WALTER L. STEELE, of Richmond.

ELECTION, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 5TH.

"APPLES OF GOOD IN PICTURES OF SIEVER.

When the saturnalia of Radicalism swept over the State of North Carolina in eighteen hundred and sixtyeight, forty thousand North Carolinians had been disfranchised by the unjust, ungenerous legislation of the Federal Congress, and ninety thousand colored men were enfranchised, who, up to this time, had never known what it was to exercise, the right of suffrage. Under the impulse of the moment thousands of the people declined to exercise the right of the ballot, and the triumph of Radicalism was complete. Carpet baggers and political hucksters took possession of our State government and our States finances. For a time they revelled in their ill-gotten gains, and made our institutions a shame and our ballot-box a lie; piled mountains of public debt upon our shoulders and tarnished the good him his well-earned political honors. name of the Old North State, which had always been noted for her political moral and social integrity.
