The ministers of the city were earn-est and outspoken in their endorsement of our work, and greatly encouraged and aided us by their presence and counsels, and to Rev. J. Rumple, one of the most attractive gentlemen I ever met, the writer and others are under special obligations for many kind atten-tions. While visiting his home, I was shown a large photograph by Mr. Van Ness, of his son, who all our people remember, met an untimely death at Davidson College last year. Possessed of a high order of talent for music, and knew him; and it requires but little penetration to see that he was the hope and joy of his parents, and that his death is still a tender spot in their mem-

Wadesboro, was in the crib shelling corn; a hen flew into the crib: wa; caught by the lad and, in a playful mood, put into a box and soon after left the crib. The hen was missed, and at the expiration of 27 days the lad hup-pened to think of having shut it up in the box, and on examination found it still alive.

At a railroad meeting in Statesville on the 28th, it was resolved "That we, the citizens of Statesville and Iredell county, do hereby pledge ourselves to of a night order of talent for music, and having been from early youth under the careful and thorough training of his mother he became proficient to an un-usual degree. The loveliness of char-acter and bright intellect, which are clearly depicted in his countenance, made him a great favorite with all who knew him; and it requires but little scription to a narrow gauge railroad from Statesville to the amount of ten thousand dollars; and for this purpose we hereby request the mayor and board ory, which time will not readily efface. of aldermen to submit a proposition to ory, which time will not readily efface. The convention adjourned Sunday night, but a self appointed committee remained over until Tuesday morning to look after the work among young la-dies,—a very interesting field, far "brighter than the gems of our hills, and purer than the gold of our mounand purer than the gold of our moun-tains," they had hearts large enough to take in all the young men in attendance
