"Free from the doting scruples that fetter our free-born reason."

OUR CONGRESSIONAL TICKET.

SIXTH DISTRICT: WALTER L. STEELE, of Richmond.

ELECTION, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 5TH.

In another column we publish the platform of the new Greenback party, as declared by a recent national convention in Washington City, which in substance is a re-adoption of the Toledo platform, with such points added as it is thought will catch a few more votes. It has gained little or no headway in the South, except among Republican politicians, and disgruntled, sore-head Democrats, who from their very inferiority have been denied a seat high up in the synagogue of their own party. While its influences have been imperceptibly felt in the South, it is strong in the West; Missouri, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio being particularly affected, while in California, under the name of the Kearney movement, it has gained such headway, as to begin to shape

The dissatisfied soul of Beast Butler is most unhappy when he is not astride of some hobby, and he is just now pluming his feathers for a ride into the gubernatorial chair on this particular one. In New York, and several other of the Northern States its influence is quite perceptible, while Tennessee is the only Southern State where it seems to have effected any lodgment. In a local election in Memphis the other candidates. On investigation here, however, local issues were found to have entered more largely into the compaign than was expected, and the result proved not so much a victory for the new candidate for public favor, as the defeat of the regular ticket.

Parties are not made in a day, and those who are ready to swing off into unknown and unexplored political field, would do well to remember that there are, and can be but two political parties in this country. Other seed may be sown, but much of this seed will fall in stoney places, and when the germ has been fertilized into life, the heat and giare of public investigation will cause it to wither and die.

We have read this platform carefully and find in it little that has not been contended for by the Democratic party for the past ten years. We of course refer to the main features. In substance it wages war upon the principles of the Republican party, and if it ever gains any strength it must come from that party, but when that day comes, if it will make common cause with us against our common foe, we shall be pleased to acknowledge it as

The first article in the platform declares that the two present great political parties-Democratic and Republican-are so completely under the control of office-seekers, professional politicians, &c, that they are no longer fit to be trusted with the government. If we have failed to make this charge against the Republican party in even more emphatic terms, it has been because we do not understand the English language. That it is true of the Democratic party in a national sense, cannot be so, because the Democracy have not been in power in the Federal the presidential chair seventeen years ago. The principles of the Democratic party are living vital truisms, crystalized into axioms, it we could make it tem of our government, and when the Greenback party asserts that intelligent, pure, good men only should be elevated to office they but re-echo eyery Democratic platform which has been annunciated for the past ten into power, as they will two years learn a better lesson from their experi hence, that they will institute such reforms in the administration of the government, as will be necessary and most beneficial to the masses of the people. The bid made to the laboring classes in London, August 10.—A Vienna disthe Greenback platform is merely the ples of the demagogue for a lease of power, and in the classic parlance of the day is "too thin to hold water."

Ben Butler for instance likes to be on the side of the poor laboring man, the ty-thousand dollar yacht, or charge a ed the candidacy of Schemnitz. five thousand dollar lawyer fee, with unanimously elected deputy for Sepsino move. A curious thing is that the equal suavity. For the present we are Gyoergy.

"To bear the ills we have Rather than fly to those we know not of."

In his race for the Senatorship Sentor Marrimon must rely mainly upon crats, as against Vance, for reasons which are apparent to everybody. That he cannot get any aid from Republicans, forty of whom are elected to he next Legislature, we have steadily believed, but this truth is made more manifest by the following extract from s leading editorial in the last Asheville fight. Pioneer, edited by an orthodox Republican of the straightest sect. Speaking of the way Mr. Merrimon got into the United States Senate, through the back | neutral. door, the Pioneer says:

"It would have been far better for the Republican party had Gov Vance succeeded in that contest and been whole line from Muglai to Heptsche. made Senator, as was the bounder duty. The Turks were defeated. The less of succeeded in that contest and been of his friends to so prefer him. But he did not succeed. By the combined vote of the Republicans and a few dissatisfied Democrats (who have all since by regular officers. Four hundred of the been laid on the shelf,) amounting to mere handful, A S Merrimon was made Senator. He owed his elevation to the Republicans. Without their aid his pretensions and aspirations were a mere sham, With their aid, after a terrible and bitter struggle, lasting for weeks, and through all sorts of abuse and vituperation, he was carried to the highest position which the State could

"The Republicans therefore had a right to expect at least justice and fairness at the hands of their adopted Senator. They had just grounds to believe that he would not abuse them, and that he, coming from their number, and wearing honors and crowned with laurels bestowed upon him by them, (for he could not otherwise have obtained them,) would not resort to detraction and misrepresentation in his seat, which they had given him, of men who had been his fast friends, when his own party had turned their backs upon him and were hourly berating and heaping abuse upon him. We need only refer to the records of debates on the floor of the Senate, and especially to his miserable and pitiable defense of Schenek for shooting the negro in Lincolnton, for proof of what we say. If there is day from an unknown factor, is suddenly carried the day and elected its

"And now Senator M. asks another ature this winter. We trust no Republican in that body will so far sacrifice his self-respect or mortify his manhood by aiding to put him again into a position to bruise us. At least, if he be elected, let it be done by others, not us.
