The House is unexpectedly quite full. The committees were also in session, but did nothing. The Ways and Means committee referred the question of relieving the savings banks from taxation to a sub-committee of from taxation to a sub-committee of five. The committee was full and had a colloquial discussion over the tariff and revenue.

Over forty Senators were in the chamber before the Senate was called to order. A great part of the morning hour was taken up in the presentation of a large number of petitions from various parts of the country in favor of the adoption of the sixteenth amend-ment, prohibiting States from disfran chising persons on account of sex. All were referred to the committee on Privileges and Elections.
