night, the following officers were elect-

The Walking Woman.

Mrs. Mattie Potts, the walking widow, is meeting with an ovation along the Air-Line Railroad. She spent Thursday night at Gainesville and last night at Norcross, which latter place is but 19 miles from Atlanta. She said early in the week to an Air-Line man that she intended to make Atlanta by Saturday night or "bust her biler," and it is pleasant to know that she will be spared the necessity for causing an explo-sion of that very important piece of her machinery, for she will make Atlanta easily by the time given. She has done some tall stepping since she left here. Tuesday she stepped 36 miles, Wednesday 33 and yesterday 33. The railroad men report her fresh and in excellent

High Crimes-Iredell Court.

In the Superior Court of Iredell, in session in Statesville, Judge Graves pre-siding, Alexander Bradwell, white, and Thos. Roseboro, colored, previousiy convicted of burglary upon the premises of Mr. Stikeleather, were sentenced on Wednesday to be hanged on the 8th of next August. It will be remembered that the young man Millen, an accomplice in the crime, managed to elude capture, and is still at large.

The case of Chas. Stikeleather, indicted for rape upon the person of Miss Ward, was begun Thursday, and it was expected would last for several days. There are a large number of witnesses -fifty or more. It was generally thought that the charge could not be sustained.

Another fatal accident on the rail occurred day before yesterday morning at a point about five miles below Chester, between that point and Woodward's station. The victim on this occasion was Bob Miller, a colored train hand whose home is in Charlotte. He was coming from Columbia to Woodward's on the freight train, which passes the latter station about 7 o'clock in the morning, with a view of joining the gravel train at that point. When the freight train arrived at Chester, one of the brakemen told Capt. Clarkson, the conductor, that Miller had gotten off at Woodward's or at any rate he light not

----Death of an Old Citizen.

Mr. Joshua Trotter, one of the oldest and most respected citizens of Char-lotte, died at his residence, corner of Tryon and Sixth streets, yesterday morning at 5 o'clock, aged 76 years. Mr. Trotter was a native of Virginia, came to Charlotte when quite a young man and entered the business of manufacturing carriages and buggles, which he followed uninterruptedly until a short time before his death. He was a Quaker and lived fully up to the strict religious and moral principles inculcated by that denomination. Honest, faithful and industrious he wan and merit ful and industrious, he won and merited the confidence and esteem of every one, and his death is universally regretted in the community. His funeral will take place from the residence this morning at 9 o'clock, and will be conducted by Rev. A. W. Miller. D. D., Rev. A. A. Boshamer assisting.

Pedestrianism Through the Moun-

A popular mode of traveling over the mountains in the western part of our State is to go on foot, taking it leisurely. Parties are formed, of three or four persons, who start from some point on the railroad and walk till they have seen all points of interest, stopping on the way for fishing and hunting as often and as long as they can find amuse-ment. A party from Cabarrus, composed of three young men returned two weeks ago from an extended trip, taking in Warm Springs, Asheville, Black Mountain, and many other points. A week or two ago Mr. J. S. Manning, Robt. Strange and A. C. Springs, recent graduates of the University, left Charlotte on an expedition of this sort. They were in Lenoir the early part of the week and were joined there by two week and were joined there by two other parties. They carry a change of clothing in a small wallet, the whole not weighing over six pounds, and expect to be out six weeks or more. Those who have tried it, say it is full of fun, and affords advantages which cannot possibly be enjoyed by the ordinary methods of travel. It is likely that there will be many parties of this sort in the mountains this season.

Excursions Ahead.

The people of Charlotte are receiving just now many opportunities for pleas-ant excursions to points of interest in all directions, and at rates so cheap that all can enjoy them.

An advertisement elsewhere in this morning's OBSERVER announces a pleasant trip to Charleston on the 27th inst. The train leaves Charlotte at 10 o'clock in the morning and arrives in Charles-ton the same night. While there the excursionists will be taken around the harbor in a steamer, and given an op-portunity of visiting Sullivan's Island, Fort Sumter, and other points of inter-whose home is in Charlotte. He was 30th instead of the 1st, as first announced the brakemen told Capt, Clarkson, the conductor, that Miller had gotten off at Woodward's, or at any rate he had not seen him since they left that station. In the afternoon, a telegram was received here stating that the body of Miller had been found about five miles below Chaster, horribly mutilated and cut to pieces. How he got underneath the cars no one knows or is able to imagine. The only theory that seems to hold is that he fell between the cars. And yet there is no explanation of his failure to get off at Woodward's, his destination. He was familiar with the road and could not have mistaken the station. The matter was to have been investigated yesterday.

Hereditary Taint.

A worthy citizen of Gaston county reports that Mrs. Henry Underwood, a respectable widow lady of River Bend township, died at her home last week at the advanced age of 93 years. She maintained all her faculties to the last, but had lost her teeth. It is given as a well authenticated fact, however, that she had begun to regain them; in short, she was cutting teeth, as she did nearly 93 years ago.

Election of Officers.

The Supposed Secret of the Saxy-Dust

Pile. Prince Brown, colored, has been making a more thorough investigation into the rumor relative to the finding of the body of the negro man in a pile of sawbeen received by the postmaster. It is printed exactly as written, naught abridged or added to it. The postmaster believes the story and that the body, which he thinks is that of the negro who assaulted Mr. Thrower, has been believes and appeals to The Open who helpless, and appeals to THE OBSERVER, which in turn gives it to the kind publast night that he and a party of colorples post master rite an let me now if my husbin is up thair his name is larnds townsel he has got A little rat tan dog he got on A drunk an shot at the stop until they search the whole

> As yet, so far as we have been able to learn, there is no evidence to warrant the belief that the negro is dead, except the mere fact that he has not been seen since his reported escape from the parties who arrested him. But public opinion demands that it should be investigated thoroughly and by the competent authorities.

Indignation Against the Hanged Man The indignation against J. J. Moore, the man recently lynched in Spartan-burg county, S. C., was very great in the neighborhood where he lived. A citizen of that community writes that all the churches in that neighborhood refused to allow him to be buried in their grave yards. His remains were accord-ingly deposited in a field near his house. The writer, who participated in the lynching, says he has nothing to regret, but much prefers the position he occupies to that of the man who allows such a crime to go unpunished for one day longer than could be helped. It may be mentioned in this connection that Governor Simpson has issued a proclamation calling upon the law officers and all good citizens of Spartantheir legal capacity as officers and citizens to bring the lynchers of Moore, the ravisher and murderer, to punishment, and thereby vindicate the majesty of the violated law.

Children's Concert.

The opera house was crowded last night as it was on the occasion of the children's first concert there under the management of Mr. Arthur L. Butt. Mr. Butt seems to possess a peculiar fitness for training children for such occasions. At any rate, they always do well, not unfrequently surprising their parents. Added to this, is always an artistic finish and completeness about the different features of the programme which is very pretty and attractive.

The entertainment last evening consisted of two cantatas, "Grand-pa's Birth-Day" and "The May Queen," interspersed with various songs. The little children were all very prettily dressed, in white or bright colors. There were nearly a bundred of them on the stage at once, and the scene was a very attractive one indeed. The concert was a success and was heartily enjoyed by the large crowd that assembled to Weather Probabilities.

Cold, with high winds and rain. Exposure to this weather is sure to produce colds and kindred diseases; and the best remedy we know of is Hall's Balsam, for the lungs. Always keep it in the house and you will be on the safe side.
