Angus et Anguish—A Fable.

BY THE PHILOSOPHER OF POINT CREEK, KANSAS.

Old man Snyder found a snake,
Frozen stiffer than a stake,
And he tucked it in his breast,
And he buttoned up his vest.
When the saurian became thawed,
Mr. Snyder became chawed,
And in one unbroken stream
He proceeded to blaspheme;
And eradicate the plug
From a little old brown jug.

Then he took a modest snort
Of, perhaps, about a quart,
And conversed as if he—well—
Had profanity to sell.
Year by year with all his might,
Snyder tried to cure that bite—
But he didn't have the heft;
So, one day beside the jug,
He, while heaving at the plug,
Caught the jim-jams and got left.

MORAL.

Any man that is astute, sir,
Keeps his reptiles in his boots, sir;
But its thinner than a wafer,
Yes, sir, bitterer than borax,
To be gnawed about the thorax,
One's humanity to pay for.

OBSERVATIONS.

Song of the dry goods clerk—"Swinging in delaine."—Sat. Night.

"Pale face gim red man chaw?" said John Feyonk, an Indian, at a house in Arkansas. John did not get his tobacco, which made him so angry that he killed the five inmates of the house.

No matter how good-natured a man may be, he will invariably get mad when he discovers that there is no towel in the room, and is compelled to dry his face on the bed-quilt.—New York Observer.

"Satan died here," reads a Pittsburg sign; but it was not until an astute Alleghany Dutchman inquired when he died there that the people understood that they could get satin dyed.

Speaking of dull times, a wicked Mobile man says that a few weeks ago a stranger arrived there and bought a bale of cotton, and a pleasant rumor was at once started that the cotton buyer had arrived, but it only proved to be a Chicago man with the ear ache.—Com. Bul.

There are some days when it is impossible to think, and when it is unwise to try to do so. The mind, like the maid, has whimsical spells of wishing to be let alone to have its own way. Only on certain days are the oracles to be consulted.

A MAN-BABY.

The Remarkable Case of a Man Twenty-two Years Old who is Still an Infant.

[New York Times.]

In the second story of one of the low, rickety wooden buildings on the east side of Chatham street, in humble apartments, there lives one of the most curious of human monstrosities. It is a boy, or man, twenty-one years and six months old, having been born in 1857, that is in all respects, physically and mentally, nothing more than an overgrown infant. Its parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jacques Jenn, of No. 165 Chatham street, industrious French people. The child was born on the 10th of June, 1857, and was christened Jule. Up to his eighth month he did not differ from children; but at that age he was taken sick with measles, and for six months it was thought that he could not live, one childish disease following rapidly upon another. His last ailment, and the one to which his parents ascribe his deformity, was one that baffled the attending physician, and is described by the father as "the English disease." Both physical and mental growth seemed to be arrested by this disease. The boy is not quite three feet high, but measures four feet around the waist, being inordinately corpulent. His head is well-shaped, but looks much too large for his body, being more than two feet in circumference. His hands and feet are exceedingly small, like those of a one-year old infant, and he weighs 100 pounds. Every effort has been made to educate him, but he is not capable of learning anything. When he was ten years old he was scarcely two feet high, but weighed almost 100 pounds. The physician who attended at his birth predicted that he would not live to be fourteen years old, but he is now in good health. The boy's skin is remarkably soft and white, like a baby's. All of his habits are childish, and he can speak only a few words, such as "papa," "mamma," "yes," and "no." His extreme corpulence prevents him from walking, but he is very active with his hands and feet. He amuses himself with childish toys, and is very shy when strangers are about. Ex-Police Surgeon Baker, who has watched the case closely for several years, says that it is the most wonderful case he ever heard of. The boy has been examined by a number of scientists, who have all come to the conclusion that he is a perfect baby in mind and body. His father has been approached by many showmen, who were adxious to add the boy to their list of attractions; but Mr. Jenn has declined every offer, not desiring to have his son exhibited to the public.

The Recent Attempt on Andrassy's Life.

[Philadelphia Times.]

Count Andrassy's attempted assassination is not a fresh outbreak of what Lord Beaconsfield has styled the "moaning wind in Europe," socialism; it is strictly the result of the excited condition of public opinion in regard to questions of imperial policy. Austria is in a condition of violent ebullition; is bubbling over with bitterly pugnacious party feeling. The occupation of Bosnia, in direct opposition to the will of a very large portion of the people, has shaken the empire to its very centre, and matters now have been brought to a crisis by the defiant action of the Austrian delegation. The attempt to blow up the chancellor is not, probably, the culmination of any conspiracy; it is simply arather pronounced manifestation of personal ill will toward the policy that the chancellor has marked out and is battling hard to carry through.

A Fragrant Telephone.

[Chicago Tribune.]

There is at the West-Side Pump Works a man who is probably more impressed than any other man in the country with the wonders of the telephone. It happened in this wise: One of the telephone companies had just completed connections between the two pumping-works, and yesterday afternoon the first communication was had. At the North-Side Mr. Cregier called out:—"Hulloa!" The man at the West-Side answered back: "Hulloa!" "Is that you, Henry?" asked Mr. Cregier. "Yes, sir," answered Henry. "Been eating onions, haven't you Henry?" Much astounded, Henry said: "Yes," and, turning to a by-stander, remarked in a bewildered way: "Hanged if I knew you could smell through this thing!" He had been eating onions.

An Astonishing Fact.

A large proportion of the American people are to-day dying from the effects of Dyspepsia or disordered liver. The result of these diseases upon the masses of intelligent and valuable people is most alarming, making life actually a burden instead of a pleasant existence of enjoyment and usefulness as it ought to be. There is no good reason for this, if you will only throw aside prejudice and skepticism, take the advice of Druggists and your friends, and try one bottle of Green's August Flower, your speedy relief is certain. Millions of bottles of this medicine have been given away to try its virtues, with satisfactory results in every case. You can buy a sample bottle for 10 cents to try. Three doses will relieve the worst case. Positively sold by all druggists on the Western Continent.

The Tax on Tobacco.

[Washington Star.]

Notwithstanding the protest of Commissioner of Internal Revenue Raum against the proposition, the Southern and Western tobacco manufacturers will make an earnest effort to secure a reduction of the tobacco tax from twenty-four to sixteen cents per pound. It will be remembered that the House last year passed a revenue bill making, among other reductions, a reduction of the tobacco tax. It is now with the Senate finance committee. Mr. Barwell, who represents the Southern tobacco men, arrived here to-day, and feels confident that the tobacco movement will succeed.

"Manuscript for the Press."

[Baltimore Sun.]

A correspondent asks for information how to prepare a manuscript book for the press. There is no mystery about it. Take a good quality of letter or foolscap paper, write legibly, with ink, in as near an approach to book form as possible, upon one side of the paper only, and page as you go on. If writers would take as much pains in preparing their MSS. as printers must take in "setting them up," they would be much more read than at present. Newspapers and magazines often prefer MSS. written upon "slips," say the width of note paper, as compositors are able to handle the narrow paper more rapidly.

☞ CHEW JACKSON'S BEST SWEET NAVY TOBACCO.

A Card.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a receipt that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T INMAN, Station D, Bible House, New York City. may30 daw tf

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a single vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using in German, French or English. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. W. Sherar, 149 Powers' Block, Rochester, New York. oct9 4w

A Remarkable Result.

It makes no difference how many physicians, or how much medicine you have tried, it is now an established fact that German Syrup is the only remedy which has given complete satisfaction in severe cases of Lung Diseases. It is true there are yet thousands of persons who are predisposed to Throat and Lung Affections, Consumption, Hemorrhages, Asthma, Severe Colds settled on the Breast, Pneumonia, Whooping Cough, &c., who have no personal knowledge of Boschee's German Syrup. To such we would say that 50,000 dozen were sold last year without one complaint. Consumptives try just one bottle. Regular size 75 cents. Sold by all druggists in America.
