To be a served under Democratic Control. The leading Democratic Senators point to the fact that from its earliest history it has never been the custom of the United States Senate to parcel out the few offices at its disposal as a reward for real or fancied political services.

It is a well known fact that the Republican majority in the Senate, even when party feeling was most bitter, made no movement to interfere with the tenure of some of its officers whose Democratic proclivities were notorious. The sentiment now is that notorious. The sentiment now is that it will be the proper thing to retain such of the subordinate officers of the Senate as are faithful and efficient. Of course the present secretary and the present sergeant at arms of the Senate will be superseded, but political considerations will not to any great extent enter into the appointment or removal of the employes of their respective offices. Indeed, it is believed to be the case that so far as the force of the sergeant at arms is concerned the Democratic Senators have now as many if not more appointments than many if not more appointments than the Republican Senators.

In regard to the office of secretary of the Senate it was stated to-day by the friends of Mr Henry Watterson, of the Louisville Courier-Journal, that he is a candidate for the position, and has already received such assurances from the Democratic Senators as to leave already received such assurances from the Democratic Senators as to leave no doubt of his election. It is general-ly understood that Mr John G Thamp-son, the present sergeant-at-arms of the House of Representatives, and a warm personal friend of Senator Thur-man, will be the successor of Mr French as sergeant-at-arms of the Sen-

Is It a Tragedy?

[Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution.]

Thomaston, in this State, is struggling with something of a sensation. On the 28th of last February, Mrs Bettie Irvin, the wife of Mr Andrew Irvin, died under circumstances that excited the suspicions of the neighbors. These, and the subsequent conduct of the husband, have finally led to action on the part of the authorities. Last week the remains of the unfortunate woman were exhumed, and the coroner sumwere exhumed, and the coroner summoned a jury of inquest. The evidence before the jury is rather startling in what it suggests rather than in what it reveals and the history of the case, as detailed before the jury, might well serve as the basis of a tragedy as dark and as deliberate as those that form the frame work of the sena-that form the frame work of the senasational novels of the day.

The testimony is to the effect that Irvin and his wife did not live happily together. There were frequent quarrels between them, though Mrs Irvin is represented to have been a very meek and timid woman. Her mother, Mrs Butler, festifies that on one occasion she found her daughter in tears, and was told that the trouble had been and was told that the trouble had been about a Miss Matthews. Mrs Irvin died very suddenly, and those who saw her immediately afterwards found her lying with her head on her right arm, and her face and neck blood-shotten. The witnesses who testify to the appearance of the dead woman say that her husband celebrated the event by going about the house singing. It was in evidence that Irvin had previously purchased opium and laudanum, ostensibly for his mother-in-law, Mrs. Butler, but that lady in her evidence denied that Irvin had ever bought either of these drugs at her request. While he was accompanying the remains of his wife to the grave, Irvin

O'Hara, the colored Republican nomines for Congress in the second district, is under indictment in several mounted his mule and rode away in the direction of Geneva. Altogether it is a strange case.

Dy an immense practice, extending through a period of years, having within that time treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and agreeable medicine that meets the indications presented by that class of diseases with positive certainty and exactness. To designate this natural specific compound, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The term, however, is but a table expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon my own personal abservation. As a close observer, I have, while witnessing its positive results in the taw special diseases incident to the separate erganism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, sare, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly and in harmony with the laws which govern the female system, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician. Nay, even more, so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguing expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the allments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell if under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. If a beneficial effect is not experienced by the time two-thirds of the contents of the bottle are used, I will, on return of the bottle, two-thirds of the medicine having been taken according to directions, and the case being one for which I recommend it, promptly refund the money paid for it. Had I not the most perfect confidence in its virtues, I could not offer it as I do under these conditions; but having witnessed its truly miraculous cures in thousands of cases. I feel warranted and ing witnessed its truly miraculous cures in thou-pands of cases, I feel warranted and perfectly safe in risking both my reputation and my money on its merits.

The following are among those diseases in which my Favarise Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhosa. Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing Down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Misoarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impatency, Barrenness, or Sterility, Female Weakness, and very many other chronic diseases incident to woman not mentioned here. In all affections of this nature, my Favorite Prescription works cures—the marvel of Prescription works cures—the marvel of the world. This medicine I do not extol as a cure-all, but it admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition. Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in The Feorle's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections. FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
