Calling Dr. Vandye a Lie.—A Crowd That Breaks the Pew.

NEW YORK, April 7.—The Talmage trial opened with a resolution that proposed to permit the pastor to testify that if he did accuse the witness Hathaway of dishonest practices he did not do so falsely.

The moderator said that the audience could in a very few minutes cause the Presbytery to sit with closed doors.

Question. When and where did Dr. Talmage call Dr. Vandye a notorious liar? Answer. On the morning I apprised Dr. Talmage of what Dr. Vandye had said when he refused to go with me to Dr. Vandye's home.

The witness was examined at great length with reference to his talk with Talmage. A letter was received from the trustees of the church in which the trial was held, complaining that he had broken the pew, and that the books, written scurrilous sentences on the wood work and in the hymn books, broken two of the pedals of the organ, and that threats had been heard of destroying the pews, and that the Presbytery that the "riotous crowd" continues to damage the property they (the trustees) will be compelled to hold the Presbytery responsible for damages.
