Resolved, That the committee on Commerce be, and is hereby, author-ized to take into consideration the expediency of so improving the inland navigation between the waters of Norfolk barbor and Currituck, Albemarle and Pamlico Sounds, and also the Cape Fear river, as to furnish a safer and better channel of commerce between the States than those now existing, and that said committee have leave to report by bill or otherwise. Mr Ransom, in explanation of the resolutions, said they had been suggested by the melancholy loss of the Huron and the Metropolis on the coast of North Carolina. He spoke of the dangers of that coast, but said that he appreciated the power of the federal government, the advantage of science and the skill of engineers, and said he had faith that this dread curse to our shipping might fall under them. Hatteras stood as an ocean Blue Beard, leading to the chamber of death gallant lives—vessels of all descriptions, from the poor Indian's canoe to the proudest vessel of our n vy, had been wrecked there. We paid a half million dollars for a ship and she went down on that coast, with a burden of young and gallant life. He alluded to recent reports in regard to the people of North Carolina not had made careful inquiries about the matter. The reports were grossly false and had been denounced by the citizens of Currituck county. He knew the people that lived on that sea and wind ridden beach. They were honest, virtuous and humane.

resolutions further protest against the manifest injustice of discriminating in favor of some industries and against others. They appeal to the sense of ustice and fairness of the members of Congress in contending with them for the same benefits to the chemical industries which are accorded to all others, and petition the Ways and Means committee not to propose to Congress any measure of legislation affecting the interests of manufacturing chemists, which, from the diversity and peculiarity of their processes and products, cannot be familiar to those not versed in them without first giving a hearing to the representatives of those inter-

In the passage relating to foreign affairs the Emperor expresses the hope that a speedy peace will enable the principles of the Constantinople conference to be applied and durably lasting. The comparatively slight partici-pation of Germany in Eastern affairs allows the empire to display disinterested co-operation in the arrangements that may be made by the powers concerning future guarantees against threats of trouble in the East, and for the amelioration of the condition of the christian populations. Meantime, the Emperor's policy has attained its object in as much as it had continually contributed to the preservation of peace between the European powers, and the relations of Germany with all powers remain not only peaceful, but

Moreover, Russia believes this would facilitate a speedy disposal by the conference of the important questions it would have to deal with, in the interest of a lasting peace and of humanity.

A Dead Lock Broken.

ELIZABETH, N J, Feb 6 — The dead lock in the city council, which commenced on January 1st, was broken last night by a compromise between the Democrats and Republicans. After PHILADELPHIA, Feb 6.—At a meeting of the drug exchange resolutions were adopted asserting that some provisions in the tariff bill will disastrously affect the interests of a large portion of the membership located in Philadelphia and other sections of the country. The resolutions further protest against the manifest injustice of the Democrats and Republicans. After a midnight session in the committee of the Whole the salary ordinance was passed. All offices were filled, and the bond ordinance, issuing $450,000 for rebates on wooden pavement assessments, passed by a large majority. The Republicans fill all the appointed offices except two.
