & Durham, leading off. The scene of the encounter was Trade Street, opposite the First Presbyterian Church. When they first fell to the ground, Mr. H. was on top, when Mrs. H. ran out, and not fully comprehending the relative situations of the awo, began to belabor her husband, under the impression that the other man was on top. The difficulty ended without any material injury being done to any of the participants.

Knights Templar Centennial Encamp-

The proposed encampment of Masonic Knights Templar at Philadelphia next summer it is understood has been definitely decided upon. The managers of Ridley Park, near Philadelphia, have extended an invitation to Charlotte Commandery, No. 2, but thus far no action has been taken upon it. The encampment will continue from the 28th of June to the 7th of July, and promises to be a notable event in connection with the centennial observances

Will White Males Do?

A maiden lady, living in Morning Star Township, noticed in this paper that during terday morning. There has been but one leap year, any lady counting one hundred in ten days, and on that one an appeal was white horses, would succeed in getting a taken from the Mayor's decision. The city hashend, is in great despair, on account of is so quiet of late, that there is no need for the predominance of white mules; and as a Mayor's Court.

Note Paper.

The latest in note paper and envelopes, says an exchange, is unique. The form is a continental hat in miniature, or, to be more explicit and lucid, an old fashioned New England bon. The paper is heavy, and, like Joseph's coat, of many colors, You have your monogram in the upper left corner, and your autograph vis a vis. You put it in an envelope of the same form, and then sit down and wonder where the place is for the postage stamp. -

The Young Men's Christian Association had a very interesting Bible Reading at Tryon street M E Church, last night, conducted by Mr A Shorter Caldwell, This system of instructions is a very excellent one. The idea is to select from all parts of the scriptures, passages bearing upon some particular subject, and have these passages read out by different persons in the assemblage, to be commented upon by the gentleman who presides over the meeting. The subject last night was, Christ the shepherd of the sheep.

Painful Injury.

On Wednesday evening, Maj John W Dunham, who is still in the city, was walking down Tryon street in company with another gentleman, on his way to spend the evening with a friend, when he stepped into the partially opened cellar door in front of Tiddy's bookstore. He was caught before descending into the cellar, but his weight fell upon his wounded leg, which was very painfully injured. He proceeded on his way, but the consequences of the misstep ing. were so painful, that he has not yet been able to leave the residence of his triend

Advertisements.

Reading advertisements pays, whether one wants to buy anything or not. Every business man has his own way of setting forth his goods or wares, and studying these announcements awakens new ideas in the mind of the reader. Some of the most valuable new business thoughts start up when running over advertisements on entirely different subjects. The advertising pages present a grand bazar where sellers and customers may meet for mutual acquaintance, consulation, and discussion. To the intelligent mind they are the most practical part of the paper.

Personal.

We had a call, yesterday, from J G Fortune, Esq., of First Broad, Rutherford

The following members of the press were in the city, yesterday; E B Drake, Frq , editor of the Statesville American, who was here attending the me-ting of the Directors of the A , T. & O. Railroad W C Wolfe, Esq., of the Monroe Enquirer, and Mr McCrumber, of the Pythian Echo, published at Wilmington.

Going to Florida.

Quite a number of people continue to go South, from the Northern States, to spend the remainder of the winter. It makes us feel right sorry to look at these feeble, bloodless faced folk from the North, who, feeble as a stranger among them, for his sayings have become so familiar to most of us that he appeared more like an old acquaintace, made up their minds to try the climate of Florida, in the hope of prolonging their existence here. In the majority of cases it is no good. Grim Death has set his seal upon the brows and the cheeks of many of them. and it is evident to all but themselves, that it is useless for them to appeal from his decree to the tropical breezes, no matter how balmy they be.

An Addition to the Circus.

A large grey eagle furnished a thousand dollars worth of fun at Webb Kendrick's Central Saloon, last night. Bennett Barnes has just returned from Fayetteville, where he purchased him. He is the latest addition to Cousin Tom Arrington's Circus, and in the absence of Cousin Tom from the city, and in the absence also of a regularly appointed eagle tamer, a temporary keeper was appointed for him. The eagle clawed two or three people last night, and the way the balance of the crowd gave him elbowroom after that, was a caution. He is a bad bird, but will prove a valuable accession to the hipprodrome. The next thing is to get a permanent keeper for him.

Leaf Photographs.

A very pretty amusement, especially for those who have just completed the study of botany, is the taking of leaf photographs. One very simple process is this: At any druggist's get a dime's worth of bichromate of potash. Put this in a two ounce bottle of salt water. Josh Billings.

An advertisement in another column announces the coming of this well known county, who gives a good account of his character. He will be here on Monday night country, left us a remembrance in the shape next. He needs no introduction anywhere of the only g ld dollar which we have seen in this land, but the following concerning him, from the Richmond Whig, of last week will show what that excellent authority thinks of him :

"He appeared Thursday evening, at the Theatre here, to a large and cultivated audience, and all who were present expressed hemselves delighted with the entertainment. Mr Shaw covers with a disguise of humor the loftiest moral precepts, and teaches the profoundest philosophy under a pretence of fun, while arraying in simple but attractive garb the sublimest or most homely truths with equal facility; and his proverbs, though falling short of the wisdom of Solomon, it is safe to say, surpass in good sense anything the fecund genius of Martin Farquhar Tupper has eyer produced. Our people did not look upon 'Josh Billings' or one of the family, and that will be the general character of his welcome, we think, everywhere in the South."

Blind Tom's Spelling.

The Raleigh News gives this interesting account of one of the most singular features of Blind Tom's concerts, a feature which we neglected to mention in our notice of his performances here night before last: Blind Tom spells by music. He turned his back to the audience and his proprietor requested any one present to hold up any article and he would telegraph it to Tom on the keys of the piano, and Tom should spell it correctly. A gentleman held up a stick. The proprietor stepped to the piano and thrummed a few of the keys, and Tom shouted in regular spelling boy style, 'w-a-l-k walk, i-n-g ing, walking, c-a-n-e cane, walking cane!" Another then held up an opera glass and Tom spelled it the same way. But left to himself he spells altogether by the sound of the word. Some one in the audience asked him to spell Chicago. Tom cried out, s-h-e she, c-a-r car, shecar, g-o go, Shecargo!' and then auroraborealis, 'o-r or, r-o-a-r roar, orroar : e-r er, orroarer: b-o-a-r boar orroarerboar: e orroarerboare, a-l al, orroarerboreal: i-s is: orroarerboarealis."

The Proposed Concert.

The proposed concert in aid of the hos pital fund, is exciting considerable interest, and promises to be a very recherche affair. Nearly all our musical ladies and gentlemen are expected to participate in the entertainment. The next rehearsal takes place to-night at Miss Long's school room, at which time it is desirous that all should attend, as time is limited.

and the longer it lasts. Now yesterday was to all intents and purposes, a spring day. It is not often that you feel a warmer sun or more balmy breezes in April. In fact the sun is too warm and the breezes too balmy Such weather makes ones feel "loose" and stupid. It is more stupid than the hot weather, and more enervating even than the weather just at the change of the season. After having paid very close attention to the weather ever since he entered journalism, with a view to writing nightly essays upon the subject, the reporter feels that his familiarity with this topic entitles him, and the peculiar relations in which he stands to the public, demand of him, to express the opinion (and it is done after mature deliberais pressing his claims, and it is feared that ition) that the back of the winter is broken. he will shut down on the road and have it and that the "etherial mildness" specialty will be done from now on.
