HOME PENCILINGS.

Next week the commencements will commence, and we shall hear little else for the three weeks that follow.

It is stated that the Indian doctor has taken in about $1,200 since his appearance in the city a week ago. The blanks to be used by the tax assessors have arrived and are in the hands of the register of deeds. The assessors will start out on their rounds the 1st of

It is a busy week with the farmers who are engaged in clearing away the grass grown since the recent rains began. Very few country people have been in town the past two days.

The county coroner will to day conclude the inquest over the body of the negro woman, Amelia Wallace, supposed to have been poisoned in Mallard Creek township. The alleged poisoner has not yet been arrested.

The removal of the postoffice is now one of the leading topics, and there is talk of efforts to induce the authorities to change their previously expressed determination. It seems hardly probable, however, that the decision will be revoked unless the present or another equally eligible place can be obtained at the rate for which the opera house room is rented, $300.

Stealing from a Colored Partner.

Junius Barrier, a young white man Junius Barrier, a young white man of Lincoln county, was recently arrested in this city upon a warrant from Justice McLean, of Lincolnton, charging him with stealing money from a colored man. The prosecutor claims that Barrier robbed him of $45. It seems that they were partners and have been traveling through the country peddling. Barrier was taken to Linpeddling. Barrier was taken to Lin-colnton by Constable Orr, and confined in jail by the magistrate to await a pre-liminary examination of the case.

It is an open secret that a number of persons in Charlette have made hand, some sums on cotton futures within the last few months, by selling when the price was up. Some continued to hold on anticipating a further rise, and hold on anticipating a further rise, and milk crock. Two years ago Dr. Hunter

The King's Mountain Centennial.

By a singular oversight, the resolu-tions in reference to the King's Moun-tain centennial, several times alluded to in this paper, which it was proposed to introduce at the public gathering on the 20th, were omitted. We were so full of our own celebration that the matter doubtless escaped the attention of every one. But it is not too late to take the matter up, and accordingly we take the liberty of calling the attention of the people of the village of King's Mountain and viginity to the matter, and suggesting that they set the ball in motion. There is plenty of time between this and October, 1880, and the celebration can be made the occasion of a grand re-union between North Carolina and South Carolina, in memory of an event in which both States have a common heritage.

The Charlotte Observer Mr. Frank Brown, of Salisbury, who had been appointed one of the marshals at the late celebration, was prevented from attending by an occurrence which came near resulting in his death. Suffering with neuralgia or some kindred affection, he resorted to morphine for relief and though mistake took five or six times too much. Inferior Court.

The court disposed of the following cases yesterday: State vs. Manuel Lord, colored, selling mortgaged property-guilty; sentenced to twenty days in the county jail and to pay a fine of $25; appeal ta-ken by the defendant.

State vs. Bob Caldwell, colored, and J. W. Hinson, white, affray in which a deadly weapon was used; not guilty as to Caldwell; guilty as to Hinson, who was sentenced to pay a fine of $25 and he cost of action. State vs. Harvey Patterson and Kate

Patterson, peace warrant; ordered to give bond till the next term of court. The court will adjourn to-day. Only one other case remains on the docket, to-wit: That of two negroes for assaulting Mr. F. Kuester with intent to rob him, which will be disposed of to-Complimentary German.

The german at the Central Hotel last night complimentary to the visiting young ladies, given by a clever and popular young gentleman of Charlotte, was a success in every particular. The weather was delightfully cool, the music was good, and every detail of the management was perfect. There were the floor, besides lookers-on, including quite a number of married evening.

Railroad Notes.

The Air-Line road will soon put down other switch tracks at the depot in this city. This doesn't look much like a union depot. By the way, what has become of that little project?

At the late meeting of the board of directors of the Western North Carolina Bailroad, President Wilson stated that six miles of the grading on the western side of the Blue Ridge was about completed, and expressed the opinion that by the month of August the cars would be running through the Swannanoa tunnel and within eleven miles of Asheville.

The Cavairy Company.

Adjutant-General Jones has assured the movers in the effort to organize a cavalry company in Charlotte that the necessary equipments, that is, carbines, swords and pistols will be furnished for such company after the 1st of June, provided at that time it is fully organized. It seems that the appropriation for the supply of arms, equipments, &c., for the militia of North Carolina for the year ending the 31st of May, has been exhausted, otherwise the desired ed to have been poisoned in Mallard Creek township. The alleged poisoner has not yet been arrested.

Among the recent graduates at the Columbia Law School in New York City, were Mr. R. A. Springs, Jr. of this city, son of Col. A. B. Springs, Mr. R. E. Lattimer, of Wilmington. Mr. Springs is expected home in a few days.

The removal of the postofice is now one of the leading topics, and there is not another in the State.

The Gala Day.

Conspicuous (on account of its full-ness and accuracy) among the newspaper reports of the late celebration is that of the Atlanta Constitution, gotten up by Col. Whidby. The report closes as follows: "With proper effort, Charlotte can make independence day a grand gala day, The crowd has been increasing every year, and can be easily doubled. The people were not anticipating symptoms, do not wait to confirm the disease, but break it up at once by using Dr. Bull's Bultimore Pills. You will thank us for the advice.

Mining Matters.

The New York company, represented by Mr. H. I. Smart, has bought a half, not a controlling, interest in the Rudisill mine. The same company owns a controlling interest in the Iluffle mine, which they are now also operating. It is a wealthy organization, and we are informed, intend to fully develop their property.

The people were not anticipating so large a turnout. H. C. Eccles, of the Central Hotel, almost lost his Ecclesiastical look in his anxiety to care for dear or good guests. But he is a general in the hotel business, and handles large bodies with ease.

Relics of the Olden Time.

Dr. C. L. Hunter, of Lincoln, was of course at the 20th of May celebration and with him he brought some relics which were suggestive of the earlier history of this section, one event of which we were then celebrating. One of these was a piece chipped from what is known as Cornwallis' table. This table is a large flat rock situated four miles beyond the river, in Lincoln county, and on this rock Cornwallis and his officers dined on each of the four days while they remained there waiting for Christian Association.

OFFICE OF STATE EX. COMMITTEE, CHARLOTTE, N. C., May 22d, 1879. The third annual convention of the Young Men's Christian Association of North Carolina will assemble in Salisbury, Thursday evening, June 26th, and continue in session Friday and Satur-day, closing with special religious services on the Sabbath following.

Two years ago, in this city, a little band joined in the exercises of our first annual gathering. We were few in number, but came together in harmonious council, believing that the future would witness the rapid development of our organization and that our efforts would be blessed. After the lapse of a year, our second convention was held in Greensboro where our most sanguine expectations were seen to have been fulfilled. Fourteen associations were represented by nearly two score of earnest, enthusiastic young men. Our meeting together on that occasion was delightful in the extreme, and an impetus was given to the work, the full scope of which cannot be definitely ascertained until the re-assembling of our association in convention at Salis-

Each regularly constituted associa-tion will be allowed four delegates, but associations whose active membership include any persons who are not members of an Evangelical church, are excluded by an article in the Constitution of the State Association, from repre-
