On each arrival of the mail from Charlotte crowds rush to the postoffice, hastening good Squire Beatty, the postmaster, in their eagerness to get the Observer, which, by the way, wields in this community a power of influence for good. This good old gentleman, who has voted the straight Democratic ticket for fifty years or more, was on his wagon, going to mill, when he heard that the Governor disappointed your old friend, Jimmie more, was on his wagon, going to mill, when he heard that the Governor would pass through, and though he has seen him a hundred times, he said, "I can't go any further until I see Leb-bie." Patiently did he wait until the train passed, and reluctantly wended his way homeward, too soon for the Governor and too late for the mill

The principal subject now agitating the mind of the public is the proposed narrow gauge railroad from Danville to this place. Dr McCorkle and Mr W L White, delegates to the recent convention, held at Wigston, have just

Fraternization of Northern and Southern Meth-

Editor Charlotte Observer-I notice in a late issue of your paper a remark to the effect that the present session of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South in the city of Atlanta, Ga, is one of pe-culiar interest, because the question of the re-union of the Northern and Sou-thern Methodist Churches will come up for determination. You will permit me, sir, to inform your readers that no such question is before that body. You will permit me to add a a little more: Immediately after the separation of the two Churches in 1844 there were grave disputes as to property matters between them. Other causes of alienation, chiefly traceable to our late war, arose. For some time fraternity was unknown between them. But at the Southern Methodist General Conference at Louisville, Ky, four years ago, fraternal delegates were appointed to attend the Northern Methodist General Conference at Baltimore two years ago. Fraternal delegates from the Northern Church were received at Louisville. At that conference, too, fraternal commissioners were appointed, five in number, to meet a similar number from the Northern Church, to arrange for a basis of formal fraternity. This commission met and accomplished its object. Our difficulties have all been amicably set-tled; formal fraternization is a fact. Organic union, though, has never been considered since the separation, and may never be. Yours, J. Lemacks Stokes. Fort Mill, S.C., May 20, 1878.

The Seat of Senator Butler q

[Washington Special to Baltimore Sun.] While no formal resolution has yet been passed to that effect, it is generally understood that the Republican manifority of the Senate committee on Privileges and Elections will report that Senator Butler, of South Carolina, is not entitled to the second not entitled to the seat which he holds in the Senate, but that it belongs to Mr Corbin, the Republican contestant. The report when made will of course be accompanied by a minority report in favor of Mr Butler. It is not likely that any action will be taken on the report at this session, neither is it likely that Mr Butler will ever be unseated.

A Mystery Indeed.

Why Democrats trouble their heads about New York Times dispatches is a profound mystery to us.

SCHENCK IN THE WEST.

He Is Endorsed for Chief Justice by the Democrats

Editor Charlotte Observer :-

I was present at a meeting of the Democratic party of Madison county to-day, May 18th. The following resolution was offered:

"Resolved, That this convention recommend Hon David Schenck for chief justice, and our delegate to the State convention is instructed to yote this county accordingly."

Dr Jesse Wallin moved to strike out the name of David Schenck and insert W N H Smith.

J M Gudger, Jr, opposed the amendment in a speech of about ten minutes. While he said nothing in disparagement of Mr Smith, his advocacy of Mr Schenck's claims were very strong and marked with ability.

Dr Wallin then followed, saying that it was due to Governor Vance that we endorse his appointment.

Col McElroy advocated the claims of Mr Schenck.
The amendment was lost, and the resolution, as originally introduced, adopted. I find in talking with men from every portion of the west that David Schenck is their choice. It is also the impression that Captain Shotwell deferred his attack purposely until Schenck started for Cherokee to hold court, knowing that he could not answer until, perhaps, it would be too late, but "the best laid plans of mice and men" are often disappointed in their nefarious objects. So in this several days at a time to afford conve-nience to lawyers and their clients. Does he not deserve some gratitude from the people of Mecklenburg? He was triumphantly elected Judge of the Superior Court four years ago, and he has done noth-ing since then to forfeit public confidence. The political and personal accusations made against him now were then made, and he then satisfied the public, in public speeches, that he was misunderstood or misrepresented. No returned, and report that the road will be built without delay, and that Mooresville will undoubtedly be the terminus.

Instruction of misrepresented. No man can truthfully say that he has done anything since then to forfeit public confidence. He has nothing to do with the late unfortunate controver-The commencement exercises of the Mooresville Academy, which are to come off on the 6th of June, forms another subject for the juvenile portion of our populace, while among the ladies the engrossing theme is the various delicacies, such as ice-cream, lemonade, fruits and confectioneries which the Ladies' Aid Society advertise they will offer for sale at the commencement. They claim that the hungry and thirsty soul shall eat, drink and delusion. The writer has not always delusion. The writer has not always been a Schenck man, but he is new because he believes it right and just to be so in the present contest. Every Radi-cal in the State of North Carolina is engaged in denouncing and opposing Judge Schenck—why should any Democrat co-operate with them? MECKLENBURG.
