Its practice is contrary to our laws, usages and christian religion itself, and that is a sufficient reason why it should be summarily dealt with. Such a thing as bringing a disciple of Mormonism to justice for crimes, has been an impossibility with our courts, for the juries were generally composed of its followers, and a verdict of guilty was always refused. The first step, however, towards bringing the lawless and lecherous Mormons to justice, was made when Lee was executed for his complicity in the Mountain Meadow masacre, in which so many innocent men, women and children were shot down and butchered like beeves.
