The skaters had a glorious day of it yesterday. Nearly everybody was on 'Chiffer's pond. The majority of the crowd went out about 11 o'clock and spent the day, scarcely any returning till dark. Another Paper for Catawba.

The Messrs. Warlick, the enterprising young proprietors of the Lincolnton News, will, in the course of three or four weeks, establish a newspaper at Catawba, and have it under the immediate supervision of Mr. Geo. A. Warlick, Mr. W. M. Warlick to continue in charge of the News at Lincolnton. Catawba is one of our best counties; it is made up of an intelligent, reading, well-to-do people, and if any county of its size in the State can support two newspapers Catawba can. The movers of this new enterprise are young men of character and steadiness, and in their undertaking we wish them success.

The New Law Compensating Postmasters.

The Washington Republican says the Postoffice Department is realizing the beneficial effects anticipated from the law which went into effect on the 1st of July, last, changing the mode of compensating postmasters at fourth class offices. The result of the law is that on the amount of stamps canceled on letters mailed instead of on the amount of stamps sold.

The returns for the quarter ended Sept. 30 have just been adjudicated, and show that the total amount of stamps sold during the quarter was $6,407,972, and the pay of postmasters $1,721,241, or 26 1/2 per cent. of the postal revenue for stamps. During the quarter ended on the 1st of June it required 30 1/2 per cent. of the amount of stamps sold to pay the compensation of postmasters.

From these figures it appears that the new system favors to the postal revenue 3.5 per cent. of all the stamps sold, and that the savings at this rate during the quarter ended September 30 was $224,279, or at the rate of $897,116 per annum. It is noticed that the amount of stamps sold during the quarter ended on the 1st of July was $3,817,425 in excess of the amount sold during the succeeding quarters. This excess is accounted for by the fact that advantage was taken of the expiring moments of the old law to secure a few extra stamps on the sale of stamps. A result of the old system was to leave in private hands an undue accumulation of stamps, often obtained at a discount and through traffic and speculation, and as a result it will now be used in paying postage, the postal revenues are likely to suffer for some time to come. This is indicated by the diminished sales for the first quarter after the expiration of the old law.

Railroad Notes.

Railroad conductors and engineers met in a meeting of the Methodist preachers. Two families will come to Charlotte on account of the recent change of schedule.

Col. Baker, the ancient ticket agent of the Richmond and Danville, gave a birthday party for his friends at his home on the 1st of January. He was very polite and accommodating, but being unmarried, he asked the boys to excuse him from telling how old he was.

All the roads have been generally running on schedule time during the cold weather, and no accidents to trains have occurred.

Mr. Perkins, late of Richmond, Va. has been appointed an inspector of the Richmond & Danville Railroad at this point.

To Col. A. B. Andrews, superintendent of the North Carolina Railroad, members of the Legislature are indebted for a report on the condition of the freight train between Greensboro and Goldsboro, connecting both ways at Greensboro with the day train for the through line, arriving here at 11:15 a. m. and leaving at 6:45 p. m.

It is given out that the Carolina Central Railway Company and the people of Hickory have entered into a "combination" by which they are to raise $100,000 to build a branch of the Carolina Central from Lincolnton across to Hickory, there to tap the Western North Carolina Railroad.

Maj. J. W. Wilson, president of the Western North Carolina Railroad, has in his annual report to Gov. Vance to be by him submitted to the Legislature at its approaching session.

The Richmond & Danville train left Greensboro night before last fifty-four minutes behind time and reached there in his annual report to Gov. Vance late. It was Capt. Jordan's train and Engineer Kirkham was at the throttle. The run of 13 miles between China Grove and Concord was made in 15 minutes. Talk about telegraph poles looking like a fine row of comb! They looked at times like a row of wooden buildings.

The estimated cost of keeping the convicts who are at work on the Western North Carolina Railroad, is 30 cents per capita per day.

Last Saturday night a negro named Bob Dunlap fell from a freight train on the Charlotte, Columbia & Augusta Railroad a short distance below Chester, and had one leg broken just below the knee and one shoulder badly bruised. Travel to and from the North is now confined to the inland routes. The Bay Line of steamers, on account of the severity of the weather and the obstructions to the coast, has been temporarily taken its tickets off sale.

The Wilmington Sun has learned that the Woodruff sleeping and parlor car, and the Lucas companies have recently been consolidated under the name of the former. The rates have been reduced in all their cars South, to $1.50 for a berth per night. This company now has sixty parlor and sleeping cars on the line, and has four more in course of construction.

SCIENCE.

Something About the Stars in January. An astronomical authority gives the following interesting facts concerning the planets as they appear during the present month:

Venus is evening star, though too near the sun to be seen in the early part of the month. She is, however, coming towards the earth, while receding from the sun, and by the end of the month will be a beautiful object to behold, shining brightly in the glow of twilight about 11 o'clock. She will be half an hour after sunset—but on the 31st she will be above the horizon for nearly an hour after sunset. The most interesting planetary event during the month will occur on the 23d, when Venus, Jupiter, and the new moon will be in conjunction. The trio will make a celestial picture beautiful to see; for the fairest, largest, and nearest of the solar brotherhood will be side by side.

Jupiter is evening star, but he will soon be lost to sight, for at the end of the month he will be too near the sun to be visible. He sets now about 7, but on the 31st he will set about 5. Jupiter has nearly reached his least apparent dimensions and greatest distance as seen from the earth. He arrives at this extreme point on the 5th of February, when he will be in conjunction with the sun. He will re-appear on the western side of the sun as morning star, drawing nearer to the earth and growing brighter till his opposition on the 31st of August. This radiant planet will be very much missed among the stary hosts, where he has reigned pre-eminent for several months but the presence of Venus, the brightest of the throng, will soon make up the loss.

Saturn is evening star, and is easily recognized, his position differing little from that of December. His steady light and the absence of bright stars in the neighborhood make him a marked object. He comes to the meridian about 6 and sets about 11. He is growing smaller as he recedes from us towards his conjunction with the sun, which occurs on the 26th of March, after which, following in the wake of Jupiter, he will join the morning stars. Mars is morning star, rising about 5 two hours and a half before sunrise, is perceptibly larger and brighter than last month, and always easily recognized from his ruddy light.

Mercury is morning star during the month. He reaches his greatest western elongation on the 16th, and may then be seen in the eastern sky an hour before sun rise. This is one of the four favorable opportunities for seeing Mercury as morning star during the year 1879.

The January moon falls on the 8th, and she has already passed her conjunctions with Jupiter and Saturn. She will be in conjunction with Mars on the 19th and with Mercury on the 21st. The waning crescent and the planets making a picture worth getting up early to see. The new moon of the 22d will be in conjunction with Venus and Jupiter on the 23d, and with Saturn on the 27th, three days before the first quarter.

Epiphany.

Yesterday was the anniversary of the festival of Epiphany, which is celebrated on the 6th of January, the wedding day after Christmas, commemorating the appearance of our Saviour to the magicians or philosophers of the East who came to adore him with presents; or, as some maintain, to commemorate the appearance of the star to the magicians, symbolizing the manifestation of Christ to the Gentiles.

The Convention of Northern Settlers.

Mr. Dumont has secured the opera house for the meeting of the convention of northern men who have settled in the South since the war. The meeting will accordingly be opened there at 12 o'clock on the 15th instant. The success of the convention is now assured. An OBSERVER was shown three letters received by Mr. Dumont yesterday afternoon—one from Asheville, another from Mooresville and another from Park Hill, Burke county—all of which highly commended the objects of the convention and gave it an qualified endorsement. Mr. Dumont assures us that those are fair samples of a hundred other letters he has received on the subject, all of which it is designed to have published in the proceedings of the convention.

Mecklenburg Bonds.

A number of Mecklenburg county bonds were sold in this city last week for 91 cents. This is not bad, and considering that the county is in debt $300,000 it is a striking evidence of the public faith in the county's ability and purpose to meet its obligations. It is an excellent sign, now that our banks are no longer paying interest on deposits, that these bonds are being sought out as investments.

Personal.

Hon. Walter L. Steele stopped over in the city last night en route to Washington. He spent the holidays with his family in Richmond county. The following members of the Legislature were registered at the Central Hotel last night and leave on this morning's train for Raleigh: L. J. Hoyle, of Cleveland; N. Young, of Rutherford; W. E. Arlrey, of Mecklenburg; Col. J. L. Brown, and Capt. S. B. Alexander, of Mecklenburg, and B. C. Cobb, of Lincoln, went down yesterday morning.

Fire.

At 5:30 yesterday morning a barn on the premises of Mrs. Morrow, in the extreme southwestern part of the city, caught fire and burned to the ground. It contained a quantity of "roughness," cotton seed and seed cotton, a portion of which belonged to Jeff Hagler, colored, the remainder to Mrs. Morrow. The fire companies responded to the alarm, but finding that they could do nothing for lack of water did not go to the fire. It is not known who it originated; no one, however, had been in the building for several days. A tramp could probably tell.

Hosts of Peas are Martyrs.

To sick headache, that infallible symptom of a disordered stomach, liver and bowels, arising from it as many as three or four times a week. They do so needlessly, for Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, by toning the digestive organs and regulating the bowels and liver, removes the cause, and dispels all other ailments. The intimate sympathy between the brain and the stomach causes the slightest disorder affecting the latter to be reflected, as it were, in the organ of thought. The reform instituted by the Bitters when the digestive, secretive and evacuating functions are in a state of chaos, has other and more beneficial results, viz., the complete nutrition of the whole physical economy, the restoration of appetite and repose, and an increase in the power of the system to resist diseases of a malarial type.

Ease Attainable by the Rheumatic.

Yes, although they may despair of relief, it is attainable by rheumatic sufferers, for there is a remedy which carries off, by means of increased activity of the kidneys—important for blood purification—the acrid element to which pathologists the most eminent attribute the painful symptoms—a theory completely borne out by urinal analysis. The name of this grand depurative is Hostetter's Kidney and Bladder Bitters. A remedy for constipation, which causes contamination of the blood with the bile—and a certain means of relief in dyspepsia, fever and acute and nervous ailments. It is, perhaps, the finest tonic known, and is highly recommended as a medicinal stimulant by distinguished physicians and chemists who pronounce it to be eminently pure and very beneficial. The press also endorses it.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by a last India missionary the formula of a single vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, Catarrhs, cough, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for the debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested it in dyspepsia, fever and acute and nervous ailments. It is, perhaps, the finest tonic known, and is highly recommended as a medicinal stimulant by distinguished physicians and chemists who pronounce it to be eminently pure and very beneficial. The press also endorses it.

A Remarkable Result.

It makes no difference how many physicians, or how much medicine you have tried, it is now established that German Syrup is a true and reliable remedy which has given complete satisfaction in severe cases of Lung Diseases. It is a true and reliable remedy for all persons who are afflicted with the Throat and Lung Affections, Consumption, Hemorrhages, Asthma, Croup, Croup, Croup, Croup, Croup, Pneumonia, Whooping Cough, &c., who have no personal knowledge of Boschee's German Syrup, try just one bottle.
