The Deusche Zeilung of Berlin, states that Prince Gortschkoff has, by anticipation, declined all mediation. The Times' Belgrade dispatch says that 50,000 Russians are about entering Turkey through Servia. The Times' Vienna special says:

"The departure of Mehemet Ali from the centre of his army for the left wing looks as though an advance from the Lom is again to be made from that

A dispatch from Vienna to another paper confirms the above, and says that Mehemet Ali has gone to Giorra Sondlar, and that an action is impend-ing to the west of Elki Djuma.

RUSSIAN HEADQUARTERS, Peredin, September 10. Our batteries cannonaded Plevna all Sunday. The Turks made a considerable sortie against our left wing, but were repulsed, losing heavily. The Roumanians made a bold reconnoisance of the enemy's redoubts, which opened a heavy fire, but were silenced by a concentrated fire from our batteries. The position of one of our siege batteries was changed on Sunday evening to enable it to cannonade the Turkish encampment. Heavy cannonad-ing continued throughout the night, and has increased in extent and activity from 5 o'clock this morning. All is quiet at other points of the theatre of war. At the capture of Lovatz, we took two Turkish standards, and a quantity of arms and ammunition. We buried 2,200 Turkish dead. Large numbers were sabred by our cavalry during the pursuit. Our loss was 1,000.

Russian Headquarters,
Poredin, September 11—5.20 A. M.—
Our siege batteries cannonaded Plevna all Monday, and until late in the night. The left wing under Gen Skobeloff captured another of the neighboring heights, which will enable us to bombard the enemy's positions and the town of Plevna itself. The enemy opposed Gen Shobeloff very feebly. Our cavalry on the Sophia road has defeatcavalry on the Sophia road has defeated a detachment of Circassians from Plevna. Two Steamships Collide in the English Channel and Ninety-Six Lives are Lost.

London, September 12-12 M.—Information of a terrible disaster in the English Channel has just been received. The British ship, Avalanche, Captain Williams, from London, September 4th, for New Zealand, collided with the British ship Forest, Captain Lockhart, from London, for New York, off Portland, and both vessels foundered. Ninety-six persons were drowned. The Forest was in ballast, and had a crew numbering twenty-one. Captain Lock-hart, the chief mate, and seven others were saved. The Avalanche had a crew of thirty-two and fifty passengers. The third officer and two seamen only were saved. ADDITIONAL PARTICULARS.

Forest struck the Avalanche between the main and mizzen mast, nearly cutting her in two. The latter sank immediately. The Forest, though uttery wrecked, kept afloat an hour or two. Three boats launched from her, only one of which has yet been saved. It contained the twelve persons already mentioned as saved. One boat has washed ashore and also several bodies. Other boats, it is feared, are lost. The Avalanche had sixty-three passengers, twenty-six saloon, seventeen second class and twenty third class, mostly colonists. The accident occurred at half-past nine last night, seven miles off Portland.

BINKERS ASSOCIATION.

First Day's Proceedings-Election of Officers.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12 .- The third annual convention of the American Bankers' Association begun at Association Hall to-day, about one hundred members being present. Charles P. Hall, of Boston, called the convention to order. He spoke of the time of the panic, which had depressed business interests and caused great shrinkage in values. He thought the dark period had passed, and with splendid crops, and a large surplus which will be wanted by Europe, that the country was again on an inclined plane to prosperity. The time had come when burdens with which the banking business was trammeled should be dispensed with forever.

The News' Vienna correspondent says it is announced from Galatz that from August 24th to September 7th, 40,000 men and 6,000 horses, to reinforce the Russian armies, passed the Burboschi bridge. Of fifteen batteries included in the above reinforcements, half are already at Plevna.

FRENCH AFFAIRS.

London, September 12.—The Daily Newspaper's correspondent says: "The sentence against Gambetta and Murat concludes as follows: 'It is ordered that judgment shall be executed immediately, notwithstanding opposition or appeal.

"According, however, to the French code provisional, execution applies only to fine, and Gambetta is not liable to immediate imprisonment. Gambetta's object in allowing judgment by default evidently is to delay final judg-ment on appeal until after the elec-tions, when his privilege as deputy will protect him from arrest, and even according to the President's opinion, lead to his liberation, should he be imprisoned."

THE PROHIBITIONISTS.

They Will Not Link Themselves With Democrats or Republicans, but Commend the President.

It adopted the following:
Resolved, That we have in the administration of our national affairs, gen tlemen whose patriotism and statesmanship we can trust, and that we most heartily commend the course of our President in adhering to his promises, and putting into execution wise and expedient methods for the reform of our civil service, and the establishment of a permanent union, peace and prosperity thoughout our land.
