There were lively times among the cotton buyers yesterday, owing to the fact that there were some pretty heavy orders on hand, and the owners of the point of excellence, The Cassius of Mr. 300 or 400 bales on the market reaped T. In fact, rates of board are so cheap now that many persons find it less expensive to board themselves and small families than to keep house.

Mrs. Jarley-She Figgers and Her Figers Figger.

It was quite a large audience that assembled at the opera house last night to witness Mrs. Jarley's debut in Charotte, and from the applause which reeted the appearance of many of the historic characters, the efforts of the managers were highly appreciated. Much care had evidently been taken in all the details of the exhibition, and the ridiculosity (Pardon the word; it is of Charlotte coinage) of some of the scenes was indescribable. Mrs. Jarley herself appeared to be in one of her best moods: Slum would never do anything right, and the colloquies between these two, with the comments of the old lady, afforded one of the chief attractions of the evening.

The interval between the introduction of the different scenes was filled by vocal duets and solos by members of the Gounod club, under the direction of Prof. Bidez, which of themselves would have constituted a delightful entertain-

The managers were at comparatively ittle expense in getting up the entertainment, and consequently almost the entire proceeds will be devoted to the relief of the poor. The sum, though not very large, will be sufficient to carry nappiness to many homes, and the ladies and gentlemen who took part in the entertainment, and especially the managers, may well feel themselves fully repaid for their trouble.

Story About a Girl Running Away on the Air-Line.

In day before yesterday's issue of this paper it was stated that City Marshal Alexander had received a telegram from the chief of police of Atlania asking him to arrest a white girl who was expected to arrive on the Air-Line train, on the charge of larceny. Since then there have been some interesting developments in the case-enough to show that there is quite a mystery about the whole affair. The girl's name is Ollie Gunnell. She lives with her mother in Atlanta, is reported to be quite young, but if to, is well developed for her age. She came up the Air-Line road as was expected, and stopped over at Duluth. The next day she boarded the train coming in the direction of Charlotte, Capt. Jim McCool, conductor. The conductor found that she belonged in Atlanta, and at his solicitation she took the returning train and was delivered into the hands of the police by an unknown party.

her capture and return to her parent, it being believed that she was abducted. The girl simply says that after leaving her home Sunday morning, she spent the day with a man named Mr. Wm. Winant and his wife and the night with a Mrs. Stephens, after which she took the Air-Line train at 4 o'clock in the morning, with the understanding that the man Winant would meet her at Duluth the next day. He had told her that he and his wife were coming to Charotte, to open a beef market and wanted her to come with them. When she got on the train the next day at Duluth, expecting to meet Winant and his wife, Capt. McCool told her that her friends black out of the spots business, but it is a God-send to the poor. had told him to say that they had not been able to get off and that Bill Winnant had sent word by him to tell her that she must take that train and go with him to Charlotte where Winant and his wife would meet her on the next day. She got on board and the train moved off. While riding along she says that she told Mr. McCool that she wanted to go back home, and begged him to put her on the down passenger train and send her back to Atanta. This Mr. McCool did, and she arrived in Atlanta about 11 o'clock Monday night. She says that Wm. Winant furnished her with two dollars with which to pay her fare to Duluth.

The story has become very generally known here and has created considerable comment. It was to have been investigated in Atlanta yesterday.

Julius Cæsar in Charlotte--- A Rich Treat in Store.

The advance agent of Mr. Jno. T. Ford's Julius Cæsar combination was in the city yesterday making arrangement for the appearance of the company, with Mr. F. C. Bangs in the leading role, on the 5th. The company is one of the best that has ever visited the South and has been playing with brilliant success the present season. When in Charleston, a short time since, they received the following handsome notice from the critical News and Courier:

"The audience at the academy of mnsic last night was very large, and the play of Julius Cæsar was given with an excellence of detail that deserves high commendation. To those whose object was simply to be entertained, the performance was thoroughly satisfactory; but to the student of Shakespeare it There are very few of Shakespeare's plays in which there is as wide a field, not only for good acting, but for finished reading and elecution, as Julius Cæsar. 'The scene in which Cassius in-stigates Brutus against Cæsar, the great quarrel scene and the reconciliation elocution, and last night they were all given in a manner that may almost be called faultless. As Marc Antony, Mr. F. C. Bangs well deserves the reputation he has achieved in the portrayal of this role, and no one of the large audience at the academy last night will fail to award him the honor he so well earned by his masterly rendition of this part. He was several times called before the curtain and applauded most enthusiastically. His acting through-out was superb, and his reading exquisite, but in the great oration over Cæsar's body he certainly reached the highest really was, a performance which even Lawrence Barrett has never equalled. The reading was exquisite, and Mr. Keene was called before the curtain after one of his most effective efforts. As Brutus Mr. R. L. Downing was very the part, but his acting was even and artistic and his reading correct and impressive, and he, too, was called before the curtain. Cæsar was well personated by Mr. George Hoey, and the Casca of Mr. Charles Abrendt deserves especial praise, because he did not fall into the conventional error of infusing in the role an element of comedy. The minor parts were carefully and well sustained, The following will show the state of the thermometer, at the stations mentioned, at 4.35 yesterday evening, Washington mean time, as ascertained from the daily bulletin issued from the significance of the parts of Calphurnia and Lucius received jus-tice in the hands of Mrs. Octavia Allen, Miss Maria Stuart and Miss Emma

Vote of Mecklenburg in 1860.

An old paper containing the vote of Mecklenburg in the gubernatorial election in 1860, when the contest was between Ellis and Pool, Democrat and Whig, was handed us yesterday. The entire vote of the county at that time was 2.024. How it has changed! Last year the city registration books showed nearly 1,900 names.

Jarvis, to be given in Tucker Hall, Raleigh, next Wednesday, February 5th. The managers on this occasion are Messrs. B. C. Cobb, A. H. Boyden, P. M. Wilson, W. C. Etheridge, G. E. Leach and Ed. H. Lee; floor managers, Messrs. Sherwood Haywood, P. H. Andrews, E. B. Englehard, and A. W. Haywood. The honorary managers imbrace the names of fifteen or twenty prominent gentlemen in the State.

Railroad Appointment. David Cardwell, Esq., has been ap-pointed by the president and board of directors of the Charlotte, Columbia & Augusta Railroad Company to the office of assistant general freight and passenger agent. Mr. Cardwell has been connected with this road for sometime. He lives in Columbia, and the Register of that city, in noticing his appointment, says: "It affords us great pleasure to record the business advancement of our friend who, in combination with his well known abilities and sterling qualities in other respects, is one of the most courteous and pleasant gentlemen we have ever had occasion to deal witn."

Daring Sneak Thievery. Last evening between 7 and 8 o'clock two negroes unceremoniously opened the front door of the residence of Mr. John R. Davidson, corner Sixth and A streets, and advancing into the passage, encountered one of the young ladies of It seems that the report about her having committed larceny was all aruse gotten up for the purpose of effecting her capture and return to her parent situations of the young ladies of th situation at once, called to her brotherin-law, Mr. Kendall, who was up stairs at the time, and the negroes, turning, hurried through different doors, one of them seizing a hat, overcoat and a lady's cloak, as he passed the hat rack. Mr. Kendall followed but was not able to overtake either of the sneak thieves.

Mr. Davidson was not at home at the time of the occurrence. "Riding a Free Horse," &c.

When Dr. J. M. Wilson, who lives near Caldwell Station, on the Charlotte and Statesville Railroad, arose yesterday morning, he found a mare and a mule missing from his stables. He traced them in the direction of Charlotte, and six miles this side of his house found the mule in the road. Coming on to Charlotte, he made inquiry concerning the missing mare and finally found her in the stable of a citizen, the animal having been taken up in the street, where she was found running at large. There were saddle marks on the back of the mare and she gave evidence of having been ridden hard.

This thing of stealing horses from their stables, riding them a distance and then turning them loose, has be-come quite frequent in this section of late, and has put owners to a great deal of trouble and often to expense.

--"Sample Hunting."

When the contest warms up over the title to possession of the hatchet of the North Carolina Press Association, the young man who does the George Washington specialty for the Wilmington Sun, can get in about as much solid work in the same length of time and on the same amount of notice, as the next one. His latest is this:

"Mr. James Gordon is a Northern sportsman, who Tuesday morning took his gun and went up the Northeast river on the steam-tug Orlando, to the rock quarry of Mr. George Z. French. On the return trip, at the bridge over the river near Rocky Point, a drove of wild ducks were seen. Mr. Gordon raised his gun, shot it off-and the Orlando waited half an hour for him to pick up all his game. Mr. Gordon found twenty-six dead ducks and three snipe among his slain. He killed them all at one shot, though he fired both barrels at the same time. The wonder is not at the number of ducks he laid was the rarest of intellectual treats. out, but as to how those three snipe came in the lot."

The wonder is not that W. Hampton Harris is able to reconcile the above with his conscience, but that he doesn't sometimes get tired grinding out these whoppers.

The Beath-Rate of

Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming, the average of life being lessened every year, without any reasonable cause, death resulting generally from the most insignificant origin. At this season of the year especially, a cold is such a common thing that in the hurry of every day life we are apt to overlook the dangers attending it and often find too late, that a Fever or Lung trouble has already set in. Thousands lose their lives in this way every winter, while had BOSCHEE'S GERMAN SYRUP been taken, a cure would have resulted, and a large bill from a doctor been avoided. For all diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Boschee's German SYRUP has proven itself to be the greatest discovery of its kind in medicine. Every Druggist in this country will tell you of its wonderful effect. Over 950,000 bottles sold last year without a single failure known.

A Remarkable Result. It makes no difference how many physicians, or how much medicine you have tried, it is now an established fact that German Syrup is the only remedy which has given complete satisfaction in severe cases of Lung Diseases. It is true there are yet thousands of persons who are predisposed to Throat and Lung Affections, Consumption, Hemorrhages, Asthma, Severe Colds settled on the Breast, Pneumonia, Whooping Cough, &c., who have no personal knowledge of Boschee's German Syrup. To such we would say that 50,000 dozen were sold last year without one complaint. Consumptives try just one bottle. Regular size 75 cents. Sold by all druggists in America.
