All alone in my room at last. I wonder how far they have traveled now? They'll be very far when the night is past.

OBSERVATIONS.

There's nothing makes a girl so mad as to try to sit on a bow-legged man's lap and fall through.

Color blindness is said to be common among railway men. On some Western roads that we know of the whole force have been, for months at a time, unable to see the color of the m-nney due there.

At a Sunday school picnic, the other day, the superintendent threw one lemon and two strawberries in the creek, and the scholars as strawberry lemonade at five cents a glass.

"What makes your lips so awful sore?" Asked Sarah's cross-eyed maid. And Sarah to the old man said: "It's caused by a small chap."

When a man is sitting on a sofa in a living-room with a pretty girl and the conversation is beginning to get decidedly interesting to both, it is terrible to them to have a nail work out of the plaster and let a chromo of Washington crossing the Delaware down on their heads.

Hawk came from the hotel at 2 o'clock, and though he would take a walk. Unfortunately Mr Hawk had been out of water for several days and he was very thirsty.

Scene, a Louisville grocery store. Time, 7 o'clock yesterday afternoon. First clerk, Joseph. "I say you're off to the Trumplings to take supper?"

Her name was Eva, fair of face, but venomous of temper. And she had a very peculiar way of looking at you.

A Terrible Crime. SPRINGFIELD, MASS., June 21.—John Kemmer, a German, living in South Holyoke, shot his three children—Annie, aged six years; Dudmilla, aged four, and Amy, aged one—this afternoon, because he was unable to support them.

After his arrest he appeared quite cool, and said he was ready to let the law take its course. He said he could not support his children, he feared they would grow up and enter houses of prostitution, and thought they would be happier in heaven. He had planned for ten days to kill them. He is collected, and apparently sane. Medical Examiner Tittle would inquire to-morrow.

THE KAWAN-DELLING MATTER.

Official Report of the Language Used in the Proceedings of the Senate, Commencing with the Session of June 15, 1878.

Mr. Lamar, Mr. President, I desire to make one statement, personal to myself in respect to this matter. I do not intend to go into the discussion of the question concerning this measure that the Senator from New York has been discussing.

With reference to the charge of bad faith that the Senator from New York has intimated towards those of us who have been opposing these motions to adjourn, I have only to say that if I am not superior to attacks from such a source, I have lived in vain.

Mr. Conkling, Mr. President, I was diverted during the commencement of a remark the culmination of which I heard from the member from Mississippi. He intended to impugn, and did in plain and unparliamentary language impute to me an intentional misstatement.

The Presiding Officer. Does the Senator from New York yield? Mr. Lamar, All that I have to say is, I yield to the Senator from Mississippi.

Mr. Lamar. He appealed to me to know, and I will give. The Presiding Officer. The Senator from New York has the floor. Does he yield to the Senator from Mississippi?
