CHARLOTTE, N. C., WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1878.

To an Old Portrait.

BY J. STRICKER BRADFORD. The following lines are from the proof-sheets of a book of poems by a Southern gentleman, shortly to be issued from the press:

In dingy frame, all dark with mold,
Tho' stains and damp its tints efface,
A portrait—stern, and grim, and old;
The type of a determined race:
With calm blue eyes 'neath wrinkled brow,
From earnest thought, where lines of care
Deep furrowed, by the driving plow
Of Time, that furrows everywhere:
With iron jaw and lip compressed,
With ragged beard all streaked with gray,
A noble face, but grief oppressed—
A Puritan, of Cromwell's day.

Say soldier of the olden time, As now, from out thy rusted frame, Thou lookest in this western clime, On fratricidal war—and shame; Are these descendants of thy stock, Who rule the land with iron rod, Such men as first found Plymouth Rock, And landed there to worship God?
Is this the home, where first they raised

Where first their guileless children praised The God, who taught them to be free? Are these, who stain the South with gore, Regardless of the wrong or right, Descendants of those "men of yore," Who braved a boasting Tyrant's might? Blush, soldier, in your dingy frame,
And pray that time and damp may hide

Each feature, as is hid your name, While such inhuman deeds abide; and intercede before that throne, For wisdom—as in old days shown— To those who rule the nation now. August, 1862.

OBSERVATIONS.

A West Hill woman calls her husband 'Darkest Hour," because he comes just before morning. Mrs. Mason, of Georgia, put a shot-gun against her breast, pushed the trigger with a forked stick, and salled up the golden flume.

Full of envy the editor of the San Francisco Exchange exclaims: When a Reno editor lays down a short bit the bartender hands him the demijohn and closes the establishment for the day. A Hartford murderer having made three separate and distinct confessions, finally announced that he was through, and would submit to the death penal-"John writes to enquire how the Ark was pro-celled?" We would say to John that the Ark was

At a Newark concert, if the husband, who is sitting with his wife in the audience, expresses his admiration for the soprano, the wife elevates her nose disdainfully, remarks that she can't see what there is to admire in such a dowdy, and then directs her lord's attention to the handsome legs of the tenor.—Newark Call. tenor.—Newark Call. You know how sad a preacher feels when he stands up in the pulpit Sunday morning and can't see a soul in the house except the sexton and the organ-blower. Well, that's the way the Greenback party in Iowa feels this morning. Do not scoff at the poor Greenbacker. Teil him you feel sorry for

The irradiation of countenance exhibited by a bridegroom at the moment he leads his chosen one before the altar is certainly very beautiful; but, by way of comparison, did you ever observe the face of the man who, taking down his winter overcoat and shaking out the moths, dives casually into one of the pockets and brings up a forgotten quarter. When John Reeve was playing "Bombastes Furloso" at Bristol, England, upon being stabbed by "Artaxominious" he denied the fairness of the thrust, and, appealing to the pit, said, "It is not fair, is it?" A bald headed gentleman, who, probably, took the whole representation to be serious, and to whom Reeve directed his glance, rose and said timidly, "Really, sir, I cannot say; I do not fence myself."

SHOF FROM A CANNON

Miss Geraldine Stands in a Mortar and is Thrown Thirty Feet in the Air.

[New York Sun.] The Aquarium is again opened, after a brief suspension of performances, with new attractions. An excellent double-trapeze act is done by Miss Geraldine and Mons. Leopold, after which is introduced the sensation of the performance-the shooting of the young weman out of a cannon's mouth. Thus is given a literal exemplification of what it is to be "fired out." The cannon seems to be made of wood and is mounted after the manner of a mortar. It stands in front of the stage, pointing at an angle of about thirty-five or forty degrees, between the upturned faces of the spec-At the close of her trapeze act, Miss Geraldine comes down the rope headforemost by twining one leg around it and with her disengaged toe describing an Archimedean spiral. She is then as-sisted to the raised muzzle of the cannon, into the bore of which she slips, feet first, lying on her back. Her head and neck are just visible when the gun is charged. Then she gives the word, the report of the cannon is heard, and she flies towards the spectators, going some twenty-five or thirty feet in a straight line before she drops to the net spread to catch her. When she again steps upon the stage and smiles her acknowlment of the applause, her bright gar-ments are not at all blackened by powder-a fact which is doubtless due to the interior mechanism of the cannon. This act and the performance by the trained horses are to be the attractions at the Aquarium for a season.

Newall, a lawyer of this city, were before the police court to-day on a charge of being about to commit a breach of the ended the correspondence. Newman, however, made the matter known to his friends, who conveyed information to the police authorities, and the result was the arrest of both parties. They were bound over in $1,000 each to keep the peace for twelve months.

Well-Toned Systems,

Systems toned and renovated with Hestetter's Stomach Bitters are most effectually defended from disease. That supreme invigorant soon overcomes that distressing feebleness consequent upon allments which impoverish the blood and relax the muscles. Vigor, appetite, sleep return to the wasted frame, and every physical faculty gains greater activity through its benign influence. Nor is this all, for the Bitters have ost genial and cheering effect upon the mind of the despondent invalid, which is the natural effect of the increased bodily vitality which they produce. Nervous symptoms disappear in consequence of the use of this medicine, and the evil consequences sure to result from a premature decay of the physical energies are averted. Dyspepsia, liver complaints, rheumatic allments, urinary and uterine irregularities, malarial diseases, and many other disordered conditions of the system, are remedied by the Bitters.

RESUMPTION COMING.

Secretary Sherman Says He Will Have $135,000. 000 in Gold Coin on Which to Begin-A Republican Prophecy.

[Special to the Philadelphia Times.] WASHINGTON, October 19.—Secretary Sherman says that there is not the least anxiety in his mind regarding the suc-cess of resumption on the 2nd of January next. On that day the assistant treasurer in New York will be prepared to pay coin for greenbacks, in sums of fifty dollars or its multiple, to all who come. He said it would be impossible for speculators to make any trouble or embarrass the government in carrying out the law. It is possible that they may carry gold up a point or two, but this will not interfere with resumption. The Secretary says there are now in the vaults in New York over $100,000,000 in gold coin, to say nothing of silver, and that by the 1st of January there will be at least $135,000. 000 of coin to begin resumption with. The Secretary wishes that every important question of the government was as easily disposed of as the resumption of REAUTY: specie payments.

A QUESTION OF MAJORITIES.

Leonard Myers, who is here, predicts that Hoyt will be elected Governor of Pennsylvania by 40,000 majority. He thinks Speaker Randall must be badly frightened, otherwise he would not enter the canvass. He says Randall can be beaten, and that he can only succeed by manipulation of the ballots. Mr. Randall writes to a friend here that his election is beyond question.

Mr. Knox, Comptroller of the Curreny, will defend the national banks in his next report to Congress, and will devote much space to a discussion of the subject. The Comptroller will show that the banks cost less than the old State banks, and are far more useful in the business of the country.

Chas. Wooley, of Cincinnati, is here. and says there is nothing in the cipher telegrams worth denying. He says when the truth is known Mr. Tilden's character will shine brighter than ever Woman Who Has Had Forty-Four Children. [New York Times.] Some persons have given themselves considerable uneasiness lest from the paucity of children born to American parents of late years, the race should die out. Certainly, the size of families, from whatever cause, has been greatly reduced in this country during the present generation. Where there used to be eight, nine and ten children, there are not now more than two, three, or four at most, two being what may called the regular number. There are many exceptions, however, to this rule. A conspicuous exception is Mary, wife of Wm. Austin, now a resident of Washing, who has had 44 children, only 11 of them born alive. She had twins thir-teen times and triplets six times. Her sister, Mrs. Carrie Kinney, aged fortythree, has had twenty-six children, and her husband's sister has had forty-one children, making a total of 111 for three This seems almost incredible. though the figures are vouched for. Mrs. Austin, a native of South Carolina and reared in Tennessee, is the daughter of John G. Klind, a printer. She was extremely loyal during the civil war, and rendered excellent service to the cause by nursing and administer-ing to the sick and wounded in the army of the Cumberland, often going on the field and taking wounded is soldiers from the front where they had fallen. She is a regular physician, and has practiced for twenty-five years, having been one of the first women doctors in the country. She studied medicine in New Orleans under the well known Dr.

Stone. She lost an eye while with the army in the valley of Virginia, received medals for the able and fearless manner in which she had discharged her duty, and was granted likewise a regular commission. She is fifty-four, of good proportions and appearance, and, as may be inferred, of vigorous constitu-tion. Her husband was also in the Union army, and must have been a gal-lant soldier, for he bears the marks of a score of serious wounds, which would have killed any man less tough. The Klind and Austin so prolific that a few memt de families would be welcome it ints to a new and thinly settled country. Where they were progenity would be assured. Mrs. Austin, judging by Napoleon's standard as revealed to Mrs. T. Stael standard as revealed to Mme. D. Stael, is unquestionably the greatest woman in America.

WASHINGTON.

Reported Recent Conference of Democratic Leade -Alleged Democratic Intention to Force an Extra Session-Favorable Reception of Tilden's Letter.

[Special to the Louisville Courier Journal.] Washington, Oct. 18.—The reiterated statement, in the Washington correspondence of the New York Tribune, that there has been a recent assemblage of prominent Democrats in Washington in consequence of its publication of cipher dispatches, is false. These gentlemen did not come by prearrangement, and nearly every one came on his own personal business, and no general consultation took place between them. Senator McDonald came here on the business of the congressional committee, man, Esq., greenback candidate in this district, for Congress, in opposition to Gen. Joseph E. Johnston, the regular Democratic nominee, and Wm. L. Royhe being chairman of the Senate branch.

EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS

Another campaign falsefication is peace. It appears that Royall, who had been canvassing the district in behalf of Gen. Johnston, felt himself aggrieved at some remarks of a personal nature made by Newman, whereupon he opened a correspondence by demanding no organization competent to adopt sists. of Newman if he would receive a chal- such a programme for the Democrats lenge without giving information that | in advance of the meeting of Congress. would lead to his arrest.
