Our readers will remember the account given in these columns of the robbing of the grave of the Hon Sect Harrison, in Ohio, last May, the body being found in the dissecting room of the Ohio Medical College. Public indignation justy brands any man as a scoundrel who will rob the grave of the dead. But there are two noted grave robbers in the country, so far from being the subjects of the people's wrath, are universally lauded for ther virtues. The reason is plain. While the former class steal the dead bodies of our loved ones to sub- mit them to the dissecting knife, these only rob the graves to restore the living victims to our hearts and homes. [Shelby Aurora.] Mr. M. L. Carroll, railroad agent at this place, has been missing money from his cash drawer for some time past, and suspicion rested upon Mr. E. B. Curren, the telegraph operator at this place, but there was no positive evidence sufficient to cause his arrest until Friday morning when Mr. Carroll marked some money, put it in the drawer, went off and left Mr. J. T. Bostic in an adjoining room to watch through a port hole. Mr. Carroll had scarcely left the depot until Mr. Curren went to the drawer, unlocked it, took out the money, put it in his pocket and relocked the drawer. He was arrested at once and brought before Justice Love who required him to give bond in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance at court.
