Tramp Outrage in West Virginia.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 29.—Three tramps came to the house door of a farmer named Thomas Lonnon, near Parkersburg, West Virginia, yesterday, and asked for food. The farmer's daughter opened the door but refused the request. One of the tramps struck her a blow in the face, pushed open the them and decamped. They were pursued but succeeded in making their escape into Ohio.

Strike of English Agricultural Laborers. LONDON, October 29.—At a meeting of agricultural laborers in Canterbury, yesterday, to protest against a proposed reduction of wages in Kent and Sussex, it was stated that one thousand laborers had already struck and the number would be increased to three thousand in a few days if the masters thousand and fifteen thousand persons will ultimately be affected in the two counties. The laborers declare that the course of the farmers is oppressive and threaten to emigrate to colonies in large numbers.

THE EAGLE TO THE LION. etary Everts Addresses the English overnment Concerning Outrages on American Fishermen.

Washington, October 29.—The State Department publishes a correspondence with the British government relating to the outrages committed upon American fishermen on Fortune Bay, New Youndland, in January last. Secretary Evarts requests Minister Welsh to say to Lord Salisbury that this government streets of Washington city. cannot but express its entire dissent from the views taken by her majesty's government that our fishermen are subject to the local regulations which govern the coast population of New Found-land in their fishing industry, whatever these regulations may be and whether enacted before or since the treaty of Washington. This government conceives that the fishing rights of the United States, conceded by the treaty of Washington, are to be exercised wholly free from the restraints and regulations of the status of New Foundland now set on authority over our fishermen, and from any other regulations of fishing now in force or that may hereafter be enacted by that government. Secretary Evarts further writes: "So grave a question in its bearing upon the obligations of this government under the treaty, makes it necessary that the President should ask from her majesty's government a frank avowal or disavowal of the paramount authority of provincial legislation to regulate the enjoyment of our people of the inshore fishery, which seems to be intimated if not asserted, in Lord Salisbury's note. mature to consider what would be the ago as 1869, of a pamphlet, which at cution of the treaty of Berlin; but the British government as their con-times, in a leading editorial article, struction of the treaty."

BEACONSFIED ILL.

Condition of the Great Premier.

NEW YORK, October 29.—A London special says the air is heavy concerning the illness of Lord Beaconsfield. The long strain made on his mental powers in not only the matter of the Berlin treaty but in carrying on a more or less acrimonious warfare with Mr. Gladstone, has seriously undermined his constitution. In this critical state of things the cabinet has been summoned to consider what should be done in case threatens to break away from all law of his lordship's death. It is now known that after the last meeting of the cabinet he was attacked by an epileptic fit which nearly had the effect of bringing to an end the eventful career of this remarkable man. So severe was the attack that it was feared his life would be endangered if he were immediately removed. He was therefore compelled to remain for several hours in a waiting room at Hugendon before it was considered safe to transfer him to his carriage. He was driven home WASHINGTON, October 29—The Treasurer of the United States, writing to a sults from the fatigue of this means of transport. The Approaching Elections and the Outrage Mill-Its Effect Discounted.

[Special to the Baltimore Sun.] WASHINGTON, October 27.—The refrain of the bloody shirt has been taken riety, at up with great vigor by the Radical press and speakers, and from now un-til Tuesday week the cry will be unceasing. In 1874 a regular "outrage mill" was set up in the Department of Justice, and outrages were manufactured by the cord and dispatched from here all over the country. The outrage business had a very long and successful run, but it is now dead and buried, and cannot be resuscitated. It enabled the Republicans two or three times to save the House of Representatives, when otherwise it would have been lost to them, but the people have seen through the trick and it cannot be played on them any longer.
