WEDNESDAY, MARCH 5, 1879.

Messrs, Robbins, Scales and Davis, of North Carolina are among those who visited the President last Saturday and personally urged him to sign the tobac co tax reduction, bill.

The Washington correspondent of the Richmond Dispatch says the opinion at the capital is that Hayes' veto of the anti-Chinese bill will greatly injure the Republican party in California.

The fact that Congress was measurably sober during the last night of the session is one upon which both Congress and the country at large is to be congratulated, and that it was an unusual circumstance is established by the fact that the associated press goes out of the way to announce it.

Upon the final reading of the river and harbor bill in the Senate, amendments were adopted granting $2,000 for the Cape Fear from $25,000 to $100,000, and for the Neuse from $15,000 to $45,-000. Ransom's work.

Messrs. Yeates and Waddell are the only members of the House from North Carolina who voted for the Roach Brazilian subsidy bill, and it is to the credit of the State that this is true. Mr. Waddell has always been one of the foremost, ablest and most energetic champions of the appropriation, and upon the final reading of the bill made a long and carefully prepared speech.

CAPT. ARDREY'S SPEECH .- We invite attention to the excellently worded and well considered speech of Capt. W. E. Ardrey, one of the members from Mecklenburg, delivered in the House when the proposition was before that body to abolish the department of agriculture. Capt. Ardrey always thinks well and speaks well, and his people will be interested in knowing what he said upon the important question which he discusses in his speech.

Representatives from North Carolina, to-wit: Z. B. Vance and J. J. Martin, W. H. Kitchen, D. L. Russell and R. F. Armfield, will take their seats as members of the forty-sixth-Congress.

CHAMBERLAIN AND THE CHINESE .-Ex-Gov. D. H. Chamberlain, of South Carolina, has written and published in the New York Tribune an article in reply to Sepator Blaine's speech on the Chinese question, and the letter is pronounced by the Tribune an able presentation of the Eastern view of the stinging sarcasms had ever passed bequestion, setting forth the whole argument "in more compact and convicing form than any one writer has given before." Were Chamberlain as honest when Springer tried to get in some reand as philanthropic as he is intellectual, he would be an honor to the nation and a man whom the nation would delight to honor.

North Carolina has come to a settlement with her creditors, but on a forcible re-adjustment or repudiation basis, in which the parties most interested had nothing to say. An acceptable compromise, indeed, in which the creditors are than this and still preserve her credit | mously adopted.

> Notwithstanding the partisan feeling which pervaded both sides of the House in the various matters that came up during the night session, there was a remarkable absence of personal animosity on the part of members towards their political opponents. THE LEGISLATIVE AND ARMY BILLS GONE OVER

All the appropriation bills, excepting the legislative and army bills, have been signed and are now laws; also the river and harbor bill, and the bill making the requisite appropriation to pay the arrears of pensions. It is understood that a message veto-

LATER.—The proclamation of the President calling for an extra session of Congress to assemble on the 18th inst., was issued this afternoon. The proclamation recites that an extraorindary session is necessary for the reason that the forty-fifth Congress adjourned without making the usual and necessary appropriations for the legislative, executive and judicial expenses of the government for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1880, and without making the usual and necessary appropriations for the support of the army for the same fiscal year. CONFIRMATIONS, AND NOMINATIONS WHICH WENT OVER.

The Senate, just before adjournment confirmed the nomination of Dennis Egan to be collector of internal revenue for the district of Florida, and Paul Stroback postmaster at Montgomery. The following are among the nominations which expired at noon to-day for want of final action: Geo. Holmes, to be collector of customs at Beaufort.

S. C.; James Pollock, naval officer at sul general to the City of Mexico; David II. Baily, consul general at Shanghai; James Riley Weaver, consul general at Vienna; Henry Dithmore, consul at Panama; Geo. Scoggs, consul at Hamburg; E. P. Turner, United States judge, A. B. Danning, United States States attorney for the northern dis-trict of Texas; Sherman Conant, Unitpartield, and with all the other mutual- ed States marshal for the northern district of Florida; Sam'l Lee, to be postmaster at Sumter, S. BUTLER'S POTTER REPORT.

The individual views of Gen. Butler on the Potter investigation were presented to the House last night. The document is very voluminous, covering some two hundred pages of legal cap. He maintains that the appointing of judges of the Supreme Court on the commission to decide the late presidential election has done great harm to the cause of justice by impairing the reverence that the people have always justly had for the integrity of the decisions of that court, and the experiment ought never be tried again; that the counting in of Mr. Hayes was obtained by a series of gross and unjustifiable irregularities and frauds which cannot be too strongly, condemned and reprobated that if any title to the governorship of Louisiana resulted from the late election in that State to any one it was to Gov. Packard who was legally elected that the act of Mr. Hayes in appointing the McVeigh commission was an act wholly unauthorized by the constitu-tion, and not within the scope of the executive, and specially reprehensible as its purpose and motive was to carry out a corrupt political arrangement and agreement on his part, made by his friends with his knowledge and consent, the fruits of which he is still enjoying without right and against law. WORK COMMENCED BUT NOT FINISHED.

Among the measures which made more or less progress but failed of enactment this session are the following: The legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill; the army appropriation bill; the bill to regulate inter-State commerce; the steamboat bill; the Geneva award bill; the bill to establish postal savings banks; the bill to repeal the specie resumption act; the bill granting pensions to survivors of the Mexican war; the sugar bill; the bill to restrict Chinese immigration; the joint resolution proposing a constitutional amendment to prohibit the payment of disloyal claims; the bill to provide for the enforcement of the eight hour law; the proposition to transfer the Indian bureau to the war department; the Mississippi levee bill and the bill providing for a commission on the improvement of the Mississippi; the bill extending the time for the comple-tion of the Northern Pacific Railroad; the Brazilian mail service bill; the bill to regulate the transportation of animals by railroads; the bill to donate the proceeds of sales of the public lands to educational purposes; the bill authorizing railroad companies to construct and maintain lines of telegraph for commercial purposes; the Burnside committee army re-organization bill: the bill to revise the patent laws and the Japanese and Chinese indemnity fund bills. The various measures reported from the House committee on banking and currency, and many other financial bills in the House, and Senate bills, besides those specified above, proposing aid in lands and bonds for the construction of railroads, canals, etc., a large number of bills on the calendars affecting local interests, of more or less importance, and several hundred reported from committees for the relief of private committee rooms. THE PRINCIPLE MEASURES PASSED. The total number of bills and joint resolutions introduced in the House of Representatives during the Congress which has just expired is 6,826, and the total in the Senate 1,936. The principal measures which have become laws during the last session, in addition to ten of the regular annual appropriation July 10.18a.19 bills, are: the bill reducing the tax on August 10.87 period of the existence of this House there has not been a single breach of legislative decorum. Extra Session—Governor's Messaye-

RICHMOND, March 4.—The General ssembly convened in extra session today. In response to a joint resolution informing the executive that both houses were ready for business, the Governor sent in a communication stating that he had called the extra session because the interests of the Commonwealth required it. He deems it unnecessary to record in detail the subject to which he called attention in his message at the beginning of the regular session. Those subjects had had consideration in committees, had been reported and some of them passed into laws, while others of great interest to the present and future of the State, are awaiting action. These should be disposed of now, in order that peace and quiet may bring prosperity to the people of Virginia. The House adjourned after a brief session. In the Senate, however, the debt question at once came up. The bill providing a plan of settlement, which was passed by the Senate in regular session, being presented by the chairman of the finance committee, was read twice under a suspension of the rules, and after some discussion the Senate decided to vote on the engrossment and third reading to-morrow at 2 p. m. Notwithstanding that the re-adjusters will endeavor to variously amend the bill, it will pass the Senate in its present form and be transmitted to the House.

NEW YORK, March 4.—United States Commissioner John I. Davenport has been arrested by the sheriff on a warrant issued by Judge Sinnott, in the marine court. He is charged with contempt of court and is called on to answer for his misconduct in not appearing before the court to be examined in the proceedings supplementary to the execution pending on a judgment re-covered by Eben Miller and Fitz Allen Flynn against him. Davenport gave bail in $1.000.
