Patterson, of South Carolina, Declares he will Vote for the Admission of Butler to the United States

WASHINGTON, April 12. The full in politics continues. All wait on Louisiana. It is believed at the White House that the Commission will simply report on the situation without any recommendations. The impression is general, in high quarters, that it will require a heavy reinforcement of troops in Louisiana to sustain Packard, and they cannot be spared. The happy results following the enforcement of the policy in South Caroline have greatly strengthened the administration, and its enforcement in Louisiana is a question of a very few

Sherman will, it is said, reject demands for clemency in certain whiskey suits, where there is no evidence on record that Secretary Bristow was a party to bargains made by the District Attorneys.

The Star says: "The advices from the Louisiana Commission are not encouraging for settling the difficulties existing in that State. The statement is made that supplementary instructions will be given to the Commission to meet the difficulties that have arisen. It is also stated that the President is willing to agree to a recognition of the Legislature on the basis of the original parish returns, without re gard to the protest which Packard is understood to have made against such

Capt Bassett, of steamer Plymouth, reports excellent reception from the the people as he passes up the Mississippi. They had balls on board the vessel and on shore while anchored at Donaldsonville. Capt Bassett reports that the Secretary was most hospitably treated. The citizens vied with each other to make his stay

It can be stated on authority that the President made no promises to Chamberlain, whatever, as a condition of his abdication. Senator Patterson, in an interview with the President yesterday, thought he had made a mistake in his course towards South Carolina. The President replied, it was an experiment, but from the representations received and pledges made by Hampton, and subsequent develop-

The he should vote for the admission of Buller. And, besides, he would vote for the admission of the Democratic Senators from Louisiana. This would interfere with his Republicanism, but this action would be based on the ground, that a State aught to be represented according to the wishes of the people, as represented in their State government.

CHARLOTTE N. C., FRIDAY, APRIL 13, 1877.

Not Confirmed by the Turkish Senate-No Room for apprehension Yet.

London, April 12-A Reuter telegram from Constantinople says: The Turkish Senate has not confirmed the Chamber of Deputies' rejection of Montenegro's demand, but decided to eave the question to the government.

The Post speaking of the meaning of the Turkish circular says: In a word the Ottoman government is prepared to force the peril of war, rather than submit beforehand to terms which it considers could only be imposed upon vanquished nation after great reverses in the field.

The Times in its leading editorial says: The news from Turkey would be grave, if we believed that Ruscia is eager to precipitate war, but happily, there is no need to alw such a conclusion; diplomacy has not said its last

A Berlin dispatch to the Times states that the alarming aspect of the situation is not real. Both parties are anxious for peace, but the Russians wish to derive some benefit from demobilization by representing that the Porte is acting under pressure. The Turks desire to avoid even a semblance of submission. Thus the Russians threaten war, and the Turks favor their concession of disarmament with an admixture of independent language. ST PETERSBURG, April 12.-The Journal de St Petersburg states that there is no further hope that Turkey will accede to the demands of Europe.

The Gales declares the present state of things are such as have scarcely any hope of a pacific solution. Russian occupation of the Christian privinces of Turkey would be a logical consequence of the refusal of the Porte to carry out the demands of the protecol. Such acceptation would exclude all des of the ambitious designs attributed to Russia, who by intervening in behalf of the Christians would solely pursue humanitarian ends.

PANAMA, April 12.—Several cases of yellow fever are reported at Callao. It is reported that Consul Clayton has died from it.

More From the New England Conference.

Boston April 12-The New England Methodist Conference adopted the following:

WHEREAS, It has been reported to us, that Wm H Scott, an aged and highly respected member of the South Carolina Conference, has been shot to death without provocation, while peaceably leaving his church, on the close of an evening's service, and

WHEREAS, We naturally and rightfully look to our Chief Ministers, at whose direction we go to our fields however perilous; to exert to the utmost, their great influence for our protection, and the maintenance of our rights, and just reputation, therefore,

Resolved, That we respectfully request our presiding Bishop, the Rev R L Foster, to inquire into the facts and circumstances of this case, and if he finds them such as they have been re-ported here, to bring them to the notice of the entire church in such a way as he may deem wise, that it may take such action thereon as the necessities of the case require. The report was briefly discussed and
