WASHINGTON!

Franks' Case Interesting.

The Louisiana Delegation and Secretary Sherman.

Are the Colored People Entitled to One Third of the New Orleans Custom House Patronage?

The Secretary's Evasive Reply.

Proceedings Against Brigham Young—Douglas wants an Investigation—President on the Money Question.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—In Deputy Marshal Franks' case, fraudulent accounts were presented as evidence, when Franks' counsel objected, alleging that they had been sworn to in blank, filled out afterwards, in the marshal's office. The defence is allowed fifteen days to establish this plea.

The colored Louisiana delegation had an interview this morning, with Secretary Sherman, Mr. Cylesby, who has been appointed assistant appraiser, will not be disturbed. Mr. W. G. Brown, whom the committee recommended for the position, will receive the Secretary's reply, a more prominent one. They spoke of the appointments in the custom house, and in reply to a question, whether he thought one third of the patronage was too much for the colored people, replied that he did not think so. He will write to Mr. King about this matter.

The following is an authorized report of what Secretary Sherman said to the colored delegation from New Orleans, when they asked him whether one third was too large a share of the custom house patronage. The Secretary replied: "That if a man of integrity and intelligence, were chairman, he thought they were entitled to a fair share of the patronage, and further remarked that he would write to Collector King, at New Orleans, upon the subject."

The bond of Colonel Brady, recently appointed collector of internal revenue for the Petersburg, Va., district, has been received at the internal revenue office.

Jack Wharton has been commissioned marshal of Louisiana.

Proceedings have been inaugurated against Brigham Young, for irregularities while Indian agent, in 1848-9.

The implication of Brigham Young with the Mountain Meadow's massacre is considered doubtful, on account of the difficulty of obtaining witnesses.

Marshal Douglas, of North Carolina, asks a full investigation of the management of his office.

President Hayes is authoritatively announced as favoring the re-monetization of silver, and the re-adoption of the double standard. He is, however, not yet determined to make a suggestion to Congress, on the subject in his message.

Foreign Intelligence.

Russians Bombarding Rutchuk.

More Softa Arrests.

Turkish Army in Armenia in a Deplorable Condition.

New York, June 12.—A cable special says: "The Russians commenced bombarding Rutchuk yesterday evening. Their batteries opened a vigorous cannonade, and continued with little intermission throughout the entire day. The Turks returned the fire with interest. The damage on either side is not known."

On Friday last, divers from Turkish ships, succeeded in picking up torpedoes, placed by the Russians in the Channel.

A correspondent at Constantinople, reports that the Softas are again becoming troublesome. The Softas supposed the Ringleaders had been arrested.

Private accounts received in Constantinople from Erzerum, represent the Turkish army in Armenia, in a sad condition, ill clothed, fed, and commanded. The Turks are rapidly retreating before the Russians. Escape is not expected to hold out six weeks. The occupation by the Russians is a foregone conclusion.

TENNESSEE.

Cotton Exchange Report.

MEMPHIS, June 13.—The cotton exchange reports one and three quarter per cent. decrease in acreage, and great improvement in labor. Wheat shows twenty-eight per cent. increase in prospects, and nine per cent. in acreage. Hogs in good condition, with sixteen per cent. increase.

The correspondent of the Times at Berlin, sends the following: Orders have been issued by the Russian government to accelerate as much as possible to the levy of 218,000 men. Despite this, the opinion continues to prevail here that Russia wishes to settle with Turkey on the basis of the nominal integrity of Turkey in Europe, and that some such settlement will be advocated by powerful persons at Constantinople, if the Russians succeed in crossing the Danube and assuming an energetic offensive in Bulgaria.

LONDON, June 12.—At a banquet of Merchant-Tailors' school last evening, Lords Derby and Salisbury made speeches in which they assumed a remarkably pacific tone. The Marquis of Salisbury concluded: "It has generally been acknowledged to be madness to go to war for an idea, but if anything, it is yet more unsatisfactory to go to war against a 'night-mare.' I will not say that we have an enemy, although it is generally supposed that this war has been concocted against English interests. I believe it may be looked at in another light. Be steadfast and calm, do not mistake, the panic for real danger or phantoms for realities. But if real dangers arise, if our interests are threatened, we will effectually defend them at any cost."

Lord Derby said he could only repeat the Marquis of Salisbury's excellent argument. After all we must remember this, that the greatest of all British interests is the right of peace.

A Paris special vouches for the accuracy of the following report of President MacMahon's reply to the legitimate deputations. The President said: "My duty forbids that I should risk a change of the elements composing the present cabinet; seeing that it has offended none of the powers, with which France is friendly. As to the legitimate candidates, any 'legitimist' candidate, really having a chance of success, will be openly and legally supported by the administration at the elections. The question of prolonging my office will not be considered during the prorogation of the Chambers, and I shall lend myself to no coup de main of any kind whatever, nor to any venture of Imperial or Monarchical restoration. It will perhaps be necessary to demand a dissolution of the Chambers. If you accord it to me I shall use it as well as possible; if you refuse it I should withdraw."

It is beginning to be generally understood that Russia is endeavoring to subsidize the press, and that she is evidently preparing the public mind for her forthcoming occupation of Constantinople. Meanwhile rumors of decided Turkish successes on the line of the Danube, and the improvement of Turkish prospects in Asia, continue to gain ground. The financial prospects of neither of the belligerents is practically hopeful.

It is said that important negotiations are on foot, between the English government and the Khedive, in reference to the protection of British interest in Egypt.

The Pope yesterday gave a number of medals commemorative of the jubilee, to be presented to the American ladies in recognition of their services in representing the American Catholics on that occasion. Among the ladies thus honored, are Mrs. Sherman, of Washington, Mrs. Patterson, of St. Louis, and Mrs. Saylor, of New Orleans. Mr. Estling, of Philadelphia, was also given a medal, and will convey the others to the United States, and present them to the ladies, on the Pope's behalf.

ROME, June 12.—The elections were carried yesterday against the clerical party by only about a thousand votes, notwithstanding that the whole power of the Italian government was exerted against the clerical tickets.

LONDON, June 12.—There is almost an utter absence of news of interest, either from Asia, the Danube or Montenegro. The armies on the Danube watching one another, and cannonading frequent. The Russians have not yet declared their intentions.

The Turkish report of a Russian attempt on Saturday, to cross the Danube at Rutchuk, which was alleged to have been repelled, is unworthy of much attention, as an attempt certainly was not serious.

MARYLAND.

Collision of Trains.

BALTIMORE, June 12.—A private telegram just received in this city, says: "The excursion train collided with the Winchester train, near Point of Rocks. Chas. Keefer, Richard Dutton, Dixon and Walker, were killed; Louis Schleg, Cotrail and others, were seriously injured." The excursion train was from Baltimore, conveying passengers to Hagerstown, to take part in the memorial ceremonies and dedication of a monument in the Confederate cemetery at Hagerstown, to-day.

"Charge It."

A simple sentence is this, to be sure, and yet it may be considered as one of the most insidious enemies with which people have to deal. It is very pleasant to buy all the little commodities offered for sale in the market, and it is sometimes hard to deny one's self of the same when they can be obtained by saying, "charge it." But this habit of getting articles, however small the charge may be, without paying for them, leaves one's funds in a low state of depletion at the time.

"Never mind," says the gentlemanly clerk, "you are good for it."

And so it is that little accounts are opened at one place and another, till the young man is surprised at his liabilities, which, though small in detail, are sufficiently large in the aggregate to reduce his cash material when settling day comes.

In many instances if the cash were required, the purchase would not be made, even had the person the money by him; but to some getting an article charged does not seem like parting with an equivalent.

Still, when pay day comes, as always it does, this illusion vanishes, and a feeling is experienced of parting with money and receiving nothing in return.

If there is an actual necessity of making a purchase, and the means are not at hand, there is a reasonable excuse for obtaining the same on credit, but when the article can be dispensed with until payment can be made, it is much to the advantage of the purchaser to do so.

One of the most wonderful inventions of the age is Doolley's Yeast Powder. It makes the science of cookery so simple and easy that a young child or the dullest servant can readily comprehend it. It makes a poor cook a good one, and a good one raises to the rank of artist in the kitchen. The genuine is sold only in tin cans.
