Solicitor Montgomery says Cleaveland feeds fewer prisoners in her jail than any county in this district.

The Landmark pronounces Major Robbins' memorial address in Statesville a finished, chaste and eloquent oration.

It is said that at the funeral of the late Mrs. Dr. Knox, of Raleigh, at Hillsboro, Tuesday, every family in the town had a representative.

A black crane, measuring seven feet from tip to tip of wings, was killed in Cleveland one day last week, according to the Shelby Aurora.

The Aurora says the dogs have killed about 50 head of sheep for Mr. A. R. Putnam, of Cleveland, and his neighbors, within the last four weeks.

Robesonian: The very first buggy which ever came to St. Paul's church comes here yet, and the same old man comes in it who flew around the girls with it in the old time.

A Cleveland county meeting, held in Shelby, requested Col. Polk to address the Cleveland people on the 24th, on which day the county folk will have a basket picnic in Shelby.

The Robesonian reports that the excellent publication, the South Atlantic, will henceforth be published by Messrs. W. T. Blackwell & Co., Durham. Mrs. Cicero W. Harris still continues as editor.

The Sentinel says the Winston Light Infantry were presented, last Saturday, by the ladies of the military, with some flag. Miss Maggie Lea presented the flag and was responded to by Capt. Vann.

A train on the Raleigh and Augusta Air Line Railroad ran over an old negro named Merritt Cook, a witness of Raleigh, near the military, Friday, and he subsequently died. This from the Observer.

The Raleigh Observer puts it thus: A gentleman of elegant talents addicted to pedestrianism, was escorted to the city limits and presented with the freedom of the rural districts. The eyes of the country ran upon him.

The Review says Mr. Frederick A. DeRosset, M. A., of Wilmington, has been selected as the orator at the first annual celebration of the Sigma Epsilon Society, of the University of the South, at Seawater, Tenn., which takes place early in June.

Maj. W. B. Kendrick, the courteous representative of the University Publishing Company, informs the Raleigh Farmer and Mechanic that several of the authors of the company's school publications are natives of North Carolina, and that a number of the principal stockholders are citizens of this State.

Greenboro Patriot: Some Northern gentlemen have been here within the past week to look at a gold mine owned by Messrs. Hiram and Daniel Worth, which they propose opening up and leasing, with a view to working it if it holds out according to expectations. We notice that there is considerable interest now manifested in gold mines in this State.

While Mr. Tom Moore, of Haw River, was sitting by the window of the depot at that point reading, Sunday night, some miscreant threw a large rock, which came crashing through the window and knocked Mr. Moore off his chair, in an almost senseless condition. As a quantity of glass was driven into Mr. Moore's forehead, the injury is severe, not serious.

Raleigh Farmer and Mechanic: "Gov. Newell's speech to the O. F. C. was not so much praised, to draw it mildly. He appears to have had an idea that Raleigh was next door to Nashville's 'Confederate Roads,' and when told that Hiram and Daniel Worth, an intelligent and cultured assemblage, remarked in amazement that he hadn't come prepared for that sort of thing; and sure enough he hadn't."

The Aurora says that Mr. W. C. Quinn, of Shelby, and Mr. M. Adler, of Baltimore, were traveling in a buggy, near Cherryville, last Saturday, when the dog ran out and attempted to jump into the buggy. Mr. Quinn struck at the dog with his whip and Mr. Adler shot at the same time. The ball from Mr. A.'s pistol struck Mr. Q.'s right arm near the elbow and lodged near the wrist, inflicting a very painful but not dangerous flesh wound.

Confederate Survivors' Association of Western Carolina.

[Winston Sentinel.]

The Confederate Survivors' Association of Western North Carolina met in the court-house on Saturday, the 10th, and was called to order by Maj. J. T. Brown, president of the association, and Capt. G. M. Mathes acting secretary.

The object of the meeting was explained by C. B. Watson, Esq., to be to determine on a time for holding a grand reunion of all the Confederate survivors of Western Carolina.

Short addresses were made by Col. Seales, Rev. Mr. Wilson, Rev. Mr. Byrd, Rev. Mr. G. H. Hunt, Mr. Lillington, Bevel, Barham and Sheppard.

It was determined to hold the reunion at this place on the 3d and 4th of July, at which time it is expected that we will have Gov. Vance, Gen. Seales, Gov. Jarvis, Gens. Hoke and Kirkland, and other distinguished soldiers and speakers to meet with us on that occasion.

It is the intention to form an encampment, and application has been made for tents to accommodate those who may come and participate in this reunion. Every day the committee in the State and out of the State, at our command, is cordially invited to come and bring their "sisters, their cousins and their names." We are expected that besides recording the names of those who are dead and gone, and entering the names of the survivors, another object of the association is to erect a suitable monument to commemorate the memory of the gallant dead of Western North Carolina. Winston and Seales have already pledged several hundred dollars for this purpose, and to further it the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the president and vice-president of this association in the various counties are hereby urged to get up lists of subscriptions for the purpose of raising funds to erect a suitable monument to our Confederate dead of Western Carolina.

The Presbyterian Assembly.

[Louisville Courier-Journal, Tuesday.]

The General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church will meet in this city Thursday. The large body of distinguished ministers and elders will represent a church in the strictest sense of the word, Calvinistic in doctrine, and probably the most thoroughly Calvinistic church in the United States.

The Southern Presbyterian Church, in fact, exists as much because of an intense conservatism as because of the Erastianism which in 1801 gave the Southern Presbyterians notice that union with their brethren of the North was only thenforth practicable or possible by hearty subscription to the doctrine of loyalty and by servile subjection to the pronouncements of the civil government regulating the consciences of men.

The literal Calvinistic theology, which is generally conceded to be extremely severe and inexorable with reference to the relations men sustain to the Deity, is retained as a dogma by comparatively few of the churches which adhere to the Presbyterian polity. There are strict and moderate Calvinists between whom there is the widest difference of opinion on the subject of the atonement of Jesus Christ and other nice theological points, and these differences existed from the planting of the first churches in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Virginia to the gathering of all the scattered presbyteries and synods through their representatives at the first general assembly at Philadelphia in 1789.

Within this new fold were taken many Congregational churches, which disseminated the peculiar views of the Independents of England, which were not closely allied to Calvinism. The antagonistic views of the churches brought about the rancorous disputes which finally culminated in the split of the Church in 1857, the differences being on the subject of both church doctrine and polity.

The old and the new school Presbyterians were separated by the widest differences on the most important doctrines of the Church, the old school Church retaining the largest number of communicants and churches, and being very strong in the Southern States. The war came, and the Northern old school Presbyterians entered the political arena and issued a pronouncement to their Southern brethren to fall into line. The invitation was rejected, and in 1861 the ministers and ruling elders of the presbyteries in the then Confederate States organized at Augusta, Ga., the "General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the Confederate States of America," with a constituency of 811 ministers and licentiates, and 73,677 members.

The assembly met at Montgomery, Ala., in 1862, at Nashville, Tenn., in 1863, at Louisville, Ky., in 1864, at Memphis, Tenn., in 1865, at Louisville, Ky., in 1866, at Louisville, Ky., in 1867, at
