There is one advantage, certainly, about the warm winter, even supposing that the fruit will be killed; and that is, that much has been saved in the way of fuel.

On and after this date, mails will open and close in this office as follows: Northern, delivered 8.30 a.m., close 9.00 p.m.

Transfer of Conductors. On and after today, Capt. K. S. Finch, who has been the only conductor on the Western Division of the Carolina Central Railroad, will have a night train on the Eastern Division.

Seizure of Mackerel. Special Deputy Collector McAlpine is a faithful "noser." Not long since, he seized a quantity of white lead at the North Carolina Railroad Depot, and on yesterday, he seized an unstamped keg of mackerel at the depot of the A., T. & O. Railroad.

Taken on a Capias. About two months ago a negro named Henry Heard was arrested here and bound over on a peace warrant for his appearance at court. He was bound in $100, but jumped his bail and fled.

To Our City Subscribers—One More Day of Grace to Delinquents. The extraordinary amount of labor incident to the transcribing of our city list, together with the fact that much of our office duties for the past ten days have been retarded by the interference of machinists, carpenters and painters, have prevented our stopping the papers of all who are in arrears this morning.

Base ball has been revived for the Spring, Summer and Fall. The darlings played the first game of the season, yesterday afternoon in the field beyond the C., C. & A. Depot.

On the 6th of April, W. M. Stewart, the trustee, will sell the valuable King's Mountain gold mining property—the property of the Gaston Mining Company.

The Statesville train runs out this morning under its new schedule and returns this evening. There was no train out to Statesville yesterday afternoon.

The Concord Sun says the Cabarrus prisoners now in Charlotte jail, will be taken over to Concord this week and given quarters in the new jail at that place.

Buzzards over the tall spire of the First Presbyterian Church, these sunny days. It is high and dry, and no doubt a good place in which to sun.

March came in this morning very much as a lamb. There was none of that unnecessary bluster and flourish with which we all are in the habit of accusing it of making its advent.

The poorest cotton seen in this city, was a lot of four bales which was upon the market yesterday. The highest bid that could be got on it, was 12. Four cents is about the lowest ever bid here on a lot before.

The City Marshal gives an important notice to those who are in the habit of blocking the pavements with chicken coops, boxes and other obstructions; and also to those who make a practice of filling the gutters in front of their business places, with rubbish.

For the past two years or more, court week did not seem to make any material increase in the number of people in town, but that state of things is no longer. The increase in the number of folks this week, is very perceptible over several preceding weeks.

We learn that Mr. B. Koopmann, long a merchant in this city, has secured a large hotel in the city of Philadelphia, Pa., and will shortly remove thence, and open a house, first class in its character, for the accommodation of his friends throughout the South.

New Copartnership. Mr. H. T. Butler, until lately a salesman in the store of Witkowski & Rintel, has purchased an interest in the hardware and tinware establishment of Mr. Richard Moore, and the two will conduct business together in future. They will increase their stock and with an increase of this, we hope the public will increase their patronage.

Democratic Executive Committee. Members of the Democratic County Executive Committee, for Mecklenburg county, must bear in mind that the committee is called to meet to-day at 12 M., at the office of the chairman, Col. John E. Brown. The chairman states that business of importance is to be transacted. Steps will probably be taken, looking to an organization for the coming campaign.

New Music. We are indebted to the publisher, F. W. Helmick, 278 West Sixth Street, Cincinnati, for two pieces of music which are just out—the "Mardi Gras March" and "All Tied Back"—a serio-comic song, words by J. Arthur, song arranged by P. Ritter. Every pin-back who can sing at all, should get this song and learn it. Nothing will interest the boys more, except it be the pin-back itself.

Watching and Praying. John Henderson, colored, says that the other night, "two d—d black rascals" came to his house, and one came in, but the other stayed out. After sitting around awhile, the one who had come in proposed to hold family worship for the benefit of the family, and while he was down praying, his partner on the outside stole John's old turkey gobbler. John is satisfied that a copartnership exists between the two brethren—one to preach and pray while the other watches and steals.
