free-born reason." FRIDAY, APRIL 11, 1879.

REPUBLICAN PRELIMINARY MOVEMENTS.

The Republicans are beginning to get in their work early and are getting it in with their customary adroitness. It is showing up from Mississippi, in the leaders which are emanating from the fiery, untamed pen of the editor of the Okalona States, and in the migration of negroes from Southern to Western and Southwestern States. The character of the work which the Okalona States is performing is interesting if not honorable. Its editor is a native of Ohio; he was a sutler in a Michigan regiment during the war, and not long ago settled in Mississippi and assumed the eminently respectable vocation of publishing a Democratic newspaper. From the fact that his paper was never heard of outside of its own State until about a month ago, we judge that it was as tame as a sutler's paper ought to be; but all at once it broke loose with such extraordinary laudation of Jeff. Davis, such extraordinary invective of Abraham Lincoln, the Yankees and Unionists generally, that it boasted its own self out of its former obscurity and now finds itself-famous? No, notorious. "We [not the sutlers but the rebels,] have captured the capital!" it exclaims, and the cry goes all over the North that) a Southern Democratic paper has boasted that the "rebels" have done thus and so. Of course the States man is a Radical, paid by the Radicals to talk this sort of nonsense, and of course the Southern press and people make haste to repudiate his utterances; but the seed is sown; the first impression made on the Northern mind is diligently strengthened by the bloody-shirt politi-Northern press and the States' contribution to the Grant boom has free course and is glorified in widening the breach between the sections. Thus is thunder being manufactured for the campaign of 1880. Another campaign scheme is the movement of negroes from the South. Proof of this charge is found in the names of those who have this hegira in charge-the Chandlers, Zack and Bill; Bob Ingersoll, Senator Windom, ex-Secretary Gorliam, and J. H. Rainey, the colored ex-Congressman from South Carolina. They realize that the negro is no longer an appreciable element in | in order to provide for the payment of the politics of the South; with a view, therefore, to damaging this section, and at the same time to advancing the fortunes of their party, they institute this migration fever, with the object of ultimately colonizing these roving negroes in States which have but small Democratic majorities and which are doubtful in important elections. The poor foolish negroes are the sufferers from this wicked political scheme, but this the treasury. little concerns those whose dupes they are. Another good political result from this negro exodus flows from its being given out that the emigrants are driven from their homes because they can en- in the treasury at the time the same is joy neither political nor personal freedom here, but are daily in danger of | death at the hands of the numerous rifle clubs which ride the country.

These early movements indicate unmistakably the line of battle on which the Republicans will fight the next campaign; it will be fought under the inspiring folds of the bloody shirt, and it remains to be seen whether the Northern people will again respond to the cry of "wolf!" uttered by characterless tricksters who practice their deceptions and then laugh about them.

I'EN PICTURE OF SENATOR VANCE.

"taking" article which we print elsewhere this morning from the Philadel-phia Times, in reference to Senator diary, "I saved the lives of three hun-Vance. The writer of it was fresh from the Senator's presence when he penned it; he had heard from him jokes which had made him spin around in his chair until his pants were innocent of a basement, and he went off and sat down, full of the spirit of the occasion to write the article which we print this morning. He does not over-estimate Gov. Vance's immense powers as a humorist, but, like almost every one else who has not learned to know him well, delaying trains five or six hours. who has seen only one or two sides of the man, he under-estimates all; his other gifts. The Times writer never made a greater mistake than when he says that Gov. Vance joked himself into the Senate, unless it was when he says that in that gentleman's campaign arraignments of the Republican party present company is always courteously excepted. Neither the one nor the other of these propositions is true. He went to the Senate by reason of his being North Carolina's first man, with all that the term implies; as to the second proposition, Judge Settle, for instance, would dislike very much to be called upon to make affidavit to the truth of the true source of the recent cuttings in that, and so would scores of other Re- through freight rates and permanently publicans who have felt the force of his fierce onslaughts or been the marks of his glittering shafts.

It is Gov. Vance's misfortune that it is so generally supposed that a man who is a humorist is nothing else. To argue the contrary in this case to those who know him would be a work of supererogation; to argue it to those who do not know him would be equally unprofitable since they will one day be convinced of their error by the man himself.

It was a purely legal question and we are no lawyer, but from our point of view Bell, of New Hampshire, was entitled to a seat in the Senate, and we are glad the Senate awarded it to him The question was taken out of the do-main of politics, and decided, as it hould have been, upon its merits. A Radical Senate would have kept a Democrat out of his place upon such a technicality as was presented in the Bell case, but because the Radicals do scurvy tricks of this sort is all the more reaon why our people should not,

Last Tuesday in the House the order of debate when the House should go in to committee of the whole on the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, was under discussion, the question being whether the order of speeches should be regulated by the Speaker, or whether they should be deivered in the order in which members had entered their names on a list with

The general parliamentary law ought to govern us. Very clearly there is no parliamentary law known anywhere which recognizes the practice prevailing here since I have been a member of this House. It is a miserable practice, one which, as my friend from Mississippi [Mr. Hooker] says, is much more honored in the breach than in the Accident on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

ELIZABETH, N. J., April 10 - The fast freight train on the Pennsylvania Railroad, eastward bound, broke in two at East Rahway at 2.30 o'clock this morning. The engineer stopped the forward part of the train, and the detached section ran into it, demolishing eight cars filled with merchandise and canned fruits, and slightly injuring a brakeman. The wreck covered both tracks.

THE MACHINERY ACT. Extracts from the Law Indicating the Manner in Which Revenue is to be Raised.

Sec. 3. Each township assessor shall advertise in five or more public places within his township immediately after said May meeting, notifying all taxpayers to return to said assessors all the real estate and personal property which each tax-payer shall own on the first day of June, requiring said return to be made to said assessors within made to said assessors within twenty days after the first of June, under the pains and penalties imposed by law.

Sec. 4. Each person required to list property shall make out and deliver to the township assessor a statement, verified by his oath, of all the real and perronal property, moneys, credits, invest-ments in bonds, stocks, joint stock companies, annuities or otherwise, in his possession or under his control, on the first day of June, either as owner or holder thereof, or as parent, husband, guardian, trustee, executor, administrator, receiver, accounting officer, partner, agent, factor or otherwise. Sec. 6. All real property and all stock or farming utensils, and other personal property used in connection with the cultivation of a farm, subject to taxation, shall be given in in the township in which said property is situated on the first day of June, and where the line of any township runs through any resident's land the same shall be listed in the township of such resident.

Sec. 7. All other personal property whatever, including money on hand or on deposit, credits, investments in bonds, stocks, stocks in national, State and private banks, joint stock companies, railroad, canal company or otherwise, and all taxable polls and all other subjects liable to taxation, except such franchise and personal property as are herein specially provided for, shall be given in in the township in which the person so charged resides on the first day of June. The residence of a cor-poration, partnership, or joint stock association, for the purpose of this act, shall be deemed to be in the township in which its principal office or place of business is situated. If, however, the corporation, partnership or association, have separate places of business in more than one township, it shall give in in each township the property or effects therein, but any body of lands belonging to persons or a corporation, partnership or association, and divided by township lines, shall be given in in that township in which the larger part thereof is situated. Sec. 8. At the time and place appointed by the assessors the tax-payer shall attend and shall file with the assessor, on a blank to be prepared and furnished by the State treasurer, a verified statement of all the property of every kind and description owned by the taxafter the reading of the journal, went | choses in action, except land, which shall be valued by the assessors, which oath shall be in the following form, to-

Any person making a false return shall be deemed guilty of perjury. Property held in trust, or as agent, guardian, executor or administrator, or in right of a feme covert, shall be returned on separate lists.

Sec. 9. The list shall state all the property of the person giving in, and also the age of the party, with reference to his liability to a poll-tax, and shall refer to the first day of June in that year. 1. The quantity of land owned in the township; the land shall be described by name, if it has one; otherwise in such way that it may be identified, and shall be valued as herein prescribed. 2. The number of horses, mules. jacks, jennettes, goats, cattle, hogs and sheep, separately, with the value there-of, and they shall be returned at their true value. 3. The true value, without specifying the articles, of farming uten-sils, tools of mechanics, household and kitchen furniture, provisions, arms for muster, libraries and scientific instruments. 4. Money on hand, including all funds invested within thirty days before in United States bonds or other bonds or stocks, or any non-paying property whatever. 5. The amount of solvent credits, including accrued interest uncollected, owing to the party, whether in or out of the State, whether owing by mortgage, bond, note, bill of exchange, certificate, check, open account, or due and payable, or whether owing by any State or government, county, city, town, or township, individual or company or corporation. Any certificate of deposit in any bank, whether in or out of the State, certificate of stock in any corporation or trust company, whether in or out of the State, and the value of cotton, tobacco or other property in the hands of commission merchants or agents, in or out of the State, shall be deemed solvent credits within the meaning of this act. If any credit be regarded as not entirely solvent it shall be given in at its true current or market value. The party may deduct from the amount of promissory notes and accounts owing to him the amount of such notes and accounts owing by him. 6. Stocks in national, State and private banks, and stocks in any incorporated company or joint stock association, railroad, telegraph or canal company, with their true value; and every cashier or treasurer of any bank, corporation or association shall furnish a list of its stockholders and depositors resident in the several counties of this State, on the first day of June each year, to the county commissioners of the county in which such stockholders or depositors reside, and shall also state the true value of such stock and the amount of cotton in seed or lint, tobacco, either in leaf or manufactured, turpentine, rosin, tar, brandy, whiskey, medical instruments, goods, wares and merchandise ATLANTA. April 10.—The convention of general ticket agents adjourned to-day after making a general reduction child. The income of the party for the twelve months next preceding the first day of June in the current year, with a statement of the source or sources from which it was derived. 8. That the property mentioned in sub-divisions two, three and seven of this section shall be valued at its true value, estimated at what it would bring at a voluntary sale. 9. If the party be a nonresident of the county, and owns land therein, it shall state his address, and may name any agent in the county to whom notices may be given respecting his taxes. Sec. 10. The assessor shall be particular to examine each person on oath as to whether he has not other property than that stated in his return, which he may claim not liable to taxation, or to be exempted therefrom Such property shall be entered and noted on the tax. list; and if the county commissioners shall be unable to decide the legal questions involved, it shall be their duty to consult the State Treasurer about the matter, and to be governed by his decision. Sec. 13. The following property is exempt from taxation: 1. The property belonging to the United States or this State, or to any county or incorpo-Sale of a Chattanooga liotel.

The property belonging to and set apart and exclusively used for the university, colleges, institutions of learning, academies, the masonic fraternity, Order of odd Fellows, knights of Pythias, Independent Order of Mechanics, Good Templars and Friends of Temperanee, Knights of Honor, Good Samaritans and love and charity, schools for the education of the youth, or support of the poor and afflicted, or phan asylums, such property as may be set apart for and appropriated to the exercise of divine Worship, or the propagation of the g spel, or used as parsonages, the same being the property of any religious denomination or society; Provided, that said exemption shall not extend to more than twenty acres of land, if the excess over twenty acres is of value exceeding one thousand dollars, nor to solvent credits.

3. Such property as may be set apart for graveyards or burial lots, except such as are held with a view to profit, or for the purpose of speculating in the sale thereof. 4. Twenty-five dollars of personal property of each individual tax-payer. Sec. 14. Each separate parcel of real property shall be valued at its true value in money, but the prices for which such real property would sell at auction, or at forced sale, shall not be taken as the criterion of a true value. Sec. 15. If any person liable to be charged with taxes shall refuse to answer any questions respecting his pro-perty, or shall refuse to fill up and swear to his return, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction liable to be punished by fine not exceeding fifty | CROCKERY, CLOTHING, SHOES, CANNED dollars or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days, and it shall be the duty of the assessors to have the offenders prosecuted. And every assessor and county commissioner shall have power to send for persons and papers, and to examine witnesses and to administer oaths.

Sec. 17. The two assessors for the county at large shall make a tour of the county between the twentieth day of June and the second Monday in August and shall meet the assessors of each township at some certain time and place, after first having given ten days notice by due advertisement of their appointments in each township. They shall visit each township in the county, and together with the township assessor shall correct and revise the tax lists, and shall have power to hear complaints and to equalize the valuation of all real and personal property, moneys and credits within the township, and to add or deduct from the valuation of the real or personal property, moneys or credits of any person returned by the township assessors, or which may have been omitted by him, and may add other items upon such evidence as shall be satisfactory to them; but they shallinot reduce the aggregate valuation of the property of the township as made by the township assessors. And they shall be par-ticular to value all real estate and other property at its true value, and not at what it would be supposed to be worth at forced sale.

Censured for not Carrying a Union Flag. Washington, April 10.—The Grand Army of the Republic last night passed resolutions condemning the Washington Light Infantry for not carrying a United States flag while acting as escort to the Norfolk City Guards, now on a visit to this city, and claiming that said company refused or neglected to bear the flag of our country and believed it had been done in deference to the wishes of the company from Virginia. The Washington Light Infantry is composed principally of government clerks, and is commanded by Col. Wm. G. Moore, who was paymaster in the Union army and private secretary to President Johnson. The company does not carry the flag because, as they claim, a single company is not entitled to the flag as that distinction belongs only to regiments and battalions.

FOR GIRLS AND BOYS. AN_IDEAL CHILDREN'S MAGAZINE. Messts. Scribner & Co., in 1872, began the publication of Sr. Richards, an Illustrated Magazine for Girls and Boys, with Mrs. Mary Mapes Dodge as editor. Five years have passed since the first number was issued, and the magazine has won the highest position. It has a monthly circulation of

OVER 50,000 COPIES.

It is published simultaneously in Londor and New York, and the transatiantic recognition is almost as general and hearty as the American. Although the progress of the magazine has been a steady advance, it has not reached its editor's ideas of best, because her ideal continually outruns it, and the magazine as swiftly follows after. To-day St. Nicholas stands

The arrangements for literary and art contributions for the new volume—the sixth—are complete, drawing from already favorite sources, as well as from promising new ones. Mr. Frank R. Stockton's new serial story for boys,

"A JOLLY FELLOWSHIP."

Will run through the twelve monthly parts,—beginning with the number for November, 1878, the first of the volume,—and will be illustrated by Jas. E. Kelly. The story is one of travel and adventure in Florida and the Bahamas. For the girls, a continued tale.

By Katharine D. Smith, with illustrations by Frederick Dielman, begins in the same number; and a fresh serial by Susan Coolidge, entitled "Eyebright," with plenty of pictures, will be commenced early in the volume. There will also be a continued fairy-tale called

"RUMPTY DODGET'S TOWER," Written by Julian Hawthorne, and illustrated by Alfred Fredericks. About the other familiar features of St. Nicholas, the editor preserves a goodhumored silence, content, perhaps, to let her five volumes already issued, prophesy concerning the sixth, in respect to short stories, pictures, poems, humor, instructive sketches, and the lure and lore of "Jack-in-the-Pulpit," the "Very Little Folks" department, and the "Letter-obx," and "Riddlebox."
