Laid on the table, the bill having been reported to the Senate.

Beck, of Kentucky, submitted a concurrent resolution declaring that it is unnecessary and inexpedient to impose the taxes at this time asked for by the Secretary of the Treasury to provide $37,000,000 for a sinking fund, and directing the Sec'y not to purchase any more bonds for liquidation of the public debt until directed to do so by Congress.

Laid over for the present and ordered to be printed.

They were the work of man. He reviewed at some length the various financial acts of Congress, and in regard to that of 1869, "to strengthen the public credit," said it should have been called an act to increase the burdens of the people, as it was intended to bind them to the payment of the debt in coin. He hoped it was the purpose of Congress now to lift up silver, the much abused metal, which God had decreed should serve man as money. It has been urged that the act of 1873. to be printed.
