NEW DEPARTURE.

On the 22d of September last, in putting on a new dress, THE DAILY OBSERVER adopted the rule to exclude all double column advertisements and all cuts. After five months of experience, we have decided to extend the rule. Double column advertisements necessitate the cutting of column rules, and these will be charged twenty-five per cent. more than our regular rates, and will only be inserted on the first and fourth pages of the paper. The recent changes in the arrival and departure of mails, make it necessary that changes in contract advertisements be sent in by three o'clock in the afternoon.

HOME PENCILINGS.

February to March, debtor, to three windy days.

There are sixteen prisoners in the county jail to-day.

The festive season passed out with the rising of this morning's sun.

The Superior Court meets next Monday and Judge Kerr will preside.

Probably the ugliest piece of slang yet invented is "mashed." It is now on the rounds.

There are reports of another marriage in the city to-night. They are going off in rapid succession.

They were laboring in front yards, yesterday, digging about the flowers and clearing off the grass plots.

There remain but three days of winter. But then March comes, and March is worse than several winters.

This is Ash Wednesday, the first day of the Lenten season. Religious services will be held in the Catholic and Episcopal churches.

Mining men are still drifting about looking at property in this vicinity, but we have heard of no important investments recently.

Robin shooting is now quite a favorite amusement, even among old sportsmen, who would never, well, hardly ever, deign to shoot at anything not on the wing.

The ambitious gardener could not possibly resist going out and dropping a few seeds in the ground yesterday morning, even though the chances were very much against them.

Excellence in rabbit hunting seems to be the chief end of the Charlotte man. Since the latest reports from this class of sportsmen a party of nine, one of whom was game-carrier, went out and returned with forty-one.

The register of deeds still has his hands full of mortgages on crops not yet planted, given by farmers to merchants, mostly for fertilizers. The sale of this article has been about as large as usual notwithstanding its rise in price.

The characters who have figured in the mayor's court for many months past are rapidly passing from sight. Some are banished, others have fled, and others having spent their substance in riotous living have dropped into that morality which is the offspring of poverty.

"You knew I was going to be married for the first time, Tuesday, didn't you?" said a charming young girl to a furniture merchant, who had never seen her before in his life. "Well, really you must excuse me, but I hadn't heard of it," replied he in his blandest manner "but I hope you will be as happy as you are pretty." "How awfully funny," said the betrothed, "why, I thought everybody knew that," and she glided over to look at another piece of furniture which had a mirror on it.

Personal.

Col. L. D. Childs, a native North Carolinian but for a number of years a resident of Columbia, was in the city yesterday, registered at the Central Hotel.

Mr. Geo. A. Warlick, the enterprising young editor and publisher of the Newton Enterprise, was in the city last night.

Killed by a Falling Tree.

Solomon F. Burroughs was a young man of industrious habits and good character and lived in Stanly county. Some days ago he was at work in the woods on a plantation which belongs to Mr. Iza Heathcock, of that county, when a tree fell on him, causing instant death. A wife and three children mourn his loss.

Inter-County Cocking Main.

Arrangements are in progress for an inter-county cocking main between Lincoln and Gaston, to come off about the first or middle of March, at Ironton. The sides will probably match about a dozen cocks. There are said to be some pretty good birds in these counties, and the sport will doubtless be first ater. The "Hacry eye" will figure on the Gaston side. Further particulars later.

Mr. Davidson's Condition.

Dr. J. M. Miller returned yesterday from the bedside of Mr. Constantine Davidson, who was reported to have been stricken with paralysis Sunday afternoon. He says that upon examination he found Mr. Davidson had not been paralyzed, but was in a very critical condition, having had several severe spasms, superinduced by general exhaustion of the system. He was some better yesterday morning, and it is now hoped that he may recover. His brother, Mr. A. B. Davidson, is still with him.

Fourth Ward Public School.

One of the school commissioners of the fourth ward explains that the public school for males in that ward was only suspended on the 1st of January, and that there are now in the treasury only $82 for the maintenance of such school. There is a free public school for females, taught by Mrs. Watson, now in operation in this ward, which males can attend if they choose. In addition to this there are two colored free schools in operation in the ward (or township) and all this while the fourth is the smallest ward in the city.

Shooting in the City Limits.

Complaint comes up of the evil practice of sportsmen, principally boys, shooting at birds in the city limits. The practice is a dangerous one and we direct attention to it, particularly the attention of parents. There seems to be an impression abroad that it is not against the city ordinance for a person to shoot at birds or other objects on one's private premises. This is a mistaken idea. The ordinances prescribe a fine of $5 for every gun or pistol fired in the city limits, and even if they did not people should refrain from this practice from regard for public safety.

New Candidate for Public Favor.

It is stated that we are to have another paper (designed principally for cheap advertising), if those contemplating its establishment meet with sufficient and proper encouragement. It is to be of medium dimensions, will contain interesting local and other news, will be issued semi-weekly, on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons, will be gotten up in good style, well printed, &c., and will be distributed free in the city and country; also, on all outgoing trains. Mr. John Bragg, who has had considerable experience in the newspaper business, will conduct its columns, and we wish him and those associated with him the fullest success.

The Stock Law in Gaston.

Gaston county has been very considerably stirred up the past several weeks on the subject of a stock law. Innumerable petitions have been sent up to the Legislature for and against the measure. The advocates of it claim that they have by far the greatest number of names, and the best and most influential citizens on their side, and that their opponents have sent up no petition from any township in the county to which was attached over thirty bona fide names. Mecklenburg having gotten hold of a good thing desires all other counties to enjoy the same benefits which she is deriving from it, but is more especially interested in the counties which adjoin her, for obvious reasons. We sincerely hope Gaston county may get a stock law, and that right early.

Still Another Ash-Box.

At the corner of Church and Trade streets, at a late hour night before last, the respective noses of Policemen Hill and Blackwelder were greeted with an odor which suggested the burning of a carpet or some like material, and which appeared to come from the direction of South Church street. They turned their steps in that direction and arriving at the residence of Mrs. Hull found the members of the family astir. They had just discovered that an old barrel which sat under the back steps and served in the capacity of a receptacle for ashes, was on fire, the flames from which would soon have communicated themselves to the porch. Discovered in time, it was easily put out. The odor which attracted the attention of the policemen was caused by the burning of an old rope which had been thrown into the barrel.

The same old story again. The ash-box is the greatest incendiary we ever had amongst us, and he can neither be punished nor killed.

Railroad Notes.

It is stated that the double daily line to the North, via Lynchburg will be re-established about the 1st of March, by putting another passenger train on the Virginia Midland to connect with the Richmond & Danville trains at Danville.

Through travel is quite heavy on the main lines, going both ways. A great many Northern people never seek the sunny clime of Florida until about the first of March, this being the severest month in the cold latitudes.

A dispatch from Norfolk to the Baltimore Sun of the 24th ult., says: "A party of Georgia and North Carolina railroad presidents and superintendents, under charge of President John M. Robinson, of the Bay Line, arrived here to-night on a special train. They are engaged in inspecting the roads from this point South, with a view of establishing a through freight route from Baltimore to Augusta via Charlotte, N. C. The party will be entertained here to-morrow, and at night leave for Baltimore."

Relief Association.

Owing to the lack of a quorum, no meeting of the relief association was held yesterday afternoon, but the members who assembled at the Traders' National Bank adjourned to meet in the Young Men's Christian Association rooms next Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. It is earnestly desired that there should be a full attendance on this occasion, as the funds in the treasury have been almost entirely exhausted by the frequent demands made upon it by the ward committees, and some means must be devised for replenishing it. It may be observed here that only about $50 have been contributed by private individuals since the association was permanently organized, the funds which have been used by it being received from the performance of the "wax figgers" and from Mayor Smith, who held some money originally contributed for the benefit of the yellow fever sufferers last summer. At the next meeting a plan will doubtless be set in operation, by which contributions can be made in a systematic manner every month, or less often according to the necessities of the case. In the meantime, however, there are no funds to carry on the work of benevolence.

Disparity in the Sizes of Eggs.

Within the past few days, Messrs. J. Y. Weddington & Bro., have received a consignment of eggs, among which there were two, very extraordinary in size—the one extraordinarily great and the other remarkably small. They are both hens' eggs, be it understood, and while one measures 5¾ inches round and 7 inches in length, the other measures 4 long and 3½ round. If THE OBSERVER's memory serves its right, they are the largest and the smallest hen eggs it has ever set its visuals on.

Convicts for the Railroad.

Ten of the men convicted at the recent term of Mecklenburg Inferior Court, all colored, were turned over to the authorities of the Spartanburg and Asheville Railroad, yesterday afternoon, and left here in charge of Mr. Foster for the works at the head of the road. There were several others convicted at the same time, but for various reasons the railroad company declined to take these, and they are still in jail. The list of those sent to the railroad was published yesterday morning.

The Boy Orator.

The phenomenon discoursed again last night to a crowd even larger than that which greeted him on his first appearance, and the auditors were, as a general thing, pleased with his performance. He is chiefly remarkable for an unusual development of memory, and there is a quaintness in the contrast between the long and abstruse sentences which he utters and his perfectly childish face, which affords a decided attraction. A contribution was taken up after the performance, and quite a nice little sum raised to help educate the little fellow. He will give his exhibitions at points along the Western North Carolina Railroad, after leaving the city.

Disappointed Love and Suicide.

The Wilmington Star, of yesterday, says:

"By a special telegram from Laurinburg we learn that the dead body of Samuel A. Stewart, a very respectable and worthy young man, formerly of Mecklenburg county, was found at Bethel church, Blue Spring township, Robeson county, at about 8 o'clock on Sunday morning. Disappointed love is said to have been the moving cause of the desperate deed, and laudanum the instrument used to carry out the purpose of the unforunate young man."

The deceased was a son of Mr. Allen Stewart, of this county, and a brother of Mrs. Nellie Taylor, formerly clerk in the postoffice in Charlotte.

The remains arrived in this city last night by the Carolina Central train, and will be interred to-day at Back Creek church.

The Main a Draw.

A telegram received in this city yesterday afternoon announces that the great inter-State cocking main at New Orleans, between Georgia and Kentucky, had resulted in a draw. Bets, therefore—of which, by-the-by, there were several in this city—are off, and it can still be said of both the Georgia and Kentucky cocks, as was said of them by their backers before the main began, that neither of these walks has ever been whipped.

The latest newspaper report that we have from the scene of the engagement is from the New Orleans Times, of the 23d, which represents that at the close of Saturday's fighting the battles were 9 to 5 in favor of Georgia with the betting two to one in favor of the Georgia birds.

These Georgia and Kentucky birds will have to meet the North Charolina birds in battle array before they are properly dressed down.

The Mardi Gras Calico Bal Masque.

It was a grostesque and kaleidoscopic scene the Central Hotel dining room presented last night, the occasion being the Mardi Gras calico ball. The room was literally crowded with all imaginable figures and costumes, many of which were quite handsome, notwithstanding nothing but calico was allowed. The number of persons in costume was much larger than was anticipated and the sides of the room were lined with spectators. The occasion was one of the gayest and most pleasant we have ever had, and was in every respect successful.

The reporter is under ban not to give the names of the dancers, and as the mere description of the costumes would be devoid of interest without these, the notice of the very elegant affair must be necessarily brief. The unmasking took place at 12 o'clock according to appointment and from this time on the gayety was at its zenith. It was quite a late hour when the last of the dancers left the scene of the evening's pleasure, and the calico ball was universally voted a decided success.

Burglary in Monroe—An Accomplished Villain.

Sunday night a burglar entered the residence of Mr. A. F. Stevens, of Monroe, and made off with his pantaloons, in the pockets of which were more than $100 in money and that gentleman's store key. Having occasion to get up during the night Mr. Stevens discovered the theft, and calling assistance hurried to his store, and was just in time to prevent a man getting in. The thief ran, but the next morning a suspicious looking negro with a valise in his hand was seen going toward the depot, and the town marshal followed and arrested him in the train. He was forced to deliver up a quantity of money, together with two watches and a pistol. In reaching into his pocket for a second time, however, he drew a revolver for the supposed purpose of firing on the policeman, when in jerking it hurriedly from his pocket it fired, the ball lodging in his own thigh. He was knocked down, secured, and upon a hearing confessed and was jailed. His name is Louis Rowland.

Convicts at Large.

Some days ago, it will be remembered, two convicts, Dick Wicks and Mike Hope, who escaped from the authorities of the Spartanburg & Asheville Railroad, were captured by the police in this city and sent back to the works in charge of Mr. Thomas Symons. They left here Monday, the 17th, and on the following Friday one of them was seen on the streets of Charlotte, and both are known to have been here since that time, from which it would appear that they escaped from Mr. Symons before he reached the works.

The large number of escapes from these stockades at the head of the Spartanburg & Asheville Railroad is certainly a matter deserving the attention of the county authorities. The city marshal tells us that he has been officially informed of the escape of at least twenty during the past year, and to his certain knowledge the most of these returned to Charlotte. The existence of such a gang of outlaws in the community is an evil which endangers the property, to say nothing of the lives of citizens. But the effect of their mere presence is scarcely worse than the demoralization which results to others from what is nothing else than a burlesque upon the punishment of crime. To go through all the trouble and expense to the county of convicting criminals, and then allow them to escape punishment, robs the law of all its dread, and removes every restraint not only upon the convicts themselves but upon all others. If this evil is not speedily corrected, it would be a better policy for the county to keep her convicts in the county jail and bear the expense of feeding them.

NOTICE.

By virtue of the power conferred in mortgage made by T. J. Wilkinson and Laura H. Wilkinson to the Charlotte Building and Loan Association, I will sell at public auction, a house and lot of land fronting on the N. C. Railroad, in square No. 58, beginning at a stake on the N. C. Railroad and running with said road to L. A. Phillips' corner, thence with her line 180 feet to a stake, thence parallel with said railroad 49½ feet to J. B. Said property to be sold at the court house door in the city of Charlotte on the 1st Monday in March, 1879, for cash, the amount due the Charlotte Building and Loan Association being $220.25, with cost of advertising and sale.
