Dimes and dollars! dollars and dimes!
An empty pocket's the worst of crimes!
If a man is down, give him a thrust—
Trample the beggar into the dust!
Presumptuous poverty's quite appalling,
Knock him over! kick him for failing!
If a man's up, oh! lift him higher—
Your soul's for sale, and he's a buyer!
Dimes and dollars! dollars and dimes!
An empty pocket's the worst of crimes!

I know a poor but worthy youth,
Whose hopes are built on a maiden's truth;
But the maiden will break her vows with ease,
For a wooer cometh whose claims are these—
A hollow heart and an empty head,
A face well tinged with brandy red,
A soul well trained invillative school—
And Cash, sweet Cash! he knoweth the rule;
Dimes and dollars! dollars and dimes!
An empty pocket's the worst of crimes!

I know a bold and an honest man
Who strives to work on the Christian plan,
But poor he is, and poor will be.
A scorned and hated wretch is he.
At home he meeteth a starving wife,
Abroad he leadeth the leper's life—
They struggle against fearful odds.
Who will not bow to the people's gods!
Dimes and dollars! dellars and dimes!
An empty pocket's the worst of crimes!

So get ye wealth, no matter how!

"No questions asked" of the rich I trow!
Steal by night, and steal by day.
(Doing it all in a legal way);
Join the church, and never forsake her,
Learn to cant, and mult your Maker;
Be hypocrite, liar, knafe and foot;
But don't be poor—remember the rule:
Dimes and dollars, dollars, and dimes.

An empty poclet's the worst of crimes!

never adopted the new fangled notion of gas, but always used candles, and she would not allow a Leo XIII, accidentally learning that all the val-uable forced vegetables in the Vatican garden were appropriated by the Cardinals, desired that the lettuces, artichokes, act, be sent to the market where all could purchase them who desired, and that the proceeds be kept for the poor.

Two "respectably connected rouths" lately cut fourteen telegraph wires for fun in England, thus interrupting Livergool's communication with London Dublin and the United States. This piece of the contraction of the Contr mischief points to the fact that the most momen-tous interests may be marred by the freak of a newspaper reporter who doubtless possesses the most remarkable beand in the country. The man is a truck driver, and during working days wears his beard colled up and braided together under his clothing, but on Sundays he loosens it and combs it out and goes upon the promenade with a hirsute growth which reaches to his toes, and he is a man early six feet high at that In a Boston (England) church the plan has been adopted of throwing verse after verse of a hymn that is to be sung by the congregation in large type upon a walls by means of a magic lantern. This "has already been found to please the old as well as the young," and by its means "the objections to singing of lawing no book, or of having left the book at home, or of eye-injuring fine type, are annihilated."

Rather than appear as defendant to a breach-ofpromise suit, this is the kind of a bill a young railroad man has paid a St. Louis girl, according to a lengthy account in the veracious Times-Journal:
"Mr. — to Miss — Dr. To balance as per bill rendered, $28.65; to gas used in parlor, $3.25;
to spooning (net), $50; to advice furnished, 5 cts;
to fine fer not calling as appointed, $5; to mending leg of sofa, $1.75; total, $88.70.

Talk about knowing babies! A young married couple, living on North Delaware street, have a six months old babe that for two weeks past has been considered the wonder of the neighborhood and the admiration of all the mothers for squares and squares about. Only six months old, and actually scratched its own head! Did it, too, with the vigor of an eight-year-old schoolboy. It was too cunnin'! The other day an old lady of vast experience was shown the baby—the wonderful baby—when it was scratching its head with unusual emphasis. She adjusted her glasses and looked carefully. No matter what she said. A fine-toothed comb was bought, the nurse girl was discharged, and the phenomenon crassed.—Internation News.

Wilmington Star: The remains of a female golored infant, prematurely born, were found in the front yard of Mr.S. A. Currie, northeast corner of Seventh and Market streets, on Sunday morning last, where they had evidently been dropped (as the fence is low) by some one passing on the street. No clue.

The Wilmington Star says the last General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, recommended that missionary societies, composed of ladies, be formed throughout the church bounds, and in accordance with this action a society was organized Sunday afternoon at Front Street church, in that city, with Mrs. C. G. Kennedy as president.

Raleigh Observer: The incorporators of the State University Railroad met at Chapel Hill on Saturday last. Mr. Paul O Cameron presided and commissioners were chosen to open books of subscription and report to an adjourned meeting on the 17th of May. As soon as $10,000 shall be subscribed directors will be elected and work commenced. It looks as if the road to the University were a fact.

Wilmington Sun: About 6 o'clock Saturday evening, as the steamer Fire Fly was on her way to Smithville, and when about one mile below Fort Anderson those on board discerned a large buck swimming across the river towards the Brunswick shore. They shifted their course and chased the deer finally running him down When him, the captain caught the deer by the ear, and Mr. Walton threw a line over his horns, drew his head up and cut his throat, and them drew him aboard. When taken to Smithville he was found to weigh about one hundred pounds.

The Wilmington Star is informed that Jack Bryant, a very respectable colored man, who lives three or four miles from Long Creek, in Pender county, cut down a bee tree on Saturday last, and found therein a considerable last, and found therein a considerable quantity of honey. All the family, except one of his daughters, partook of the wild sweetness. She was engaged in cooking dinner, and by the time they were invited to the repast they were too sick to respond. George, a grown man, died in a few minutes, and the remainder of the family are still sick from the effects of their indulgence, though it is believed that under good medical treatment, they will recover. medical treatment, they will recover.

Grave Robbing in Atlanta.

Constitution of the 15th.] Not many weeks ago the Constitution called attention to a terrible case of inhumanity in the heart of the city. A woman's body was found preserved in some sort of liquid for the experiment of amateur carvers of the human flesh. The case was presented just as it was. Another instance has just transpired, which, while it is not so horrible in its details, nevertheless shows that there is rife in the community a spirit of van-dalism which should be crushed. A negro woman, who had buried a child in Oakland Cemetery, wanted to have the body moved, and last week employed some men to attend to the disinter-ment for her. She was present and witnessed the work. Deeper and deeper the grave was dug and no coffin was found. At last the hard bottom was reached, and the mother discovered to her horror that the grave was empty. Some grave robber had stolen her child's remains and tambled in the earth upon the grave robbed of its tenant. The mother was of course strick-en with grief and gave vent to wild exclamations.

"Will it do no harm?" This is the question of-ten asked, and the answer is, "it cannot," for Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup is an innocent remedy, warrant-ed to contain neither Opium, Morphia, or anything injurious. Price 25 cents a bottle.
