The Dime Novel's Victim. No college lad was he who had winged His man on the campus green, But he carried a pistol spite of that, And his age was sweet fifteen. Wild tales he had read till they fairly made The blood through his young veins shoot, Of "The Red Rover" and "Dare Devil Dick," And "The Arkansas Wild Galoot."

OBSERVATIONS. Philadelphia belles at Cape May say: "Bring me me hat; I'll walk for a couple of squares on the beach with me mother." A precocious little girl surveyed a dusty avenue the other day, and remarked to her mother, "Mamma, I should think if I was made of dust I should get muddy inside when I drink."

Life-preserving Rules: 1-Never disturb a dog when he is eating. 2-Never interrupt an editor when he is reading proof. 3-Never call upon a housewife when she is up to her elbows in a wash-tub. Backward, turn backward, O time, in your flight; let me remember when last I was light. Wife at the window, her ma at the door; you all know how it is who have been there before.

An English medical authority says the man who blows the big horn in a band rarely lives beyond a period of three years. This is about two years, eleven months and twenty-nine days longer than his next door neighbor wants him to live.—Norristown Herald. A Chicago young man having asked to be excused from jury service in a murder trial, through fear that he would lose his position if he served, the judge declared that he would fine and imprison for contempt any person who should discharge an employee for such a reason.

Hon Geo H Williams, of Oregon, Attorney General of the United States under President Grant, says there is a general feeling as far as his observation has extended that Gen Grant should receive the Republican presidential nomination, and his opinion is that if Grant is nominated he will be the next President. With the ex-Attorney General the wish is doubtless father to the thought. Particulars of the Arrival of the Liberian Immigrants.

By several neat tacks the Azor had been brought close into shore, and one by one her passengers went over the sides which had confined them for so long, disposing themselves as snugly as possible among the baggage in the boats, amid a vast deal of vociferous swearing and gabbling from the Kroomen. The Liberians had somehow become possessed with the idea that the Azor's people were generally independent capitalists, coming out to invest their funds in the country. Consequently there was some disappointment at the appearance of the emigrants, which, to put it mildly, was not suggestive of wealth. They were well received and welcomed at the landing, however, and immediately conducted to the houses prepared for their reception in different parts of the town, what furniture they had along being hung on the heads of King beds. Whatever else may be said of the Monrovia, they certainly displayed great kindness to the strangers, who were in many instances totally destitute of provisions, sending them cooked meals and delicacies for the sick liberally and continuously. In this way only a suffering avoided. This was no light matter by the way, as provisions are fearfully high and hard to get. The people in the country seem never to think of producing anything to eat beyond their own immediate wants, and hardly that. Although there seems to be plenty of cattle, they are usually owned by the natives, who never kill them unless they are obliged to do so, as cattle, wives, brass ketles and iron bars serve them just as bonds, stocks and real estate do Europe and American moneyed men, as permanent investments, and outward and visible signs of wealth. Cassada, the great staple of the country, sells at 50c per bushel, a bushel of the roots being about equal to a bushel of sweet potatoes; yams sell at the same price. Fresh meat is almost impossible to get. Eggs are exceedingly scarce, and very small ones sell at 25c each. Eggs are 3c a piece by the dozen. American pork is $14 per barrel. English canned meats and vegetables are 50c per can. English onions bring 12c per pound. That is about all the Monrovia bill of fare, and it is largely procured from English mail steamers, which nominally pass twice a week.

A Description of the Independent. [Reidsville Times.] For ourself we have no faith or political respect whatever for them. There is nothing positive about an independent except that he wants office. His very aspect is haggard, his clothes hang loose, and he looks uncertain whether he has his own coat or somebody else's. He talks out of both corners of his mouth, and his frantic attempt to ride both sides of a sapling would laugh a funeral procession out of countenance. Before the war we never heard of but one independent in politics and him we happened to know. He was pale and wrote poetry, and finally went crazy about a woman.

Delicious Cookery. Light white, wholesome biscuits, rolls, bread and elegant cakes, waffles, doughnuts, muffins, and griddle-cakes of every kind, are always possible to every table by using Dooley's Yeast Powder.

STATE NEWS. Asheville professes to be full of visitors. The grand lodge of Good Templars of the State meets next week at Newberne.

A coon was treed in the streets of Wilmington, Thursday. Fact, says the Review. The Review says the water in the sound near Wilmington is so hot that it is scalding the crops to death. Maj J M Blair, the well known hotelist, is now caterer of the Swannanoa Hotel at Asheville.

Ground was broken Wednesday preparatory to the building of the Second Presbyterian church of Raleigh. Hon Jesse J Yeates, Capt Octavius Coke and Mr Jas E Moore have been speaking, the past week, in Beaufort county. Forty thousand watermelons have been shipped North so far this season by Mr Coburn, a large trucker near Beaufort.

Col Duncan K McRae, who is on a visit to Wilmington, will deliver a lecture for the benefit of the Whiting Rifles, Tuesday night. In Asheville last Friday, as the Pioneer states, Geo Bierunsky and G W Stepp, mechanics, had a fight. G cut S's ear in two with a saw and made a severe wound on his arm. Salem Press: The Young Men's Christian Association of recent organization, is rapidly increasing in numbers. Over 60 members are enrolled, and the association is conducted on non-sectarian principles, free to all.

Salem Press: On last Friday, during a severe thunder storm, Miss Lou Crouch, in the employ of Mr Jo Jones, of West Bend, Yadkin county, met with a sudden death. She was engaged in ironing and had stepped to the door, when she was instantly killed. At Hookerton, Greene county, on the 23d, a crowd of negroes jumped on Elijah Parrott, a colored Democrat, and were near beating him to death, when he drew a pistol and shot three of them. The correspondent of the Raleigh News, who furnishes these facts, alleges that Parrott acted solely in self-defence.

Greensboro New North State: We understand that the law school of Judges Dick and Dillard will open on the first Monday in August. A large number of applications for admission have been sent in, and there is promise of a good attendance at the next session. Prof Kerr, the State Geologist, has been to Bald Mountain. The Asheville Pioneer says he agrees with Prof Clarke that there is no limestone foundation underneath the gneiss. The last theory about the disturbances is therefore erroneous, if these scientists be correct.

Washington Press: One Bill Brown, on Thursday last, attempted to commit rape upon a child about 9 years of age, the daughter of Jackson, living about four miles from town. Brown went to the house for the purpose of borrowing a shovel, and finding no one at home but the child, committed the deed. He had a hearing before the magistrate on Saturday, and the evidence was so conclusive of guilt that he has been committed to jail to await the Superior Court. STATE POLITICAL ITEMS. Henry T Farmer is an independent candidate for Senator in the counties composed of Haywood, Transylvania and Henderson. There is some talk of Tourgee running for Congress in the Greensboro district. The Radicals think that Winston, the greenback candidate, will draw off enough votes from Scales to give them a chance. Wilmington Star: Giles Mebane evidently writes something. Give him a bone. He says he will not interfere with the election in any way, and intimates very clearly that if elected as an independent he will gladly serve.

The Silver Dollar. [Richmond Whig.] There have been many evil prophecies about the silver dollar, and even its best friends have feared that the enemy of Secretary Sherman would make it a failure as a means of relief to the people. But since the 17th inst the United States Treasury has received orders from various parts of the country for over $1,000,000. Additional orders are being received daily, showing that the people only need slight encouragement in order to take kindly to the standard silver dollar. The Treasurer says he hopes to place in circulation at least four million standard silver dollars during the next three months. In regard to the charge that Secretary Sherman is permanently retiring the one and two dollar notes as fast as they are received in exchange for silver, he is reported to have said: "The Treasury is making no effort to reduce the amount of ones and twos. We issue ones and twos to whoever wants them in payment of any lawful demand against the government. If a draft for $100,000 was presented, and it was wanted in ones and twos, we would pay them."

A Card. To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c. I will send a receipt that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a mission from South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV JOSEPH T INMAN, Station D, Bible House, New York City, may 30 daw if

The Secret of Business Success. It is claimed that Vanderbilt exhibited great nerve and shrewd business sagacity in the purchase of stocks and railroads controlled by him. Yet, whenever he made an investment he received in return an equivalent either as his own, or as collateral security. Dr R V Pierce has invested many hundred thousand dollars in advertising, depending entirely upon the superior merits of his goods for security. The unparalleled popularity of his family medicines, and the annual increase in their sale, attests in arguments stronger than words of their purity and efficiency. If the blood be impoverished, the liver sluggish or there be tumors, blotches, and pimples, Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will effect a speedy and perfect cure. If the bowels are constipated use Dr Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. Debilitated families suffering with those peculiar dragging-down sensations and weaknesses, will find Dr Pierce's Favorite Prescription a safe and certain remedy. Prompt relief, and a permanent cure have so universally followed its use, that the doctor now sells it under a positive guarantee. OAKLAND, Douglass co, Oregon, January 23rd, 1877. Dear Sir—Your Golden Medical Discovery has cured my daughter of colic, after many physicians had failed. Induced please find $1.50 for a copy of the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser. With us it takes the place of the family physician. Yours truly, AARON ALLEN. Mr VERNON, Ohio, July 10, 1876. Dear Sir—Four bottles of your Favorite Prescription has entirely cured my wife. We employed three different physicians and many remedies, but found no relief. With a thankful heart, I am ever your friend, AUGUST WARRING.

BEAUTY! OR, THE Secret of a Fair Face.

MAGNOLIA BALM. An Item of Interest to Every Lady who Desires to be More Beautiful than she now is. Unfortunately not one woman in a hundred, subjected to the whims of an American climate possesses that basis and starting point of real beauty—a pure and clear complexion. What nature has thus denied, art must be called upon to furnish. It can be done; it is done daily. Prof. W. E. Hagan placed beauty within the reach of every unbleached daughter of Eve when he discovered that surprising article known in fashionable circles as the true secret of beauty, and called
