Mayor Smith is in New York.

Religious services will be held this morning in the Lutheran, Episcopal and Catholic churches. The Charlotte Institute has suspended for the Easter holidays. Operations

The controller of the currency has called for a report showing the condition of the national banks at the close of business April 4th.

Yesterday was a quiet day in police circles. Two negroes, man and wife, were jailed for making threats against alMr. Trotter, who lives a few miles in the country. They were unable to give a bond to keep the peace. Yesterday could have discounted almost any day in March. The water works passed along the streets, and when they got to a corner and turned around the wind was blowing the dust from the ground which had just been meeting last night and appointed a committee, with reference to their proposed visit to Columbia on the 10th of May, to charter a train for that occasion or to engage two coaches, to be attached to a regular train, as may be found cheaper or more expedient. Apart from this the proceedings of the meeting were not of interest.

The Canvass Opened. The municipal canvass may be said to have fairly opened now. Maj. Flem-ming announces himself this morning, and Mayor Smith has already expressed a determination to run. We hear that Mr. W. S. Norment also expects to enter the race. Now let somebody else come out, so we can have a four-handed game.

The Road Law.

The new law respecting the main-tenance of the public roads does not go into effect until the first Monday in June, but the county commissioners had the matter under discussion yesterday. It was generally agreed by the members of the board that the law could not well be put in successful operation without a county map, showing all the public roads, streams, bridges, &c. How to provide for such a demand, the board could not definitely determine, but it was understood that the newly appointed tax assessors would be asked to furnish descriptions of the roads in their respective townships, by way of supplying the board with data, in case maps could not be obtained. The law, by the way, will make a considerable revolution in the present method of keeping up the highways.

Cox in His Spring Costume. G. Lumpkins C-o-x-q-u-e, as he delights to spell it, was never gotten up so utterly regardless as he was yesterday. The boys did the square thing by him for one time in his life, as he himself admitted, and at 1 p. m., sharp, he made his appearance on the streets in a caico suit, the figures upon which were playing can be such sale, in a justice's court, and the assignment thereon of all the defendant's property as exemptions, both to show the undisclosed insolvency and also as bearing upon the fraudulent intent with which the purchase was made, playing cards, every one in the deck being represented upon his person and some more than once. The ace of diamonds covered the sore spot on his look and th monds covered the sore spot on his back and the perspiration from his classic chin dropped down at regular intervals upon the Jack of spades which rose and fell as his manly bosom heaved with honest pride. His head gear corresponded in all respects, and he looked for all the world like one diked for a masquerade. The small boys followed him around and for every back step lie collected a nickle. Solomon in all his glory was never so arrayed and diked for a masquerade. The small boys followed him around and for every back step lie collected a nickle. Solomon in all his glory was never so arrayed and never felt himself half so big a man as Cox did yesterday.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. And a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOS To INMAN, Station D, New Jation and all of its disastrous consequences.

THE PISTOL AGAIN.

A Fatal Shooting in Union County-A Horse Race Ends in a Tragedy.

Tuesday afternoon about sundown, when on their way home from Monroe, and when about three miles from the town, a difficulty sprang up between Leander Stack and Robert Parker, in the progress of which the latter shet the former the ball entering about three inches above the left nipple and rang-ing down towards and probably entering the heart, producing death in a very short time. After the shot was fired Stack staggered along the road for about twenty steps and fell forward on his face. In the meantime his slayer, being already on his horse, left at full speed and has, no doubt, taken refuge in South Carolina.

Parker and his victim were neighbors and lived within two miles of the State line, and about twelve miles south of

The only witness of the terrible affair was Harvey Mangrum, who says the two men ran a short race (on horseback) about a half a mile back from where the killing occurred; that the deceased claimed the best of the race; that both were half playfully punching each other in the side with their elbows as they rode along, and finally Parker struck Stack across his hat with a short riding switch, quite a light blow; whereupon Stack immediately dismounted and started towards Parker, when the latter drawing a pistol quickly fired, no words having passed between the two after the blow with the switch was given. Stack, it is said, did not have even a pocket knife and why Parker should have thus shot him down is quite a mystery, as their companion states he had no idea that either of the parties was angry.

Both the men were about the same age-24 years. Stack leaves a wife and one child. Parker has a wife and two children. Stack was considerably intoxicated, and Parker had also been drinking. The parties had been good

On his way home Parker passed several friends to whom he remarked: "I have killed Lee Stack and am a ruined man.' Bills have been scattered by Stack's brother, offering a "liberal reward" for the apprehension of Parker.

Good Friday.

The religious services peculiar to this day, the anniversary of the crucifixion of the Saviour, are of the most solemn and unostentatious character. It is the only day in the year on which mass is not celebrated in the Roman Catholic churches. No consecrated wine is used nor are the customary lights, incense and music employed. The watching and praying of Holy Thursday gives place to universal penitence. Memories ike those that the day calls up are needful to draw off the human heart from fun and frivolity, but as the sufferings of Jesus were of brief duration and quickly ended, so the solemn ceremonies of this day soon give place to symbols which typify the victory the passion accomplished. The Greek, Latin and the Anglican churches will next Sunday crown this week together with ceremonies of song and mirth and re-joicing, each worshipping the God and Father of all and feeling the throb of a common brotherhood in which names and creed are forgotten.

We want a live, energetic and pushing man in the office for a few years and Mr. Dumont can fill the bill; everybody knows he is a live man. 2d. We should honor those who are endeavoring to advance the material interests of our city. Mr. Dumont's efforts in that way for the past eighteen months have far excelled the efforts of any other individual, and for that reason let's show him that we appreciate energy and pluck. Now, I ask Mr. Dumont will he allow his name to be used in connection with the mayoralty? If so, he will be supported by

Narrow Escape of a Negro in Deliri-

Yesterday morning at 2 o'clock the watchman at the Air-Line depot delivered into the hands of the police a negro named Wm. Black, who was in a state of wild delirium. It seems that the negro has been very ill-completely out of his senses—for some days past, and some time during the night left his house, without the knowledge of any of its occupants, and fled. The watchman found him among the cars at the depot. Hailing him and failing to receive a satisfactory answer, the watchman was preparing to fire at him, as a thief, but finding, on closer inspection, that he was without hat, coat or abouts, he brought him up town, and the police locked him up in the guard house till daylight, when his wife appeared and took charge of him. She was in great distress until she learned of his whereabouts, and the scene at the meeting is described as quite affect-

Everything Goes Wrong In the bodily mechanism when the liver gets out of order. Constipation, dyspepsia, contamination of the blood, imperfect assimilation are certain to en sue. But it is easy to prevent these consequences and remove their cause, by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which stimulates the biliary organ and regulates its action. The direct result is a disappearance of the pains beneath the ribs and through the shoulder blade, the nausea, headaches, yellowness of the skin, furred look of the tongue, and sour odor of the breath, which characterize liver complaint. Sound digestion and a regular habit of body are blessings also secured by the use of this celebrated restorative of health, which imparts a degree of vigor to the body which is its best guarantee of safety from malarial epidemics, Nerve weakness and over-tension are relieved by t, and it improves both appetite and sleep.

The name of this grand depurent is Hostetters, a preparation likewise celebrated as a remedy for constipation, which causer contamination of the blood with the bile—and a certain means of relief in dyspepsia, fever and ague, and nervous ailments. It is, perhaps, the finest tonic extant, and is highly recommended as a medicinal stimulant by distinguished physicians and analysts who pronounce it to be eminently pure and very beneficial. smell of Cod Liver Oil is almost proverbial. It seems to be peculiarly nauseous to the consumptive and scrofulous patients, to whom the whole medical profession know it is specially beneficial. Endeavors have vainly been made to disguise its objectionable characteristics, by mixture with coffee, brandy, or by the process of deoderization, which impairs its efficacy as a nutrient.

But in union with the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, as we find it in Scott's Emulsion. It retains its healing and nourishing properties.
