Club Life in New York. In 1860 there were only ten respectable clubs in New York, according to the Standard of that city, there are now forty-six, but of this number only sixteen are prominent and socially influential.

The Safe Way. [Greensboro's New North State] We happen to think of a man of property and bibulous habits who used to stagger around among the boys and set up the drink.

A CHANGE IN THE CABINET. The Secretary of the Navy to be Made Attorney-General. [Washington Post, 1st.] Rumors were again rife yesterday that the head of the navy department will soon resign his position.

Compensation of Postmasters. [Washington Republican, 30th.] Under the operations of the law which changes the standard for estimating the salaries of postmasters at the smaller offices from the amount of stamps sold to the amount of stamps cancelled the department has observed a wonderful diminution in the amount of stamps cancelled by such postmasters.

How Far Off the Sun and Moon Were. At the time of the sun's total eclipse, Monday, at Denver, the moon's distance from that city was 235,625 miles; her distance from the earth's center being 238,536 miles.

The Rutland (Vt.) Herald, of Saturday, says: "An eminent legal luminary, who is also an intermittent preacher, spoke recently in the argument of the time when 'God and his ark rested on Mount Sinai,' a speech that indicated 'how a man may be an earnest and able theologian without knowing much about the chronology of the Scriptures or the geography of Palestine.'"
