Col Jones admitted Wednesday night, in a conversation in the presence of several gentlemen, that Col Steele had designated the very day ists' Hotel," Buffalo, N. Y. was not in town that day and hence he did not consult me as to the time sulted by Col Jones as to the time or place of the convention. In returning rom the State convention at Raleigh he stated to me that the district convention would not be held until just before or after the August election; that this was the wish of Col Steele's friends, to have it so postponed. To Jones in Charlotte, the 17th was fixed upon as the day of the general convention without my knowledge or con-

REPLY TO COL JOHNSTON'S CARD.

Above is published another card from Col Wm Johnston, late an aspirant for Congress from the sixth con-gressional district. I publish this card as it is written, because I desire to do Col J the strictest justice. I reiterate what I have said previously: that so far as I know the convention was not called in Col Steele's interest, any more than in Col Johnston's, and district had already held conventions, and appointed delegates, and it was I believed then and believe now, that an early convention was more favorable to Col Johnston's chances. Col alty on the first Monday in May, and while he was doing all he could to secure the nomination, it was nearly two months before Col Steele could leave Washington, and confer with his friends personally in the district. Col Johnston certainly had this much the start and if he feiled to make good

Col Johnston was fairly in the field for two months, and I again state that believed the time fixed would be satisfactory to both of the aspirants. The time fixed is just two weeks before the State election, and I claim that the statement to Col Johnston is made

In regard to Col Johnston's statement that he was in Charlotte, and could have been consulted on the day when the time of the convention was fixed, I over three weeks from this time.
