ELECTION, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 10TH.

CONVENTIONS AND PRIMARY ELECTIONS—HOW SHALL WE NOMINATE CANDIDATES?

The result of the election of last Thursday is fraught with lessons which may well be taken to heart by the politicians and the people. It is undeniable that the Democratic organization was more seriously threatened from within than it has ever been since its organization in North Carolina. Many men whose devotion to it had, up to this time, been unquestioned, boldly declared their independence of its edicts and its usages, and the cry of "packed conventions," "ring caucuses," etc., etc., went up from one end of the State to the other. We have already discussed some of the causes which led to the disaffection and apathy which it were foolish to deny existed in many of the counties, and now we come to consider the tendency of the nominating conventions in this direction. They had largely to do with whatever measure of disintegration the party has experienced. In a majority of cases we have no doubt they performed their work honestly and reflected the sentiments of the people. In counties where this was the case, independentism got no foothold and made no headway for the reason that it had no food upon which to live. But in other counties they were conducted in a manner simply disgraceful, and in a number of these instances the managers have been stinging rebuked at the polls. Men animated by ambitious motives, and reckless of the consequences of their action upon the party and the public weal, have worked upon plastic delegates and caused them to misrepresent the people whose chosen representatives they were; aspiring candidates have traded one with another to defeat the public will and further their own ends; by unfair chairmen, false rulings have been made, and by "carrying things with a rush," as they are pleased to term it, the politicians have drowned out the voices of more modest men and then promulgated their own action as the expression of the will of the people. This mode of proceeding has disgusted the quiet, sober-minded masses, and they have protested at the polls, in more cases than one, and to good purpose, against having foisted upon them men who, with the assistance of a few loud-mouthed strikers, have nominated themselves for the offices of their choosing. We admit the liability of the convention system to the evils with which it is charged of being susceptible. We admit a wide-spread disgust with and indignation against it, and in the face of these objections it behooves us to inquire, What is the remedy?

KINDLY SENTIMENTS FOR OUR PEOPLE AND OUR GOVERNOR.

In all that pertains to the well-being of North Carolina the Virginia press, we have long observed, always takes a lively interest. Toward our distinguished executive, too, the press of our sister State has always expressed itself most warmly. In the course of a lengthy editorial article upon the result of last Thursday's election in this State, the Petersburg Index Appeal, of Monday, says: "We make no apology for independents, for whom we have as little use and in whom we place as little faith, as anybody else in the country, but it is proper to state, as the North Carolina papers do, that many of the 'independents' are not Radicals, although not elected on the regular party ticket. Parties and party ties have been considerably confused and mingled during the whole fight, and the main question has seemed to be, after all, whether Vance or Merrimon was preferred for the Senate. We conclude from the number of regular nominees that have been elected that Vance will have a majority in the Assembly, and will probably be elected to the United States Senate by an easy victory. We desire, by the way, to express our sincere sympathy with the Governor, in the domestic affliction which he bears, during this period of political agitation, in the serious sickness of his wife. That she may be restored to health and strength, to participate in the great triumphs of her husband, is the earnest prayer of a great many friends of Governor Vance, in Virginia and throughout the South."

REPUBLICAN NEWSPAPER NEWS.—The Register, the Republican organ at Raleigh, has petered out. John Gorman of the Asheville Pioneer, who ought to be good authority in this case, says Loge Harris smothered it, and says that Col. W. B. Richardson will start a new Republican paper there this month. Richardson was one of the editors of the Constitution, the fragment sheet which made the campaign against Vance in 1876. He is industrious and bitter and, like "Brooks, of Sheffield, is sharp."

The Hillboro Recorder is very much dispirited over the result of the election in Orange. "The prestige of Orange county," it says, "as the keystone of the Democratic arch is gone, and it may be forever." Our contemporary certainly contributed its best efforts in behalf of its party, and can have no occasion for regret as to the manner in which it discharged its duty. This it did ably and faithfully, and the people of Orange have "sinned against light and knowledge."

The bill reflecting the bankrupt act goes into effect September 1, and, therefore, parties disposed to operate under the old law have little more than three weeks' grace. On the last day of this month the filing of petitions must stop.

BOSTON'S ALLEGED "WORKINGMEN."

The Insane Resolutions Passed by a Crowd of Kearneyites on Monday Night. Boston, August 6.—The following resolutions were adopted at the Kearney meeting last night: WHEREAS, This Republic, instituted for the avowed purpose of advancing and conserving the interests of the masses, has been reduced to a plutocracy that employs Republican and Democratic parties in the perfidious work of establishing a thieving monopoly and class privileges, which sap the blood of national industries so that it can be lapped up by the vampires of capital; and WHEREAS, All laws enacted that are not in the direct and open interest of the producing and labor classes, are crimes against the spirit and prosperity of this Republic, for which legislation should be branded with the infamy of criminal imprisonment; and WHEREAS, An infamous, if not criminal, class of legislation has been heaped upon the industries of the nation by political parties until the burden has become a torture of the masses from which there is no escape except by uniting the mutual interests of all classes in such political action as will give them their rightful control of national legislation; and WHEREAS, The great and efficient apostle of the laboring classes of California, who comes among them for the noble purpose of uniting them, as he has united their brethren in his own State, in that political action which is necessary to restore this government to the just and humane principles for which it was instituted, so that the prosperity of this people may be re-called and firmly established;

Kearney, in his harangue last evening, used much of his vocabulary to vilify the associated press, reading from the San Francisco Chronicle a dispatch which he attributed to the association. No such dispatch was sent from this office. The only dispatch we have sent beside the simple announcement of his arrival and the programme for the meeting last evening, was a report of an interview between Butler and Kearney furnished by K's private secretary, and afterwards peddled out to the Boston morning papers for $5 each by said secretary.

Serious Situation on the Mexican Border.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—In the Cabinet to-day the Secretary of War said news has been received by the War Department from the Rio Grande to the effect that several Mexican companies were being organized for the purpose of repelling raids across the river by United States forces. It is regarded that matters are approaching a serious condition in that section.

The orders to General Ord as frequently stated remain in force and the raiders upon this side of the river will be followed into Mexico beyond doubt, though the wish of this government is that there will be no occasion for any future crossing by our soldiers. The discussion of the matter was interesting but it was not considered that any necessity exists at present for any additional orders to the American forces. Occasions of a startling character would be attended to as they arose.

Meeting of the Creditors of R. M. Bishop & Co.

New York, August 6.—At a meeting of the creditors of R M Bishop & Co, grocer, in Cincinnati, their assets were stated at $256,828. A committee of six was appointed to investigate the affairs of the firm. The failure is attributed to heavy depreciation of real estate. Referring to the rumor that Governor Bishop's electoneering expenses in the last campaign had something to do with the failure, his son, it is said, stated to the creditors yesterday that Governor Bishop's campaign expenses did not exceed $6,500 and that he had not drawn over $150 from the firm since he has occupied the gubernatorial chair.
