A Court of Claims' Decision.

Washington, June 5 .- Franks, the North Carolina deputy marshal, has Ravaged by Fire, and Shatterbeen released on bail.

A new element of disturbance is deyeloping itself in Louisiana politics. Senator T. B. Stamps and James D. Kennedy arrived this morning. They report themselves as forming a part of a committee sent here by the representative colored men of Louisi ana, to see the President. The other members of the committee, Senator Dumont, Rev. A. M Newman, and Lewis M. Kennet, are en route, and, are expected in the morning. Nothing is known of their intentions, although it is rumored that they will strongly recemmend Albert W. Leonard, for district attorney. None of the committee, they claim, are applicants for office. Burch remains.

General Butler was called upon by a delegation of citizens of the district, in ing, as the freight train approached the regard to the commissioner. He re- bridge here, the draw was open, and referred them to Mr. Corcoran. The following is an extract from the report in time, and the locomotive and tenof the interview, as published in the der plunged into the river. The en-Baltimore Sun:

"We are told that the Republican party is to be disbanded-that the Democratic party is to be disbanded, and the great Whig party is to come into life. You had better go to some graveyard, and take off the tombetones the names of some old line Whigs, and put them on your applications. The General here interrupted himself, and said he had asked one favor of the President. When he was in command of the department of the Gulf, during the war, the noble, eminent, and patriotic surgeon-in-chief of the department, ascrificed his life in his labors, for his country. His son, new a promising young lad, of sixteen years, desired to enter the naval academy. The boy did not live in his, (General Butler's) district, or he would have appointed him. He, therefore, went to the President, who, at the time, had three naval cadet appointments in his gift; related to him all the circumstances, and asked him to bestow ene of the appointments on this poor boy. When the President made the appointments, the boy's name was not among them, but all of them were sons of men of the style of Mr. Corcoran."
