THE PRESIDENTIAL PROGRESS.

The Reception at Louisville—Wade Hampton Speaks.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 18.—After Everett concluded, the President announced his pleasure at being able to introduce to his fellow people a man well known to all, Wade Hampton, of South Carolina. Fully five minutes elapsed before Gov. Hampton could speak, so loud and long were the cheers given him. He said:

My President and My Friends of Kentucky.—I congratulate you upon this auspicious occasion, and upon the magnitude of the reception which we have given to the President of the United States. [Applause.] There is no place in America where the thing could have been better done, and I am sure that there is no place in America where it has been better done than the city of Louisville. [Applause.] There is no place where it could have been done more appropriately, because the political opinions of a majority of the people of Kentucky are different from those of His Excellency.

You have shown that you recognize in him a man who has done his duty; a man who has risen high enough to be able to say that "the server his party best who serves his country best"; that is a sentiment which ought to find a response in the breast of every patriotic American. You have come to pay him honor, and I regard myself as extremely fortunate in that I have been able to participate in it. Without disrespect to the gentlemen who invited me to this reception, I must say that I came chiefly that I might—for I am a Southern man—extend a warm greeting to the President as he struck Southern soil; as he stood on the once dark and bloody ground of Kentucky—no longer so, but as I trust in God, here, as well as elsewhere, a land of peace, prosperity and happiness—peace and prosperity which he has given you. My friends of Louisville, I thank you in the name of South Carolina, and I will say to His Excellency that if he will do us the honor to visit us there, we will give him a greeting as warm as this. Though perhaps we can't show him as many men, we will show him that we have not forgotten that act of kindness, of reconciliation and of justice, that he performed for South Carolina.

Another Fight with the Nose Pierced Warriors—A Painful Lack of Particulars—Crazy Horse Dead, but Lives in the Hearts of his Countrymen.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—The following telegram has been received at the War Department:

"CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—E. D. Townsend, Col Sturgis, commanding the 7th cavalry, under date of near Yellow Stone Mountain, September 13, reports as follows: 'We have just had a hard fight with the Nez Perces, lasting nearly all day. We killed and wounded a good many and captured several hundred head of stock. Reports are not yet in and I cannot give our loss, but it is considerable. A number were killed and a good many wounded.'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.

The Paris Le Temps states that Prince Napoleon will arrive to-day at the Chateau de Davre in the province of Normandy, on a visit to the Duc de Fernan Nunez, who is allied through his wife to the Montijo family. He will remain there under the pretext of hunting. The Daily News' Paris correspondent says his coming so near the French frontier during the electoral period occasions remark. There are some who think he is dreaming of the laurels of Strasburg and Bologne.

Terrific Storm in Texas.

HOUSTON, Sept. 18.—A storm similar to that of September, 1875, struck Galveston at an early hour this morning, prostrating the wires and covering the bridges with water, thus cutting off all communications.

England's Wheat Crop.

LONDON, September 18.—The Market review of the wheat market concludes: "The few arrivals of new American winter wheat which have reached us have been of an excellent quality and in perfect condition. Inquiries are now being made for spring wheat, and buyers are anxious for the first arrivals, so that they may form their own opinion as to whether the crop in which so much interest is taken, will bear out the excellent character accorded it."

Preparing for Winter—The Turks Get the Key to Shipka Pass.

It Doesn't Look at All Like Peace.

LONDON, September 18.—The Central News has a dispatch that two Russian gunboats in the Kida mouth of the Danube were attacked by a Turkish iron clad, and one gunboat so badly injured that it had to be abandoned and destroyed.

The Duty of a Woman.

To be attractive is a duty which every lady owes to herself, to her domestic circle, and to society. Not only should she endeavor to please in dress and in apparel, but whenever possible, in complexion and in feature as well. Facial embellishment is to a lady as proper, and oftentimes as necessary, as are the adornments of her raiment, the artificial grace of her conversation, or her demeanor, or other meretricious attractions upon which depend so much of her dominion and influence over man. The woman who permits herself to become unlovely who resorts herself heedlessly to the ravages of time, and the spoliation of her charms, visits upon her friends and admirers a sorrowful regret, that it becomes her to avert to the last day. Of this social duty it may truthfully be said that she can best acquit herself by the use of Gouard's Olympean Cream. No other preparation approaches this in excellence, in harmlessness and purity, or compares with it in the number of spontaneous testimonials that its virtues have elicited. Its advertisement has hitherto been its merit, its recommendation by all that have used it, and not by sound and pretentious advertising in the journals of the day. Large bottles price reduced to $1.

New and Then.

It is only now and then that such men as Hon Alex H Stephens, Ex-Gov Smith and Ex-Gov Brown, of Ga., endorse a medicine for the throat and lungs, and when they do it is pretty good evidence that the remedy must be good for the cure of coughs, colds and lung affections. They recommend the GLOBE FLOWER SYRUP, and their testimonials are to be seen in the ten cent sample bottles of the Globe Flower Syrup, for sale by all druggists in Charlotte. A sample bottle receives the worst cough and will cure sore throat. Regular size bottles, fifty doses, $1.

Charlotte and Chester Houses,

Saturday, September 22, 1877.

Then will be presented all the new additions, changes of shape, and every new feature possible to be secured to our CLOTHING. The thorough individuality and artistic excellency of our styles have constantly been remarked upon, while the favorable acceptance of our garments and the perfect and universal satisfaction they have given has been most gratifying to us. We in return for this remarkable, but we trust, deserved support, shall continue to work for the interests of our patrons.

Our Charlotte and Chester houses are under one management. The styles, fabrics and prices are the same. We distribute our favors equally; show no partiality, and make it our sole aim that every patron shall receive full value for his money and proper treatment in each and every transaction. Those who have not already discovered the advantages we offer in fine custom-made and medium grade garments for men, boys and children, and the very moderate prices at which the same may be purchased, we trust will take the time to call on us in person, and we desire the inspection of the most cultivated tastes, feeling assured that our new stock will meet all their wishes. It is not necessary to wait until the opening day to see the large portions of the new styles, as we always work in advance, in order to have every thing in readiness on the day and date spoken of.
