THE STRIKERS.

The President's Proclamation.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The following is the mandatory clause of the President's proclamation: "Now, therefore, I, Rutherford B. Hayes, President of the United States, do hereby admonish all good citizens of the United States, and all persons within the territory and jurisdiction of the United States, against aiding, countenancing, abetting, or taking part in such unlawful proceedings; and I do hereby warn all persons engaged in, or connected with the said domestic violence and obstruction of the laws, to disperse and retire peaceably to their respective abodes on or before 12 o'clock noon, of the nineteenth day of July, instant."

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., July 19.—The troops arrived at 6:30 a. m. At 8:30, all was quiet. The strikers, or most of them, are outside of the western limit. The President's proclamation, printed in hand bill form, is being distributed among the employees at all points of the road. Policemen are furnished with large numbers to be placed in conspicuous places.

MARTINSBURG, July 19.—Up to this time, no engineer has been obtained to take the east train, No. 4. The proclamation of the President has been posted throughout the city. All is quiet. There is a large throng about the hotel, but all appear good humored, and prominent strikers say there will be no demonstration against person and property. Justice Williams, in the presence of Sheriff Nembush, read the request from Governor Matthews to the men assembled at the crossing, to disperse and desist from further interferences with the trains. There are a plenty of men willing to work, but are afraid.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Colonel French, commanding the United States forces at Martinsburg, W. Va., telegraphs to the Secretary of War this morning, that at 12 o'clock, if the insurgents have not dispersed, the troops under his command will proceed to enforce the orders of the President. At the time Colonel French sent the dispatch, all was quiet, and he doubted whether anything more than a demonstration would be required to disperse the rioters. Colonel Delaplaine, aide to Governor Matthews, of West Virginia, has withdrawn his request of 1 o'clock this morning, for more troops, and two pieces of artillery.

MARTINSBURG, July 19.—1:30 P. M.—Quiet for the last two hours. No train has been moved. The troops remain in quarters. Trains will be moved this afternoon if men can be had to go on them. Plenty are willing but are afraid to do so.

2:10 P. M.—The military company from Wheeling was called thirty minutes ago, and marched to the crossing, accompanied by the sheriff and a deputy, and a party who agreed to point out ten of the leading strikers. Before reaching the crossing, he backed out, and the military marched back again. This created some harsh language on the part of some persons, though there was no demonstration of violence. Drinking houses have been closed all day, despite which was considerable intoxication. A man under the influence of liquor, proposed to hang Colonel Sharp, the master of transportation, and his friends look out to arrest him. The Wheeling military was called upon to assist in the arrest, and refused, unless so ordered by the captain. That officer could not be found.

2:35 P. M.—Lieutenant Koesh, with a detachment of battery F, fourth artillery, was called out, and cleared the track. Five minutes ago the first train westward has moved. The citizens were compelled to leave the yard, so that there should be no obstruction. Captain Rodgers from Fort McHenry, has command of the troops. There is much excitement, but no violence.

3:50 P. M.—The coal train east, with No. 4 engine, left at 3:14. As it moved off, several strikers occupied the hill along side the track which was covered with rock. The military presented arms, and there was no demonstration. Engine 423, with a train of boose cars, is just moving out, and all is quiet. No. 4 took a detachment of ten men under Lieutenant Lewis, and 423 took also ten men—those on No. 4 will go as far as Harper's Ferry, and on the west bound train, the troops will go as far as Keyser's. It is thought that the departure of these trains will break the back of the strike. Warrants have been issued for the arrest of ten of the ringleaders of the strike, but the authorities will not disclose their names at the present.

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 19.—At noon to-day the freight train men on the western division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, refused to go out with their trains.

MARTINSBURG, July 19.—4:45 P. M.—Reached the city limits, the train was deserted, and the train rattle stationary until 4:42 p. m., when it moved out with Geo. Zepp as fireman. He walked up the track with a navy revolver in his hand, followed by his mother, who tried to dissuade him from going. Some of the friends of the strikers ran towards him to try to prevent him from going, when he waved his pistol over his head and marched to the engine and took his place. The train then moved off. Richard Zepp, a brother to George

Zepp, and the chief of the strikers, was arrested by the sheriff, assisted by the military, and lodged in jail.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—It appears from dispatches from the seat of the Indian war, that Chief Joseph trapped Gen. Howard into a talk. Meanwhile his forces, which were critically situated, moved away, and then Chief Joseph followed them, all getting away in safety.

Cotton Convention.

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, July 19.—The convention met this morning, President Phelps presiding. The reports from committees on information, and statistics, on crops and on taxes, were received. The last mentioned report recommends the adoption of resolutions setting forth the desirability of selling cotton in this country in its net weight, and fixing a time, after which such cotton shall be subject to a tax of blank per cent on the gross weight. A minority report on the same subject was submitted, and a spirited discussion ensued which resulted in the appointment of a committee of one from each exchange to report if possible a practicable method by which the resolutions in the majority report may be carried into effect if adopted. A report providing that new types of cotton be made up by experts to assimilate exactly with the present Liverpool standard was debated at length, and postponed till to-morrow. Resolutions were adopted memorializing Congress to increase the appropriation for the Signal Service Bureau, for the establishment of other stations in the cotton States, so as to obtain more accurate information of the rainfall and temperature, also providing that arbitrations on the deliveries of cotton sold on the basis of classification be upon a class only of the fair average staple, and that variations should afterwards be fixed according to the official quotations of the day of delivery; also providing for the appointment of an inspector to examine the condition of cotton at the time of delivery, &c. The convention adjourned till to-morrow morning.

Strictly Pure.

It is well known that while Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder has been made for many years without reducing its standard of perfect purity, there is not another baking powder in the market that can stand the test for purity. Chemists and physicians use Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder in their own families.
