

THE RAILROAD COMMISSIONER BILL. The bill to establish the office of railroad commissioner in this State was tabled in the House Monday night after having passed the Senate.

A REACTION WHICH IS LIKELY TO RESULT IN THE DEFEAT OF DEMAGOGUES. LONDON, March 12.—The Standard's correspondent at Paris says: "The impeachment motion is likely to have a result which its authors do not contemplate, viz: The beginning of a crusade to put down the noisy demagogues who aim at rendering government impossible under a republic, and who are now adopting against the Republic manœuvres to which they resorted against the empire and monarchy of July."

FLOOD AND DESTRUCTION. A Town Inundated—Property and Lives Lost—Scenes of Horror. LONDON, March 12.—A despatch to the Daily News from Szegedin this (Wednesday) morning at 6 o'clock says: "After a fearful night of anxiety, all efforts are useless. The water broke through with immense force at 3 o'clock carrying away a part of the railway station and the embankment and rolling stock. Within three hours the town was many feet deep in water. Terrible suffering is commencing. Shrieks and cries from thousands are heard. Houses are crashing by the score and many masses carrying their inmates with them. God knows what we shall do to-night. There is no gas, the works being 15 feet in water. I fear we shall run short of food. Our boat was just going to save a large house full of people when the fearful crash carried with it the whole living freight. The scene is simply heartrending. Over 50,000 people are out of house and home and hundreds are drowning and the water is still rising rapidly."

THE WALKING MATCH. O'Leary Off and Rowell Still Ahead—A Panic in the Gardens. NEW YORK, March 12.—At 20 minutes past ten this morning the scores of the pedestrians were as follows: Rowell, 23 miles and 4 laps; Harriman, 215 and 2 laps; Ennis, 201 and 2 laps; O'Leary, 197 and 5 laps.

THE POPE AND A FALSE REPORT. ROME, March 12.—The Vatican organ, Voce Della Verita, gives great prominence to the following: "Several liberal papers have reiterated the statement that the Pope, in consequence of the pressure of Cardinal Manning, and of the French bishops, has changed his policy and ranged himself behind the non-possimus and revindication of the temporal power. We are able to most decidedly contradict this statement. The Pope, in no other way than did his predecessors, has protested and will protest until such provisions are made as right and reason require for the dignity and liberty of the Holy See."

THE CALIFORNIA REPUBLICANS AND THE PRESIDENT. SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—At a large Republican mass meeting held here last night, the sentiments were that while crediting the President with the honesty of policy, the Chinese bill, his action did not represent the views of the Republican party in California, and the party declined responsibility therefor.

BONDS CALLED—DR. WOODWORTH III. WASHINGTON, March 12.—The treasury made another call for five-tenths to-day, the amount aggregating $7,000,000 of coupons and $3,000,000 of registered bonds.

THE ATLANTA TRAGEDY.—Col. R. A. Alston, who was shot and killed in the State Treasurer's office in Atlanta, Ga., Tuesday afternoon, was a Democratic member of the General Assembly. He was a journalist of note, having been, during the greater part of the existence of that paper the principal editor of the Atlanta Herald, and last year he was prominent for the United States marshaling of Georgia to which Col. Fitzsimmons was subsequently appointed.

A POINTED DENIAL.—Col. Wade Hampton, Jr., writes from Duncaun, Miss., to the Charleston News and Courier an emphatic denial of the recently published story that he attended a ball given a few weeks ago at Jacksonville, Fla., complimentary to Gen. W. T. Sherman. He adds: "I would certainly have avoided meeting the man who was guilty of the cruelty of burning Columbia and the cowardice of denying it."

THE SITUATION IN WASHINGTON.—The Philadelphia Times summarizes the outlook at Washington, now upon the eve of the meeting of the extra session of Congress, as follows, and judging from the tone of the press it seems to voice the public sentiment of the country: "The Democrats will pass bills repealing the test oath, abolishing Federal supervisors and keeping the troops from the polls. The President's backers—there are many of them, headed by Stanley Matthews and Zach Chandler—say that he will veto the bills. Then the Democrats will tack them on to the appropriations and a second veto will follow. Then the Democrats will cut off all supplies and appeal to the country to sustain them. The President will appeal in just the same way, and it then becomes a question of which can do the most appealing. This is the programme laid out. If it isn't broken by the first of June there won't be any money to run the government."

THE BALTIMORE SUN GIVES EDITORIAL PROMINENCE TO THE RECENT INTERVIEW BETWEEN GOV. JARVIS AND CERTAIN COLORED MEMBERS OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY WHO HAD CALLED UPON HIM TO CONSULT HIM ON QUESTIONS PERTAINING TO THE WELFARE OF THEIR RACE AND PRONOUNCES THE GOVERNOR'S UTTERANCES ON THE OCCASION A SENSIBLE TALK.

THE RAILROAD COMMISSIONER BILL.

The bill to establish the office of railroad commissioner in this State was tabled in the House Monday night after having passed the Senate. The measure is one which had enlisted much interest and excited much discussion in the General Assembly. It created an office the incumbent of which was to have received a salary of $3,000, and to have a clerk, office rent and traveling expenses, all this to be paid by the railroad companies. To this extent there could be little objection to the measure, and we are somewhat at a loss to understand why it should have failed. It is quite certain that the railroads favored the project, and if they were willing to pay the salaries and bear all other expenses attached to the commissioner's office, we do not see why it should not have been created. True, we cannot see what good such an officer can accomplish, yet we are equally at a loss to perceive what harm he can do. The duties designed to have been imposed upon him were to inspect books, examine road beds, bridges and rolling stock, and to make recommendations in reference to freight tariffs. He was to have had no final jurisdiction—in point of fact, no jurisdiction at all—and of what practical value he would have been, therefore, does not appear. It was said in the discussion of the question in the Senate that he was to act in a sense as the mediator between the people and the railroad companies, but if, in any disputed question, he had sided with the people, the railroads would have complained against him, and on the other hand, had he sided, in any question in controversy, with the railroads, the people would have been willing to have sworn that he had been bought.

So far as the making of recommendations to the Governor and the General Assembly is concerned, the woods are full of people who perform that service without money and without price, and since this is the case, it may be that the saving to the State of the small pro rata of the expense of the office which would have fallen upon the Western North Carolina and the Fayetteville roads—roads which the State controls—will be enough after all.

However, perhaps not. It seems to us that there is something of a mystery surrounding the case. It may be that we don't know what we are talking about.

JEFFERSON DAVIS.—The stalwart heart quakes and the stalwart knees smite together at mention of the name of Jefferson Davis. The Washington Republican, speaking of the fact that he will likely succeed Bruce in the United States Senate, says "his very existence in office or out of it, is a threat to the safety of the government."

Specification 1. In that he acted deceitfully and made statements which he knew to be false in the matter of his withdrawal from the editorship of the Christian at Work in the month of October, 1876.

Specification 2. In that at various times he published or allowed to be published by those closely associated with him, without contradicting them, statements which he knew to be false, or calculated to give a false impression, in defence of his action and statements referred to in the first specification.

Specification 3. In that he repeatedly made public declarations in various and emphatic forms of speech, from his pulpit, that the church of which he is pastor was a free church, and that the sittings were assigned without reference to the dollar question, although he knew such declarations to be false.

Specification 4. In that in the winter of 1876-77 he falsely accused J. W. Hathaway of dishonest practices, and afterwards denied that he had done so.

Specification 5. In that in the latter part of the year 1875 he endeavored to obtain false subscriptions towards the payment of the debt of the church, to be deceitfully used for the purpose of inducing others to subscribe.

Specification 6. In that in the year 1875 he acted and spoke deceitfully in reference to the matter of re-engagement of the organist of the Tabernacle Presbyterian church.

Specification 7. In that he publicly declared on Sunday, February 24, 1876, that all the newspapers said he was to be arraigned for heresy, and used other expressions calculated to give the impression that he expected to be arraigned on that charge, although he knew that he would be arraigned, if at all, on the charge of falsehood, thereby deceiving the people.

Dr. Talmage demanded a speedy trial and then Presbytery adjourned until Tuesday morning when it was to have met to arrange the preliminaries.

THE MARSHALL NEY ROMANCE.—The well known and oft-told story that Marshall Ney, who shared victory and defeat with Napoleon and was believed to have been shot after the final overthrow of his great commander, really survived, sailed for America, and took the vocation of a school teacher, locating in Rowan county, N. C., has assumed a new shape and is found now as a news item in the Philadelphia Times, as follows: Colonel Emanuel Sifford, now living in Camden, Arkansas, tells a correspondent of the Chicago Inter-Ocean that Andrew Derr, the old Frenchman who taught school near the Catawba Springs, N. C., about the year 1845, undoubtedly was the famous Marshal Ney, of Napoleonic history. Monsieur Derr boarded at the house of Colonel Sifford's uncle and in a hundred ways dropped information that led to the establishment of his identity.

Col. Sifford has made a great batch of it. The man was never heard of in this region under the name of Andrew Derr; he called himself Peter Stuart Ney, and was known by no other name. And he never taught school near the Catawba Springs.

A PROPOSED FRENCH CRUSADE.

Mr. Thos. T. Tate, a good citizen of Rowan county, is dead. The Catholics of Wilmington are to have a cemetery of their own. A degraded white woman attempted suicide in Wilmington last Saturday night, but failed of her purpose. B. Y. Rogers, a prominent citizen of Wake county, died at his late residence in Raleigh last Sunday.

Wilmington, 11th: We learn that Col. Griffin shipped 5,400 sacks of Navassa guano yesterday. This is equivalent to 450 tons, and loaded 62 cars, yet this amount did not cover all the orders received during the day. The Winston Leader says that Mr. John Mickey, living in the neighborhood of Vienna, was pulling some bark from a tree, when a piece broke off, striking him in the face inflicting an ugly and dangerous wound. At last accounts he was very ill.

Raleigh Observer: Saturday afternoon, while passing between the cars at the North Carolina depot, a colored man named Merritt, living here, but from Chapel Hill, was struck by a car backing up terribly crushed. The internal bleeding caused his death Sunday night. The coroner will hold an inquest over his remains to-day.

An educated hog and bird show has been going on in Raleigh for some time past, but misfortune overtook the show people, they sought out other fields, and Monday their effects were sold under the hammer. The Raleigh Observer says the learned pig went off at the contemtable price of $5 and the bird for a song.

Wilmington Star: We were shown on yesterday a curious machine by our fellow townsman, Mr. Ludwig Hansen, of the firm of L. Hansen & Co., on South Water street, the inventor. This is the only machine in this country that can make a glove complete with a lock-stitch. It has been patented by this gentleman and is a most ingenious contrivance, and reflects great credit on the inventor.

Winston Leader: A gentleman just from Randolph informs us that there is great excitement in that county over the new gold mine recently opened on the plantation of Griffith Moore, Esq. It is to be worked by a Northern company, who are now fitting up the machinery necessary for its operation. A large quantity of ore has been prepared, and it is thought will pan out very well. A nephew of Samuel J. Tilden has an interest in the mine.

Raleigh Observer: Saturday night a negro by the name of Robert Watson was stabbed during an altercation by Richard Pierce, colored. The affair occurred at the house of David Gill, in New Light township. The man Watson was found nearly dead, but declared Pierce to be the murderer. The latter has been committed to the county jail, and Richardson yesterday held an inquest over the remains. Search is being made for the murderer.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Hon. S. J. Randall arrived here this afternoon. He will actively commence the speaking campaign to-morrow, having engaged quarters at the National Hotel. Col. Blackburn is receiving numerous friends at Willard's. His rooms were crowded to-night. The supporters of both these gentlemen appear equally sanguine at this time. Candidates for the other offices under the two Houses are increasing, and there are prospects of an exceedingly animated canvass before the end of the present week.

ATLANTA, GA., March 12.—The coroner's jury rendered a verdict that the killing of Alston by Cox was a willful and premeditated murder. Cox is in jail to await trial.

WAR AND GOLD. A hotel war based on gold prices. In order to accommodate both classes of travelers, the Grand Central Hotel, on Broadway, is now kept on both plans, the American at $2.50 to $3.00 and the European at $1.00, and advance, per day. An elegant restaurant, at moderate prices, is conducted by the hotel.

NOT SYMPTOMS, BUT THE DISEASE. It would seem to be a truth appreciable by all, and especially by professors of the healing art, that the disease, and not the symptoms, should be the chief aim of medication. Yet in how many instances do we see this truth admitted in theory, ignored in practice. The reason that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is successful in so many cases, with which remedies previously tried were inadequate to cure, is attributable to the fact that it is a medicine which reaches and removes the causes of the various maladies to which it is adapted. Indigestion, fever and ague, liver complaint, gout, rheumatism, disorders of the bowels, urinary affections and other maladies are not palliated merely, but rooted out by it. It goes to the fountain head. It is, really, not nominally, a radical remedy, and it endows the system with an amount of vigor which is its best protection against disease.
