TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

SENATOR PATTERSON.

He Writes A Card—Gov Hampton's Requisition for Him will be Honored.

WASHINGTON, October 5.—The following is found in this morning's New York Herald: "To the Editor of the Herald: Will you be kind enough to correct the statements in your Washington letter in the Herald of the 1st instant, relating to me? I can't imagine who started such a report. I do not propose to dodge anything. I have for months said I would support Mr Hayes' administration by my votes in the Senate and still intend to do so. Between the President and myself there is, as far as I know, the kindest feeling. When Gen Butler was elected Senator last winter, I said I would vote for his admission and I intend to do so boldly and cheerfully. I propose to ask the Senate to investigate the charges contained in the indictment against me, but shall attend the sessions of the Senate as punctually as I always have done."

[Signed] J. J. PATTERSON. WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Judge Carter, Supreme Judge of the District Court of the District of Columbia, to-day received a requisition from Gov Hampton, of South Carolina, for United States Senator J. J. Patterson. Judge Carter has examined the indictments, certificates, &c., and will issue a warrant for Patterson's arrest. A technical objection appears in the requisition which will probably necessitate returning it before any definite action is taken.

Steamer Sunk—High Tides.

NEW YORK, October 5.—The steamer Massachusetts, from New York to Providence, went ashore near Horton's Point, Long Island Sound, at 12 o'clock last night. She lies about four hundred feet from the shore full of water. The passengers are all safe, and will be landed by the next ebb tide.

The storm reached here yesterday afternoon, and in the evening became furious. The weather is clear this morning. There were very high tides yesterday which, with torrents of rain and gales, did much damage along the water fronts, and also in Newark, Jersey City and Brooklyn. It also interfered with ferry and railroad travel.

GREEN POINT, L. I., October 5.—The Massachusetts lies near Horton's Point. The sea is not breaking over her. The surf is rolling up 6 to 8 feet high. The passengers are being landed by surf boats and sharpies. The steamer has five life boats on board hanging on davits not in use. The cause of her going ashore was the loss of her reckoning in the storm. The opinion is that she will go to pieces. Much of the cargo, consisting of bales of cotton, oil in barrels, and general merchandise, was thrown overboard. The boat lies about 300 feet from the shore. Seventy-five lady passengers were on board, and behaved bravely throughout. The first passengers were landed by Charles Clark and Daniel Mallison, of East Marion. The fishermen of Green Point and East Marion are doing service with their sharpies landing the passengers, rowing to and from the boat. The life boats used are hauled through the surf by ropes. A bawser with a cradle, rigged for landing passengers, is also connected with the lip of the bluff, but it will not be necessary to use it. Two hundred passengers in all were on board. The ladies are all landed, and all will be safely ashore by 1 o'clock. They will mostly return to New York by train on the Long Island Railroad.

DEATH OF THE RAIL.

Accidents Caused by the Heavy Rains—Many Lives Lost and Much Property Injured.

POTTSVILLE, PA., October 5.—The Excelsior train from the Pennacker reunion, held near Schererville, yesterday, on the Pottsville and Valley Railroad, when near Phoenixville last night, between 9 and 10 o'clock, was badly wrecked by rains washing out the track for some distance. There were about 200 persons on the train. Up to 9:30 this morning dispatches show that twelve persons were killed and about fifty wounded. Owing to the confusion and excitement, it is impossible to obtain any names or the exact number killed and wounded.

FRENCHTOWN, N. J., October 5.—Three persons were drowned in the wreck of the south bound Oswego and Philadelphia express on the Belvidere division of the Pennsylvania Railroad last night—the engineer, conductor and a lady passenger, name unknown. There may be others. The train lays in the river some distance from here, where it was washed by the force of the current of the creek. The newsboy, baggage master, fireman, and several others, saved their lives by swimming, and reached the shore much exhausted.

Telegraphic Briefs.

A Richmond, Va., dispatch says all the streams have risen, owing to the storm. Some damage is done to railroads by washouts.

Archbishop Bailey's remains will be put on the palace car "Ocean," and attached to the limited express train which leaves New York at 9:30 a m and arrives in Baltimore at 3 p m.

An accident to the passenger train south on the Wilmington & Northern Railroad last night, was caused by the track being washed away above Coatsville. The engine was upset and engine driver, Amos Pascock, was killed, and his fireman badly scalded.

The Locust Hill Oil Works, at Williamsburg, caught fire at 9 o'clock last night, and were damaged to the amount of $15,000.

Rev Wallace Duncan, of Wofford College, S. C., has been elected president of Randolph Macon College, in the place of his brother, Rev Dr James A. Duncan, recently deceased.

THE WAR.

Germany Demands that the Principles of Humanity shall be Exercised by the Turks.

The Result of Mukhtar Pasha's Battles Indecisive.

The Total Russian Loss in the War—Bad Crops.

A Full Description and Numerous Accounts of the Battle Before Kars.

CONSTANTINOPLE, October 5.—Mukhtar Pasha's dispatches report Wednesday's fighting indecisive. His outposts were driven in and the fighting resulted in the killing and wounding of 5,000 Russians. The Turkish loss is not stated. The Porte in a dispatch to its representatives abroad claims that Mukhtar gained an overwhelming victory.

The Times' Rustchuk special, Oct 3d, says: "A renewed bombardment by the Russian batteries at Giurevo has inflicted an enormous damage upon the town of Rustchuk. A great proportion of the houses are in utter ruin. Only a few remain. The entire encampments, however, are intact. The health of the garrison and inhabitants is good, and the casualties few."

LONDON, October 5.—The Daily News' special from Vienna, says: "A trustworthy report from Berlin states that by Emperor William's special orders a note has been sent to Constantinople very earnestly urging that the principles of humanity should be no longer violated. The note does not exactly threaten the Turks, but leaves no doubt of the high indignation felt, and that the German government does not intend to remain silent and indifferently to look on the outrages which have been perpetrated."

LONDON, October 5.—Russian officials acknowledge the loss of 52,000 men up to September 27th.

The Russian grain crop is disappointing in quantity and quality. The wet weather in August and the scarcity of labor are the causes of a short crop.

Further particulars of the battle before Kars make it evident that the Russians assault the Turkish positions along the whole line and were repulsed with a heavy loss. The success gained on Tuesday in the capture of the Great Yagni Hill, claimed by the Russians and conceded by the Turks did not compensate for the failure at other points of the line, and the positions carried have since been abandoned. Notwithstanding the dilatory and fragmentary character of the dispatches, enough reached us to make it apparent that the main action was fought on Tuesday. The Turkish line extended from the Great and Little Yagni, two fortified hills in the Kuruk-dag plain, as far as Am on the Arpa-chai River, with the centre advanced toward the river, and resting on Keselip. The Russians had been reinforced both by new troops and those lately employed against the Caucasian insurgents. They commenced battle at day break on Tuesday, by an assault on the Great Yagni, which is the extreme outwork of Mukhtar Pasha's fortifications, about twelve miles due east from Kars. Here the Turks seem to have been taken by surprise, as much as the Russians were when Mukhtar Pasha won Keselip from them, and compelled them to abandon the fortified camp at Kuruk-dag. A single Turkish battalion defending the Great Yagni, was cut to pieces or captured after two hours' obstinate defence, which gave the Turks an opportunity to prepare for the next assault. Up to this point all accounts agree, but regarding the subsequent events, they are very conflicting.

A Turkish official dispatch says: "A great battle ensued, lasting thirteen hours. Repeated Russian attacks were repulsed with heavy loss."

A Russian bulletin from the Grand Duke Michael's headquarters at Karajal, dated 4th inst., says: "After the capture of the Great Yagni, it was found that the Little Yagni was so strongly fortified that an attempt to assault it was considered premature. After thirteen battalions sent from the Turks to reinforce Mukhtar Pasha had repulsed our troops, they fortified themselves in the positions they occupied. Our loss on Tuesday was 2,069 killed and wounded. The enemy's loss was not less. We captured 200 men. Evidently the Turkish account as to the repeated attacks, after the capture of the first Turkish position, is correct. Otherwise there could not have been 6,000 men killed and wounded. The 200 captured by the Russians were probably the permanent garrison of the Great Yagni. The Russians also attacked the centre at Keselip, but were repulsed. Simultaneously, a Russian force moving from the direction of Ani, endeavored to turn the Turkish right and get between Mukhtar Pasha and Kars. This is the movement referred to by the Daily News' correspondent, in a special dispatch from Karajal, Wednesday, in which he says: "Hopes are entertained of cutting off Mukhtar Pasha from Kars."

Of this affair, a Turkish bulletin says: "After five hours' fighting, a Russian force consisting of six battalions of infantry and three regiments of cavalry were driven back and pursued to the banks of the Arpa-chai." A Russian bulletin says: "A lodgment was effected on the Turkish right flank, and a Turkish attack on the next day, Wednesday, was brilliantly repulsed, and the enemy driven as far as the outer line of their camp. The Russian loss here was three hundred killed and wounded." From these conflicting statements, it is quite apparent that the lodgment effected by the Russians was not of any importance, since a subsequent assault by the Turks only resulted in the latter being driven to the outer line of their camp. The loss was also insignificant.

"Finally," the Turkish bulletin concludes, "we have gained a brilliant victory, and inflicted a loss of over 5,000 on the enemy."

The Russian bulletin concludes, today, Thursday: "Our right flank will withdraw from the positions occupied by them on Tuesday, on account of the difficulty in obtaining a supply of water."

FROM WASHINGTON.

Clarkson N. Potter's Speech—Personal.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 5.—Hon Clarkson N Potter, chairman of the New York Democratic Convention, in the course of his speech, said: "It is indeed as fortunate as unexpected, that the minority candidate thus wrongfully installed in place should have adopted a course toward the Southern States at once constitutional and wise and just."

Everts and Thompson were away from the cabinet. Randall and Morrison are here.

Yellow Fever.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., October 5.—There has been no death at Fernandina to-day. Nine new cases are reported. Capt Murch, of the schooner Emma McAdams, is reported to be dying. Dr Simmonds, of Charleston, arrived at Fernandina to-day. Mayor Riddle is improving.

There are twenty-seven cases of yellow fever at Port Royal—twenty-one whites and six blacks. Five new cases yesterday. Mayor Allen telegraphs the mayor of Augusta for assistance. He says: "We are suffering for medicine, nurses and provisions."

Now and Then.

It is only now and then that such men as Hon Alex H Stephens, Ex-Gov Smith and Ex-Gov Brown, of Ga., endorse a medicine for the throat and lungs, and when they do it is pretty good evidence that the remedy must be good for the cure of coughs, colds and lung affections. They recommend the GLOBE FLOWER CROCH SYRUP, and their testimonials are to be seen round the ten cent sample bottles of the Globe Flower Syrup, for sale by all druggists in Charlotte. A sample bottle relieves the worst cough and will cure sore throat. Regular size bottles, fifty doses, $1.
