Painful Injury.

Last night, as Mr E H White, who resides over Frankford's store, was coming down the steps to the street, he stepped on a round stick of wood, lying on the stairway, and was precipitated forward. He dashed through the gateway at the foot of the steps. and fell upon his head on the pavement. He was knocked senseless, and remained in this condition for some time. His injuries, however, are not serious.

The Drunken Blind Man.

The old blind man who was drunk on the streets Friday afternoon, and who was put up, was turned out, yesterday morning, with instructions to leave the city at once. He says he is a sailor: that he is from New Orleans, and that he is endeavoring to get to Washington City. He did not obey the instructions to take a walk, as he was seen during the afternoon, walking around the streets, lead by a negro.

Athletic Club.

A number of the young gentlemen of the city have organized an athletic club, and have ordered dumb bells, boxing-gloves, foils, and all other material of the kind which will be needed, and will furnish a gymnasium in a room which they will rent. This is a very excellent idea; it will develop the physical strength and skill of the young men, and afford healthful exercise to many who lead too sedentary lives.

Exaggerated Reports.;

It appears that the reports brought to this city, concerning the extent of the wounds received by W. W. White, at the hands of Jas. M. Isbell, in a fight at Elkville, Wilkes county, the particulars of which were published in the OBSERVER last Sunday morning, had been greatly enlarged upon, and varied materially from the facts. this morning at 11. and this evening at 71 The Statesville American, of yesterday, tween Isbell and White, was much exaggerated-that White was not killed, in fact not much injured, is getting well, and that Isbell is at home attending to his domestic affairs This is better than two funerals, or, even

The Y. M. C. A. Revivalists.

Messrs Hall and Cree, who are traveling Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association, and one of whom was here recently, are now in Louisville, Ky., and the Courier-Journal of last Thursday, says : They have visited Charlotte, Charleston, Columbia, Augusta, Jacksonville, Sayannah, Chattanooga, St. Augustine and Knoxville. They have held large meetings at every point, and in many places revivals have sprung from the meetings and continued after they have left. In Charleston, St. Augustine and Jacksonville, many were converted, and in Knoxville unusual interest was manifested."

Re-Stamping Necessary to Re-Mailing. A simple ruling of the Post office Department deprives the public of an important postal facility. It has been the practice, and we suppose it sprung from a precise rule of the department or statute, that a letter not reaching the person addressed by one delivery could be remailed to a new address. without additional postage. This was rests in the city; 2 of the arrested parties taking a good deal of trouble on the part of ing lot H, $52.50; Wm Thomas, 151 acres, the government for nothing, to be sure, and for $555; Richard Russell, 24 acres, for $504; the practice may have been unreasonablebut practice it has become. The department at Washington now informs Postmaster Tobey, of Boston, that a letter once derive red cannot be remailed without another

The Close of the Market House.

We have received a lengthy communic ation from Messrs Freeman & Mann, the late lessees of the Market House, in explanation of the closing of that institution. It seems that our language, in noting this event, yesterday morning, was susceptible of a wrong construction. The failure of the lessees to pay the rent, was not a piece of bad faith, as might appear. They had paid promptly up to date, but had announced that they would no longer lease the building at the price which they had been paying. The committee of the Board of Alderment refused to let the building out for less, and it was accordingly closed, as stated. The rent, however, was paid in advance up the 1st of the present month, and the lessees did not longer want the building at the rent which they had been paying fer it.

A Singular Casus Belli. Yesterday evening, two negroes, meeting on the corner of Trade and Tryon streets, started down Trade together, each trying to outwalk the other. Presently one began on an arm and knee, and had his clothing falling behind when he accused the other of running. He denied the soft impeachment. It was re-iterated, "You did," "I didn't," times, when, this language seeming too feeble and contemptible to ever settle the matthe other. This brought metters to a crisis. A fisticuff ensued, which resulted in the one who had fallen behind, changing his mind about the matter, thus leaving the other victor in two contests, all within three min-

Pleasant Gaither, colored, was tried for stealing a bed and other property from Prof Anderson, at Davidson College, and was also found guilty, but as in the other case, sentence was not pronounced. The civil docket was taken up and run

Miss Elfa McLaughlin, daughter of Jos. McLaughlin, Esq., of this city, died at the residence of her father at five minutes past eleven o'clock last night. She fell a victim to consumption. Miss Mc-Laughlin has for several months past been confined to her bed by this wasting disease, and last evening death released her from her sufferings, and her spirit was wafted to God who gave it.

Death of a Young Lady.

Going to Philadelphia. Mr B Koopmann has just returned from Philadelphia, and reports that he will go on in a couple of weeks with this family, and be prepared in a short time thereafter to accommoda-e guests at the hotel which he has rented. He has two partners, and they have secured the Mansion House, on Arch street, a convenient location. Mr Koopmann says they will entertain in first class style, and at moderate prices, and he hopes to see his North Carolina friends when they visit the City of Brotherly Love, during the Centennial and at other times.

The Item Market.

Lest Monday it opened brisk. Receipts were heavy, though the supply did not equal the demand, as indeed it has never done. since the Centennial Celebration of the Mecklenburg Declaration. A dead man or two, the Superior Court, and other causes, increased business, one of the most agreeable features of the week being the fact that the public had less than its usual disposition to "hold." Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, the market continued strong and active, but on Friday it weakened, and tended downward, and on Sunday morning closed flat and -sleepy.

Prof Tripp will pass through this city in day or two, on his return from Davidson College, and we suggest that the Young Men's Christian Association secure him to deliver his lecture on Lamartine. The people of Charlotte seem not to have understood the worth of these lectures which this gentleman has been delivering here or larger crowds would have attended them. There is no better way of obtaining historical knowledge than from lectures of this kind, and Prof Tripp's mind is filled with a vast store of information. We should be more than glad to hear him lecture upon Lamartine, and feel satisfied that all of those citizens who attended the course just ended would go to hear him another time if the opportunity were presented.

Sale of the Benjamin Morrow Property. The property of the late Maj. Benjamin Morrow, lying in and adjacent this city, was sold on yesterday by J. W. Morrow, Commissioner, subject to confirmation by the court. The Brier Creek land was sold first to the following purchasers, at the following Myers, 10 acres $320: H C Morrow, 10 acres, prices: R M Miller, 22 acres, for $594; W R $250; H C Morrow, 10 acres $360; B H . Morrow, 10 acres $400. Property west of Sugar Creek: J E Brown 22 acres, for $270; Walter Brem, Lots A and B, for $200 and $130; J McLaughlin, lots, C, D, E and F, for $86, $55, $50 and $60; Dr R Gibbon lots G and H, for $52 and $50; J M Smith, lot on Creek, join-J S Myers, 29} acres for $594.50; Walter Brem, lots I and J, (almost opposite his residence) for $50 and $10.

The gross amount realized from the sale was $5,141. The property is regarded as having sold yery well indeed.

Homicide Near Matthews' Station.

Information of a homicide which occurred wo weeks ago last night, at Matthews' Station 10 miles from this city, on the Carolina Central Railroad, reached the county authorities in this city only on yesterday. How the affair could have been so long kept secret, cannot be explained, but the information received yesterday, was all news here. It appears that on the night mentioned, seven railroad negroes were engaged in eating supper together, in their shanty either at or near Matthews', when two of them quarreled over a piece of bread. This quarrel resulted in a fight, and in the fight one of the negroes produced a knife with which he stabbed the other in the fieshy part of the leg, between the knee and thigh cutting the femoral artery. The blood flowed rapidly, and in five minutes from the time the cutting was done, the wounded hegro died. The slayer, it is stated, fled as soon as the consequences of his work were seen, and has not yet been apprehended,

Coroner Alexander arrived here yesterday afternoon, with a negro whom he said was an important witness in the case, at least, and it was thought probable that evidence to implicate him as an accessory to the crime could be produced. The negro was accordingly committed to jail and the Grand Jury will look into the case this week.
