Anderson said that he considered his case cruel percution under the forms of law; that he was in the power of the court, and Turks have yet received no invitation was ready to receive sentence. Judge Whitaker answered the accused, telling him that he had had a fair trial before an impartial jury, and that the verdict was justified by the evidence. He then sentenced Anderson, in consequence of the recommendation of the jury to the mercy of the court, to the lowest term under the law-two years at hard labor in the State penitentiary and costs. A suspensive appeal appeal was granted, returnable on Wednesday. A motion to transfer the cases of Wells, Kenner and Cassanave to the United States court was filed, and will be heard on Wednesday, March 6th.
