Ex-Gov. Hayes will visit the fair at Cumberland, Md., October 6th. He appears to be the original fair fiend.—Washington Post. Frank Buckland, the naturalist, declares that bables swim naturally. A friend put one into warm water, and it took to it like a duck, swimping briskly.

They are talking of abolishing funerals in Ohlo. Not that the people will cease to die, but the funeral is expensive and the medical colleges get the corpses anyhow.—Buffalo Express. In the make-up of the modern small boy there is altogether too much whistle for the amount of boy. It is most too much like using a two-quart funnel in a three-ounce vial.—Bridgeport Standard. Meeting a commercial traveller who was pretty full of old Robinson county, Gubbins remarked to his wife: "Tight as a drum, ain't he?" "Worse'n that," she replied, "he's tight as a drummer."

The Massachusetts Republican convention's approval of the "motives" of Hayes' administration is like the recommendation given the deacon, that he was a sound theologian but a terrible swearer. The business of nailing lies has commenced. A good sized orator will nail about a hundred a day, and he will make during the same period about five hundred for somebody else to nail. The weakness is that it creates no demand for nalls.—Chica-go News. "There would be more saloons in this town, said a native, as the train slowed North through Mont-gomery, "if it wasn't for one thing." "And what is that?" asked the tourist. "Ain't any more houses," replied the native; and the tourist opened his note book and remained absorbed in thought.—Burlington Hawkeye. In a flood in Austin, Texas, a man found himself left on a swiftly dissolving bank. He called to his son, who was on high ground above, to throw him a rope. The boy did so, and the old man, as he took one end of the line in his hand, said: "Now listen to me, and do as I tell you. If you find you can't hold on when I commence to climb, let go. It's no use for both to drown, so don't let me pull you down. If you find you can't hold the rope, drop it, run down in the flat, and grab for me as I float by." The boy braced and the father was saved.

In Nashville a man fainted; at Normandy a woman gave birth to a child; in New Orleans a boy got tight on beer, and the usual "great excitement" followed. In the Normandy case, Dr. Cowan was telegraphed for and came on a special engine to find "both doing as well as could be expected." "Lord, what fools these mortals be!"

Memphis Appeal: On Thursday the son of a pastor of one of our churches numbering four hundred members was buried. The son himself had many friends. Who attended that funeral? The parents, themselves just from a yellow fever bed, and two nurses of the son-one an Italian and the other a ne-

Memphis Appeal: "Becton, the mayor of Grand Junction, who ran away from his people when the fever broke out there, and carried away the funds sub-scribed by the people of many of the States, has not yet been heard from. A traitor to his trust, a robber of the dead and the suffering, he should be hunted down, as the thief he is, and placed in the penitentiary of the State he has disgraced, for life.'

A Curious Case.

There has been a curious case on trial in New York, the plaintiff being the proprietor of the Hotel Bristol, and the defendant Mr. Millbank, a gentleman who was not satisfied with the table and quit. Much evidence of an amusing character was brought out, and the merits of butter, gamey game, Saratoga potatoes, pates, and other delicacies were To announce to our friends and customers the arfully disscussed. Several wealthy boarders at Hotel Bristol took the trouble to be present at the proceedings, and their expressed opinion was that the fare at the Bristol was good enough for them or they wouldn't remain there, and that they thought it a very diminutive thing for a man of means to attempt to wriggle out of a voluntary agreement to pay rent by misrepresenting the quality of the fare of the table at which he had often dined. The trial resulted in a verdict for the plaintiff. The landlord told a reporter that the witnesses who testified against him were "beats." He said: "I use the word advisedly." They owe me money for accommodations at the Hotel Bristol, and are trying to beat me out of it. I propose to sue them all. If I had been defeated to-day I should have carried it up. As it is, I shall institute proceedings against the rest of the 'beats.'" of a population of fifteen thousand, there has been a mortality of twelve hundred, with three thousand now ill of the plague, from whose fever-parched lips comes the wailing cry-"Help, or we perish"—a wail which, thank God! has aroused a generous sentiment in every Northern heart, until it has resounded again and again, and in telegraphic throbs re-echoes upon the broad Atlantic's other shore. The Memphis Appeal, whose staff has been depleted from ten to two, says: "Fear sits on every face, and dread on every heart. We work not in the shadow, but in the very face of death. Parents have deserted children, and children parents: husbands their wives, but not one wife a husband." What a eulogy is paid to woman in these few words. Truly we can say with Scott:

What a picture of heroic self-sacrifiing devotion do not these women of Memphis show? In many cases, where roads of escape were open to them, they pushed the tempter aside, and remembering their vows at the altar—"in sickness and in health"-they remain at their post until "death do them part," and over the corpse of him they loved, their sobs are the only requiem, their dead hopes the only immortelles. God bless and avert the fatal scourge from those noble ones who have stood by the loved heart's fire-side and fanned its smouldering embers into flame, or sanctified the dying ashes with the holy dew of wifely tears.

The Cow-Bell Argument.

[Raleigh News.] While the Hon. Joseph J. Davis, the Democratic nominee for Congress in this district, is addressing the people, in a dignified and statesmanlike manner, on the issues before the country. which concern their highest interests, the spectacle presented by the two Radical candidates is in the highest degree discreditable. Perhaps we should qualify this remark somewhat, so far as Mr. Bledsoe is concerned, as he has taken occasion to deprecate the undignified and farcical phase which the canvass, as between himself and Mr. Turner, has assumed, and which has been forced up-That was a rare sight at Clifton's Mill, in Franklin county, as described by Turner with evident pride in his achievement. Moses went there to meet him. Josiah didn't want to be "met." Moses commenced to speak, whereupon Josiah produced a cow-bell and rang it vigorously to drown his utterances. Moses, thereupon, according to Turner's version, commenced to whistle, and so the people had the benefit of a remarkable instrumental and vocal duet, instead of a debate on the questions of the

with one of these pestiferous hand-carts on the sidewalk in less than three minfood in the stomach, preventing its conversion into fat. Taken according to directions, it will reduce a fat person from 2 to 5 pounds a week.

In placing this remedy before the public as a positive cure for obesity, we do so knowing its ability to cure, as attested by hundreds of testimonials, of which the following from a lady in Columbus, O., is a sample: "Gentlemen—Your Anti-Fat was duly received. I took it according to directions and it reduced me 5 pounds. I was so elated over the result that I immediately sent to Ackerman's drugstore after the second bottle." Another, a physician, writing for a patient from Providence, R. I., says: "Four bottles have reduced her weight from 199 pounds to 192 pounds, and there is a general improvement in health." A gentleman writing from Boston, says: "Without special change or attention to diet, two bottles of Allan's Anti-Fat reduced me four and one-quarter pounds." The welltention to diet, two bottles of Alian's Anti-Fat reduced me four and one-quarter pounds." The well-known Vholes le Druggists, SMITH, DOOLITILE & SMITH, of Boston, Mass., write as follows: "Alian's Anti-Fat has reduced a lady in our city seven pounds in three weeks." A gentleman in St. Louis writes: "Alian's Anti-Fat reduced me twelve pounds in three weeks, and altogether I have lost twenty-five pounds since commencing its use." Messrs. Pow-KLL & PLIMPTON, Wholesale Druggists, of Buffalo, N. Y., write: "To the Proprietors of Alian's Anti-Fat: Gentlemen—The following report is from the lady who used Alian's Anti-Fat. It (the Anti-Fat) had the desired effect, reducing the fat from two to five pounds a week until I had lost twenty-five pounds. I hope never to regain what I have lost." Anti-Fat is an unexcelled blood-purifier. It promotes digestion, curing dyspepsia, and is also a potent remedy for rheumatism. Sold by druggists. Pamphlet on Obesity sent on receipt of stamp.

WOMAN.

By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.

To designate this natural specific, I have named it DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION.

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon per-sonal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, singled it out as THE CLIthe organism of woman, singled it out as THE CLI-MAX OR CROWNING GEM OF MY MEDICAL CAREER. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual rem-edy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the aliments for which I recommand it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE.
