

Proposed Repeal of the Duty on Quinine.

(Special dispatch to Baltimore Sun.)

WASHINGTON, May 1.—A movement is on foot amongst several prominent Southern members to secure the passage of a bill to repeal the duty on quinine.

It appears that the use of this valuable drug in the South has become so great that the people are beginning to press their representatives in Congress to take some action looking to a reduction of its cost.

It is claimed that the proposed repeal does not involve the question of protection, as the cinchona is not grown in the United States, and therefore to admit it free of duty would not conflict with any home interest.

As far as protection is concerned, the Southern members who have this question in charge have informed Mr. Wood and other members of the ways and means committee that the manufacture of quinine is confined to but a single establishment in the United States, which is located in Philadelphia, and, without desiring to interfere in the least with its manufacture, they claim that their constituents are entitled to consideration, especially in being granted the payment of no less than one hundred and fifty per cent. more for the drug than they would be compelled to if the duty were removed.

It is intimated by those interested that Mr. Wood has consented to the preparation of a bill to repeal the duty on quinine, and has expressed a willingness to support it without delay, provided he shall have assurances that the Southern representatives will support it.

Mr. Wood thinks he can pass under a suspension of the rules. The Southern members, as far as they have been advised of the movement, favor it, and express some impatience to have it put on the calendar, as the approach of the malarial season renders a reduction in the cost of quinine more important than at any other time in the year.

A Great Southern Church.

(Charleston News and Courier.)

A million and a half persons in the Southern States are connected with the Baptist Church, and the assembling of the Southern Baptist Convention at Atlanta on the 8th inst. is one of the most important events of no mean importance.

The convention is composed of delegates from the associations of Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Texas, Missouri, Arkansas, Tennessee, Kentucky, West Virginia, and the District of Columbia. Unlike most other denominations of Protestants the Baptists do not admit the laity to a share in the church government, and consequently the 47 delegates who will go to Atlanta next week will be all clergymen, or, to speak more accurately, ministers. Large as this number may seem, and even unwieldy for a legislative body, they are but a small representation of the 10,000 Baptist ministers who are scattered over this broad land earnestly engaged in the arduous labor of spreading the Gospel. Again, great as is the number of ministers, they are scarcely more than enough for the work; for there are over 17,000 churches, and if we add the 300,000 Sunday school scholars to the 1,500,000 adult members of the Church, we shall have, even with 10,000 ministers, an average of at least 200 souls for the care of each minister. For of course there are many persons in their congregations who are neither members of the Church nor pupils of the Sunday schools.

The coming session is expected to be of more than usual importance in addition to the delegates there will be present distinguished representatives of the Northern branch of the Baptist Church, and two very eminent missionaries, Dr. Crawford, from China, and Dr. Taylor, from Rome.

"Cora Robinson."

(Cincinnati Times.)

Miss Clara Morris was presented with a horse at the close of the third act of "Article 47" last night in the Grand Opera House. The giver was Uncle John Robinson. The horse is about two weeks old, and is about as big as a pepper-box. When the groom led the fiery animal up to the stage, the stage from a proscenium, the horse's mane was a thrilling one. He (the horse) began kicking around a little, and the groom stowed him away under his arm while Miss Morris and Mr. Wheelock approached from the opposite side of the stage. The famous actress was so convulsed with laughter at the comical sight, that speech-making was impossible, and she managed to say simply that she would write her thanks to Uncle John, while Mr. Wheelock remarked that he would stand godfather for the noble animal. Just as quick as Miss Morris was back of the curtain she had the new acquisition to her stable in her arms, kissing it and giving it a little pat. She immediately named it "Cora Robinson," but shortly afterward changed the name to "John Robinson." "John" was taken to Miss Morris' apartment at the Burnet House, and put in his time last evening by contentedly sucking a button on a horse-hair cloth sofa.

Arrears of Pensions.

(Wash. Cor. Richmond Dispatch.)

The first payment here under the arrears of pensions act was $4,925 to Gen. Robt. C. Schenck, formerly Congressman from Ohio, and was received in England, for a wound in the hand received. Being a general officer, he was entitled to thirty dollars per month, and never having drawn his pension, the aggregate of his arrears was very large. The average payments made to pensioners, so far, under the arrears of pensions act, are $250 each, and the smallest sum was $190.

Mississippi Barn Burners Lynched.

MEMPHIS, TENN., May 5.—A special telegram to the Ledger from Starkville, Miss., states that Johnson Spencer and Newlin Foster, the barn-burners and attendant assassins of Jordan Moore, a few days since, were taken from the jail by a body of armed men, Saturday night, white and black, and hanged.

Stimulate the Straggling Kidneys.

In addition to its tonic and cathartic properties, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters exercises a beneficial influence upon the kidneys and bladder, when they are inactive, by stimulating them to renewed exertion, thus re-opening, as it were, a channel for the escape of impurities whose retention causes all the organs of the urinary system to be in a state of inflammation, and the consequent production of irremediable injury to the system if not timely expelled. The kidneys and bladder themselves are also benefited by this stimulus, as their activity is usually a preliminary to their disuse and degeneration. They also experience, in common with other portions of the system, the potent invigorating effects of the Bitters, which faithfully corrects disordered conditions of the stomach, bowels and liver.

Of the rest 523 are doing land service of one kind or another, and about one in eight is doing the most important service, that of sea service. Of those doing sea service a large share spend their time on vessels securely anchored in some pleasant harbor in the Mediterranean, where their craft is usually undergoing repairs.

Case Attainable by the Rheumatic.

Yes, although the man's despair of relief, it is attainable by rheumatic sufferers, for there is a remedy which carries off, by means of increased activity of the kidneys, the important channels for blood purification—the acid element to which symptoms of the most eminent kind are due. It is a theory completely borne out by daily analysis. The name of this remedy is Dr. J. C. McLANE'S VERMIFUGE, a medicine which is a remedy for constipation, which causes contamination of the blood with the bile—and a certain amount of relief in dyspepsia, fever and ague, and nervous ailments. It is, perhaps, the finest tonic extant, and is highly recommended as a medicinal stimulant by the distinguished physicians and chemists who pronounce it to be eminently pure and very beneficial. The press also endorses it.

The Death-Rate of

Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming, the average of life being lessened every year, with-out any reasonable cause, death resulting generally from the most insignificant origin. At this season of the year, especially, a common cause of death is the hurry of every day life we are apt to overlook the dangers attending it and often find too late, that a Fever or Lung trouble has already set in. Thousands lose their lives in this way every winter, while had BOSCHER'S GERMAN SYRUP been taken, a cure would have resulted, and a large bill from a doctor been avoided. For all diseases of the Throat and Lungs, BOSCHER'S GERMAN SYRUP has proven itself to be the greatest discovery of its kind in medicine. Every Druggist in this country will tell you of its wonderful effect. Over 500,000 bottles sold last year without a single failure known.

No More Despair for the Debilitated.

Where consumption—not always the fatal tubercular consumption of the lungs, but the general decline of vital energy, and wasting away without reason of the system, is the cause of death, this medicine shows itself the doctor's stop his usual prescriptions of cod-liver oil and Sarsaparilla, and as often orders that the repetition it causes weakness of the system, and the patient is left in a state of debility, and it supplies nourishment to the debilitated system. It is only by mingling the oil in Scott's Emulsion with the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda that the disgusting taste and smell of it can be en-tered and pleasant as sweet milk, and not only restores digestive vigor, to the fluids of the stomach, but it enriches the blood, and subdues all of its scrofulous symptoms.
