

THE UNIVERSITY COMMENCEMENT.

CHAPEL HILL, June 7.—The exercises of commencement at the University chapel, witnessed by the largest crowd ever assembled in Chapel Hill. Throughout yesterday eve, visitors continued to arrive from all parts of the State—the eastern and western trains being crowded to the utmost. At ten o'clock this morning the members of the Grand Chapter of Masons, headed by the hand, and seated in wagons drawn by beautifully decorated horses, with banners fully decorated in town and halted in the groves of the campus. This attractive display was the result of the munificence of Blackwell & Co., of Durham. Each wagon bore upon its body a picture of the Durham bull, as did every banner, and each wagon smoked "Blackwell's Durham" in a long stemmed clay pipe. Promptly at 10:30 a. m., a procession was formed in front of South College, headed by Chief Marshal M. M. each, Jr., and composed of the bands, masons, State officials, trustees, alumni, speakers and students. Moving through the grove, the procession passed around the College well, and thence to the chapel, where it opened ranks and entered in reversed order. The chapel was already filled with ladies, and only the speakers and eminent visitors could enter—the larger portion of the vast multitude necessarily remaining without. The exercises of the day opened with a hymn sung by the University choir, after which, Rev. Mr. Long led in prayer. The seniors then delivered their orations, many of them full of eloquence, and delivered with appropriate diction. The following is a list of the speakers with their subjects:

John Moore Manning, "The Union, N. C.—Capital and Labor as Affected by Government." James Smith Manning, Pittsboro, N. C.—"Influence of Individual Character." Robert Strange, Wilmington, N. C.—"Compulsory Education." Richard Bullock Henderson, Warren, N. C.—"Call Things by their Right Names." Francis Donnell Winston, Windsor, N. C.—"National Character as Influenced by Agriculture." Robert Watson Winston, Windsor, N. C.—"Effects of Modern Inventions on Politics and Morality." William Joseph Steele, Jackson, N. C.—"Philosophy of Reform." William Lanier Hill, Faison, N. C.—"The Chinese in America."

The judges, members of the Alumni association, and the "Magna Charta" medal for the best oratory, to Mr. R. W. Winston, of Windsor, N. C.; Gen. J. Madison Leach, in a very happy and witty speech, presented the medal. The annual report of the University for 1875, by the President, Dr. G. Grady, secretary of the faculty, Gov. Jarvis, at the request of President Battle, then presented diplomas to 11 regular graduates, and to several graduates in the different schools and colleges. To the regular graduates he delivered a most excellent little speech, full of truth and good advice. The medals for the best students in Greek, Latin, chemistry, and German, and for the best entrance examination, were also presented by Gov. Jarvis. The medals for the best Latin and best English essays were awarded to the best essays in English, written by a graduate. The degree of LL. D. was conferred upon Hon. Saml F. Phillips, Thos. S. Ashe and John C. Dickard, of D. upon Rev. John C. Pickett, Rev. David Sampson, A. S. Smith, P. H. Kerpool, of A. M. F. H. Bushee, John Webb, Phil W. C. Kerr.

The exercises terminated with a hymn by the choir, and a benediction by Rev. Dr. Hove.

On Thursday night the grand ball and commencement party took place in the former in the hall room and the latter in a large hall in the rear of the campus. The campus was beautifully illuminated with Chinese lanterns, which were suspended from the trees and placed at regular intervals throughout the grove, in the distance of the grove, and was regarded for the hand which dispensed sweet music fill the "wee sim' hours of morn." The ball room was decorated more beautifully than any have ever seen—being rich with evergreens, flowers, and festooned with birds, stars and banners. A wedding can truly be said to have been a time when there was a more perfect combination of elegant dresses, beautiful decorations and happy and graceful young ladies at a commencement ball.

The Club Nominations. Governor Bishop, of Ohio, on Wednesday telegraphed to General Ewing, expressing the belief that the Democratic ticket would sweep Ohio, and stating that all his friends were enthusiastic in Ewing's support. The New York Herald thinks the nomination of Gen. Ewing is the strongest the Democrats could possibly have made, and predicts that he will make the separate Greenback ticket a nullity, and says Mr. Foster, the Republican candidate, "instead of having a quiet walk over the course, will need all the assistance he can find to save him from defeat." The Philadelphia Press, Republican, says "the ticket is pre-eminently military and, as far as the individual character and extent of the support is concerned, is, perhaps, the strongest that could have been selected."

Senator Thurman Wednesday night telegraphed to Gen. Rice to accept the second place. He said: "I am delighted with the ticket. It is strong, and will win." Soon after receiving news of his nomination Gen. Ewing sent by a messenger the news of his nomination to his wife, who is in Washington. She replied: "Your news is stale. Over twenty have called already to congratulate me, and now do you come home and congratulate me yourself." The Washington Star says the action of the Ohio Democrats is looked upon as an act of sagacity, which surprised even the Republicans, and that Sherman puts it, "I did not think the Ohio Democrats would place in nomination such a respectable ticket." Gen. Garfield says the ticket is a strong one.

King's Mountain Centennial. KING'S MOUNTAIN, N. C., June 5.—Initial proceedings looking to the centennial celebration of the battle of King's Mountain on the 21st of October, 1780, have been inaugurated by the citizens here, with W. T. H. Bell, principal of the high school, as the leader. It is proposed to make a standing committee of arrangements equally divided between the States of North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia. The prevalent idea is to have the military go through the plan of the battle on the battlefield, and the War Department has requested that Federal troops and tents for the occasion.

Deal Greatly with the Stomach. If it proves refractory, mild discipline is the thing to set it right. Not all the nauseous draughts and boluses ever invented can do as much to remedy its disorders as a few wineglassfuls—say three a day—of Hostler's Stomach Bitters, which will afford a speedy relief, and eventually banish every dyspeptic and bilious symptom. Headache, nervousness, salivageness, of the complexion, fur upon the tongue, vertigo, and those many indescribable and disagreeable sensations caused by indigestion, are too often perpetuated by injudicious eating. A moderate amount of such random and ill advised, experiment should be the first step in the direction of a cure; the next step the use of this standard, tonic alternative, which has received the highest medical sanction and won an unbroken popularity.

The Death-hare of Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming, the average of life being lessened every year, without any reasonable cause, death resulting generally from the most insignificant origin. At this season of the year especially, a cold is such a common thing that in the hurry of every day life we are apt to overlook the dangers attending it and often find too late, that a Fever or Lung trouble has already set in. Thousands lose their lives in this way every winter, while 'twice' Doctor's GUMMEX Syrup, taken by a doctor has been recommended, and a large bill from a doctor been avoided. For all diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Doctor's GUMMEX Syrup has proved itself to be the best remedy in the world, every drop of it is worth its weight in gold. Every bottle of this country will tell you of its wonderful effect. Over 950,000 bottles sold last year without a single failure known.

For upwards of thirty years Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People has been used for children, it corrects the bowels, cures dysentery and diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. An old and tried remedy, 25c per bottle.

A RAILROAD FOR ALEXANDER.

Proceedings of a Public Meeting Held at Taylorsville, Alexander County, June 3rd.

At an adjourned meeting of the citizens of Alexander county, held this day at the Court House, P. Burke was called to the chair, and R. P. Matheson was appointed secretary. Hon. B. Z. Linney explained that the object of the meeting was for the purpose of determining a route and arranging for the organization of a railroad from Taylorsville. That the citizens of Alexander county were suffering for want of cheaper and quicker means of communication with the markets of the country. Delegates were present from Taylorsville and the enterprising town of Enochville, in the county of Rowan. There being no delegates from Statesville, authorized to speak for her, Maj. W. M. Robbins and Judge Furches were present, were asked to participate in the proceedings. These gentlemen stated that they were not positively credited to speak for Statesville, but that they believed that Statesville would be willing to aid in the construction of a railroad. Hon. M. L. McCorkle, in his usual public spirited way, which all who know him, know is characteristic of him, urged the propriety of a railroad to the markets of the country by the way of Newton; but said, that the citizens of Alexander county had waited long enough without railroad facilities, and that they must secure them, no matter from what quarter they came. After some remarks from Maj. Robbins and Judge Furches, the following resolution was submitted by the Rev. A. Carson:

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed by the chair, whose duty shall be to make a report at their meeting to ascertain what the citizens of Alexander county, and along the line can, and will do, towards constructing a Narrow Gauge railroad from Taylorsville to Troutman's Depot, on the A. T. & O. R. R. This resolution elicited much discussion. Dr. J. R. McCorkle, urged that it was the natural route for the products of Alexander county, and that for a century the products of the county had been wagoned by the farmers of Alexander county to Charlotte, and other markets, by that route. Judge Furches urged that by Statesville and the Taylorsville Railroad, as suggested by Hon. R. Z. Linney and A. M. Bogie, that there was no charter for a Narrow Gauge railroad to Statesville, and that to attempt the cost of a Broad Gauge railroad was beyond the ability of the county. Mr. Bogie also reminded those gentlemen that Alexander county has been asking for a railroad for twenty years, but never found a responsive voice from Statesville, and that he was not certain that Statesville would aid in this direction. Mr. Linney said that he was in favor of the resolution of Rev. Mr. Carson, and urged its passage. The resolution was adopted by a unanimous vote of the citizens of Alexander county, and the chairman appointed the following gentlemen on said committee, viz: Rev. A. Carson, Hon. R. Z. Linney, S. Lane, Dr. J. R. McCorkle and Capt. J. O. Moore. Said committee, after careful consideration, submitted the following report, by their chairman, Rev. A. Carson:

That it is the sense of this meeting that the people of Alexander county and the people of the county of Rowan, be requested and urged to meet at Troutman's Depot, July 8th next, and there and then arrange for the purpose of opening books of subscription, and organizing said company in accordance with the act of the Legislature of 1875. This report was submitted by the chair, and was unanimously adopted.

There being no further business before the meeting, an influential meeting of Alexander's public, and the meeting adjourned with the request that the Mooreville, Charlotte, Concord and all other papers friendly to the people of Alexander county publish the proceedings. W. P. H. Chairman.

Secretary.

Senator Hampton's Speech. (Wash. Letter 5th, to the Baltimore Sun.)

Gen. Wade Hampton to-day made his first speech in the Senate, since his entrance into that body. Although having but one leg, he stood erect during the entire time occupied by his speech, supporting himself by the arm of his chair. He sustained his position in a manner which naturally marred the effect of his delivery. It was addressed to the political issues of the day, and was long and well timed. At several passages the galleries broke out into applause, notwithstanding the warning rap of the gavel in the hands of the chair. The signs of approval were very marked when he spoke of the great pleasure it would give him if the senatorial chair from the North were filled by Union generals, and that such was not the case must be laid at the door of the North and not the South. He was very emphatic in declaring that he would not under any circumstances vote to withdraw supplies from the army. He concluded with "quite an eloquent outburst of what Mr. Conkling denominated "gush" in his recent great speech, but which in the sentiment expressed commend itself to good men everywhere. When Gen. Hampton sat down many of the Democratic Senators congratulated him on his effort. No Republican was near him.
