TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Hayes and the Schuetzenfest.

Washington, August 8.—The Schuetzenfest closed with a remarkable speech from Simon Wolf, the President of the Verein. It may be remembered that Hayes, Key and Schurz went to the Schuetzenfest, and that Hayes retained Simon Wolf as recorder of deeds, quite a fat office. A bouquet with Mrs. Hayes' compliments also found its way into the hands of the Schuetzenfest. It is an extract from Wolf's speech: "We, catching the spirit that should animate the capital of a great nation, have tried our best to so beautify and adorn our park as to make it attractive and a resort for the better element. We endeavor to make our annual feasts a shining representation of the joy and enjoyment, mirth and jollity, and if our wishes are not always realized, it is no fault of the Verein, but rather of those who take advantage of the opportunity; and thus we have been held responsible for those citizens who, at other times and places seem to be virtuous and sober, but who in the Schuetzenfest park, throw off their white robes and flaunt through the shady masses in arm with their fallen christian sisters. So notorious has this become, that the Verein, in self defence, will hereafter publish the name of every respectable person thus offending, for we have no desire or ambition to be used as a means for vice or immorality."

John F. Winter has been appointed consul to Berlin. Rear Admiral Leroy sails on October 15th to relieve Admiral Ward, commanding the European squadron.

Key and Devens accompany Hayes to Bennington.

Thompson and Schurz only remain at their posts. Official advices from Winnipeg, represent, sitting Bull's strength at one thousand fighting men. Sitting Bull makes no secret of his intention to renew the war on the Yellowstone. He is accumulating ammunition by theft and otherwise.

Major Runklee, who was dismissed from the service and sentenced to the penitentiary in 1872, in the failure of a court martial, approved by Gen. Howard, has been restored with back pay amounting to eleven thousand dollars. The proceedings were illegal, as the findings should have been approved by the President. It is claimed also that Runklee convinced President Hayes of his innocence.

News from the Seat of the Indian War.

HELENA, MONTANA, August 8.—Mr. McCormick, of Mesquite, writes to Governor Folsom, on the 6th instant, as follows: "A courier arrived from Gen. Howard at 6 o'clock this morning. He left Howard on Saturday morning last, and thinks that Howard will camp near the summit, between the Lola and the Menavater to-night. He is distant about fifty miles from the mouth of the Lolo. The courier reports that Joseph, with more than one-half of his fighting force, has gone to the head of the Bitter Root valley by the way of the Elk City trail, and will form a junction with Looking Glass and White Bird near Ross Hall. He says that Howard has seven hundred and fifty men and four hundred and fifty pack mules, and is moving as rapidly as possible. Advices from the Upper Bitter Root river, say the Indians will camp to-night in Ross Hall. General Gibbon is following them rapidly. Other advices say that the Indians were still at Doolittle, sixteen miles above Corvallis, and that Gibbon expected to strike them on the morning of the 7th before they broke camp. The courier says the hostiles have Mrs. Manuel with them as the property of a petty chief called 'Cacasnillo.' Her sad history is familiar to the public."

Asking for Government Aid.

MEMPHIS, TENN., August 8.—The chamber of commerce last evening appointed a committee to memorialize the Secretary of War to place four or more snag boats, on light draft, to work in the Arkansas river, to remove snags which have wrecked many boats during the past season. Resolutions were passed asking Congress to repeal all duty on cotton mill machinery; and also the adoption by the general government of a judicious system of levees, outlets and cut-offs for the reclamation and protection of lands in the Mississippi river and its tributaries, and inviting the co-operation of all towns and cities from Cape Girardeau to Port Bards, in this memorial.

Suicide of a Young Lady.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., August 8.—Miss E. T. Burke, a wealthy young lady of Cleveland, O., was missed from her room in Oakland Beach hotel this morning. Her body was found in the water. She probably jumped from the second story window of the hotel and drowned herself. She was in poor health.

The Coolest Act of His Life.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 8.—This morning, Leslie Hanks, who killed John E. Daily yesterday, was found dead in a cell of the city prison. By some means unknown, he had obtained possession of a Springfield rifle, a number having been stolen from the prison. Placing the muzzle against his bosom, he pulled the trigger with his foot. He left a note saying that his suicide was the coolest act of his life.

Misery Among the Bulgarians and Turkish Fugitives.

The Meeting Between Emperors William and Francis Joseph.

Austria's Position With Reference to Russia Explained.

LONDON, August 8.—The Times' special, dated Shumla, August 7th, reports that the Russians are concentrating a force on Lom river. An attack on Rasgrad is thought imminent. The Times' special from Thessaly, says: "It is officially reported that the English embassy at the Balkans are no longer on the side of the Balkans."

The Times' Vienna dispatch contains the following: "According to official news from Constantinople, Mehmet Ali intends to convert Rasgrad into a fortified camp. The forces concentrated in the neighborhood of Rasgrad consist of forty-eight battalions of infantry, fifteen batteries and eighty-two squadrons of cavalry, altogether forty thousand men."

The Times' Adrianople dispatch states that there is appalling misery among the Bulgarian and Turkish fugitives from Esht Saghra and the neighborhood. There are from ten to fifteen thousand of whom five hundred are wounded and many dying on the road from exhaustion and starvation. All are destitute of every necessity of life.

An occasional correspondent of the Times at Vienna says that the assertion is untrue that Russia has asked Austria permission to march troops through Servia. It is far more probable that Servia will spontaneously take the field to repay Russia for past services. The news from Belgrade does not admit of any doubt that every measure is being taken to enable the Servians to be on the frontier in a fortnight, apparently. The fact of Servia's taking the field will be regarded at Vienna altogether otherwise than had it occurred some weeks ago. Count Androssy will accord Russia's beaten many advantages he would have had to refuse Russia victorious. At most he will occupy Bosnia and thus bar the western roads to the Servians.

The Times' Belgrade correspondents say that it is rumored that Austria will consent to Servia and Russia will occupy the western part of Servia. Two high Austrian officials have arrived in Belgrade.

The Times' Vienna correspondent states that the interview between Emperors William and Francis Joseph will be purely private. No ministers will be present.

The Manchester Guardian's Pera correspondent telegraphs as follows: "I have received a dispatch from Yarn stating that the Dobrudzha is believed to be completely clear of Russians."

Mutiny of a Crew.

MARTHA'S VINEYARD, August 8.—This morning a crew, composed of negroes of a recruiting schooner, at anchor off Oak Bluff, mutinied, stole what money was on board and deserted the vessel in small boats. They landed at the bathing beach, smashed the boat and departed. The captain is endeavoring to work the vessel around to the Vineyard haven.

The Maine Convention.

BOSTON, August 8.—An Augusta, Maine, dispatch says there is great interest manifested in the State convention which meets there to-morrow. The attendance will be large, and a lively discussion may ensue on the resolutions. It is thought the majority will favor strong Republican resolutions, ignoring the administration and its policy.

New Advertisements.

To the Public.

IN Yesterday's Observer, an advertisement appeared under the heading of SWINDLING, in which Mr. W. Chalk charged that there is a miller in the centre of town who has been using weights on his scales that cause every one who purchases a single bushel of meal to lose ten to fifteen cents.

As I operate a mill in the centre of town, and as Mr. Chalk complained to me of my scales, I must presume that he alludes to my mill.

The transaction with Mr. Chalk was this: He purchased a certain quantity of corn from a farmer, directed him to leave it at my mill to be ground into meal, and that the meal should be sent to him. My miller, Mr. Pace, received the corn, counting 56 lbs to the bushel, ground it and sent the meal, at 48 lbs to the bushel, to Mr. Chalk. When being weighed on the same scales. All received by Mr. Chalk, there appeared to be a difference of some forty pounds to the lot. Mr. Pace's statement explains itself. Mr. Chalk applied to have that amount accounted for which I declined, feeling confident that my scales were accurate; but to avoid any possibility of mistake I immediately applied to the standard keeper to test my scales which he did, and I append his certificate of the result, which demonstrates that Mr. Chalk's insinuation (if meant for me) is egregiously false and recklessly made. Let a fair minded public judge.

I certify that I ground Mr. Chalk's corn, and that both the corn and meal were weighed on the same scales and that every pound of meal going to Mr. Chalk was sent to him from the miller.
